

AROUND WEST DULUTH

John Couchey Got Drunk, Hired a Cutter and Upset it and Must Pay the Bills.

Sent to Jail for Twenty-Five Days for Drunkenness and to Be Sued for Damages.

There Were Only Six Deaths in the Village During Last Month and Eighteen Births.

John Couchey, an employee of Mitchell & McClure Lumber company, appeared in justice court this morning on the charge of drunkenness pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and in lieu of payment was given twenty-five days in the county jail. During his spree he hired a lively rig and with one or two boon companions started out to have a wide open time. The road that the party took was pretty rough, the cutter was upset and the horse ran away. The owner of the rig will probably issue a complaint against Couchey for a lost horse and other damages committed during his spree.

WHEAT WAS STRONG EARLY.

Then the Visible Showing an Increase Caused Weakness.

The wheat market opened strong this morning at 1/2c higher than Saturday for cash and 1/4c higher for May. The early market ruled firm, with advancing tendencies. There was good trading early in cash and the market was cleared up at the outside. A premium of 1/2c over spot was paid for wheat to arrive and delivered at the mills. Mr. Flynn advanced up to 1 1/2c, under good trading, gaining 1/2c. The price of the visible showing an increase instead of an expected decrease. The market and the afternoon session was very dull and lower. The close was practically even as on Saturday for cash and 1/4c higher for May. The following were the closing prices:

On the basis of last year's importations,
it is estimated that the Wilson tariff bill will cause a deficiency in the revenues of the government of some $50,000,000. This deficiency, it is thought, will be partly made good by increased importations of some articles, leaving the deficiency about $35,000,000. It is this Chairman Wilson's estimate. It is well to bear in mind, however, the possibility,
if not probability, that the reduction of duties will result in an increase of importations sufficiently large to yield as much revenue under the Wilson bill as that derived from the McKinley law.
Still, accepting the estimated loss, the question of supplying this loss becomes urgent.Among the plans proposed to recoup
this loss is that of laying an income tax.
This resolves itself into two plans, one to levy a tax on all incomes above a certain amount regardless of their source, and the other to confine the tax to the incomes derived from corporations. If such a tax is to be laid at all, the former seems to be the most equitable plan.
The objections urged against it are that it is inequitable in its nature and therefore abhorrent to all affected by it, and to many whose incomes are not large enough to be subject to taxation but who would be subjected to the same inquisition as to their private affairs as those whose incomes would be above the taxable limit.An income tax, it is insisted, would inevitably lead to false returns and make the Americans a nation of perjurers in the effort of its citizens to avoid what many, perhaps most, would regard as an unjust burden. It is recognized that under state laws personal taxes are notoriously sworn down, and it is held that this would be the case with an income tax, whether laid on individuals or confined only to corporations.The plan to tax the incomes of corporations is the more interesting because the more novel, and because it is a flagrant instance of the popular prejudice against corporations. When men and solons talk about corporations they seem to have in mind a certain class of those institutions, rather than corporations in general. They appear to be thinking of railway corporations, insurance corporations, gas corporations, street railways, and other semi-public corporations and such industrial institutions as the whisky trust, the sugar trust, the standard oil and the like. They forget that the corporation principle has been greatly developed within the past few years, that is,
if they ever knew it.Time was when the corporation was organized only when great enterprises were to be attempted. This is no longer the case. Corporations as limited liability companies now conduct many lines of business which formerly were conducted by individuals, or firms composed of them, each acting and liable in his individual capacity. These days the Smith and Brown manufacturing company has succeeded the old firm of Smith & Brown and conduct the same business at the old stand. The John Doe Trading company has supplanted John Doe,
and Richard Roe, a successful merchant has given his name to and become, or rather stands for a corporation.
To cite an actual instance, John Wanamaker is the name of a Philadelphia
merchant and ex-postmaster general,
and it is also the name of the corporation which conducts the business which the individuals built up.Another instance, which illustrates probably a different reason for turning a private firm or business into a stock company or corporation, is seen in one of the newspapers in Washington. The Evening Star was for many years the property of three men who conducted the business as an ordinary co-partnership.
Each of the partners had several heirs.
The business was very profitable. Some years ago, all three of them being alive,
they decided to change the co-partnership into a stock company. They did this for the sole reason that it would be easier to divide the interests which would fall to the heirs of each in the natural course of events if those interests were divided into stock shares than if they were kept in the shape of undivided interests. In the one case the business would suffer no interruption in the event of the death of one or all of the partners, while in the other it might be subjected to litigation and embarrassment. The interests remained precisely where they were before the formation of the corporation.If a law to tax the income of corporations were passed, the income of this corporation would be liable to the tax. But if the directors of the corporation so de-sired, there would not be any income left for the corporation. They could make a liberal estimate of the profits of the business and then vote it all to themselves as salaries. Instead of the corporation having an income, the directors could easily manage it so that the corporation would always be in debt to the employees of the paper, these employees
being the owners of the stock and controllers of the corporation.The same sort of scheme could be worked with any corporation. If on the other hand the incomes of individuals were taxed, these gentlemen would be taxed whether their incomes came in the shape of salaries or dividends. Any attempt to classify corporations and make one sort taxable while exempting others would be resented and would fail of its object. The conclusion is irresistible that if incomes are to be taxed at all they should be taxed regardless of their source. No matter what the ways and means committee may report in this regard, the attempt will be made to tax all incomes above a certain limit, probably $4,000.Interstate Commerce Law.
The seventh annual report of the interstate commerce commission claims that although all expectations have not been fully realized, the operation and administration of the statute have brought about reforms in transportation which compared with the evils that existed prior to the law amount to commercial emancipation. This assertion by the commission of course is denied by many. The act, however, provides what the common law did not afford a procedure by which to test the relation of rates charged to different persons and at different localities. Fear of greater discriminations or exactions
no longer deters persons from complaining of a carrier's illegal acts. A carrier has not now the power to punish shippers for protesting against its wrong doing.In regard to the long and short haul, clause the report says this provision of the law is nothing more than an extension of the rule for bidding unjust discrimination between persons. The opinion of the provision was accepted generally by the carriers. But the effect of a decision of the court of appeals in an Iowa case, wherein the word "line" in the statute was given a wholly different meaning from that which the commission had held was the proper construction, has been startling. This court decision has been followed and expanded by other courts.These decisions hold in effect that one railroad is a line, and that the same another railroad is a different line and that three railroads are still another line
and so on; and that rates on one line are not to be compared with rates on another. The commission holds that the word "line" means a physical line—the tracks of one or more railroads—and that a line may be extended over other roads by simply connecting the tracks.
The court construction says the lines are separated and independent, while the commission contends that the shorter line is a part of the longer line. The interests of nearly every place where connecting lines join and of every local station, it is urged, are vitally concerned
in straightening out this conflict of opinion and the need for prompt remedial legislation is urgent.The commission argues in favor of giving it authority to prescribe minimum
as well as maximum rates, and shows how the present depression of rates at large centers works great injury to the general public as well as to railway investors. The commission recommends additional legislation to give legislative construction to the word "line" in the statute; to provide for establishing through routes and joint through rates;
to give the commission power to prewith sick headache. I have had it by spells for 21 years, sometimes as often asThree Times a Week.

I would get up with it, suffer all day, go to bed with it and have it all night. I tried every cure until about a year ago, whenMy Mother-in-Law persuaded me to try one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am glad to say that it cured me, and I have not had sick headache since I took the first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It hasdone me a great deal of good in other ways, Baldwin for Governor.

The Red Lake Falls Gazette refuses to side-track with its boom for Maj.
Baldwin for governor, and insists that the major shall be the Democratic candidate next year. Although the major with characteristic modesty has pushed aside the proffered honor and has protested that he is not sufficiently acquainted in the state, etc., the Gazette declines to permit him to escape. Declaring that
"by their deeds shall you know them,"
the Gazette says that the people of the state have had their weather eye on the major since he has taken his seat in congress and the result is ever increasing admiration. "The same qualities," says
the Gazette, "that went to make 'Stonewall' Jackson popular are winning friends for the dauntless major. We Democrats up here are proud of him. But modesty is always becoming, and Maj. Baldwin will lose none of his friends through a display of it. When we nominated him for governor we did so deliberately, with a full knowledge of his capabilities which we hold would be sufficient to make him a noble chief executive. A vote to commanding the full party vote—he would do much more—
as he did in his own district last year.
We believe he could be elected. He has no idea how many friends he has made for himself in this section—and every thoroughgoing Democrat of Minnesota must admire him for his intrepid and peerless qualities—and we do not hesitate to say we do not believe there is a more popular Democrat in the state.
Maj. Baldwin for governor, we say."In the face of this eloquent and soul-stirring appeal, it is difficult to understand how the major can any longer refuse the honor that the Gazette would thrust upon him.
The retirement of W. H. Fisher from the management of the Duluth & Winnipeg road will be deeply regretted by many people who have known Mr. Fisher only to admire him and appreciate his ability as a railroad man. Mr. Fisher deserves more credit than he has ever received for his work in improving and creating the railroad facilities of Duluth.
If the Duluth & Winnipeg had met with the slightest encouragement from the people of this city, the ore docks and terminals would never have gone toAllouez bay, but the road was fairly driven over the bay and then Mr. Fisher was blamed for taking it there. Mr.
Fisher is a valuable man to any community and it is a great pity that Duluth should have to lose him, even temporarily.President Cleveland's message to congress, which is published by The Herald today, presents nothing that calls at this time for extended comment. He says nothing on any subject which was not expected and which has not already been fully discussed. The well-known attitude of the administration on the Hawaiian question is reaffirmed; the pension policy pursued by Judge Lochren is approved, and advocates of tariff reform are urged to sink all personal desires in behalf of the cause. This is, in brief, everything of interest touched on by the president.The News Tribune has a "prize conundum" for solution: Why do firms and corporations on Thanksgiving give each married employee a turkey while the single employees are not given anything?
Perhaps some married man could give sound reasons for this discrimination and as rumor credits the editor of the News Tribune with an intention of entering the fraternal state at an early date, the solution of the problem can be deferred until after that interesting event.The Boston Herald: "Wash. Hesing, of Chicago, will be a little sorry to think that Carter Harrison, who beat him for World's fair mayor, did not live to see him postmaster." Mr. Hesing is not a bit sorry on this account, because he knows that Grover Cleveland would not have dared to make him postmaster, had Mayor Harrison been alive.A New York paper prints the views of two oppose it, five are against it but ion.Mayor Martin's suggestion that the

HOPELESS AND ALONE

Ethel Whitman Writes Mrs. Paul Sharpy That She is About to End Her Existence.

Her Experience of the Past Six Months Has Been More Than She Can Endure.

The Letter Was Written Saturday and Received This Morning—Sheriff Charpy Immediately Advised.

The case of Ethel Whitman or Ethel Sherry as she was also called, is probably still fresh in many minds. She was arrested on Oct. 1, charged with forgery and uttering forged paper. Her offense consisted in obtaining from W. B. Patton a check for $20 to pay L. H. Hartmann, a Superior man, a debt which she claimed to owe him and afterward getting this cashed at the Spaulding hotel. To do this she endorsed Mr. Hartmann's name on the back.

Arrest followed and upon her hearing in the municipal court the charge of forgery was dismissed but upon that for uttering forged paper she was held to the grand jury and was released on her recognizance. For some reason her case was not brought before the grand jury at this session and it is quite probable that prosecution was to be dropped.

At the time of her arrest she made a desperate effort to commit suicide by leaping over the railing of the viaduct on Sixth avenue, but was prevented. She claimed at police headquarters that she did not know it was wrong to sign Hartmann's name, and that if any disgrace came to her from it she would kill herself. This threat was not seriously regarded, but it now seems that she did not make it lightly. This morning Mrs. Paul Sharpy received the following letter from her:

"Dear Mrs. Sharpy: You was very kind to me at the time I most needed it and I wish to thank you again, for it is the last time I'll be able to do so. I can't get over my experience of the last six months. It's before me all the while until I'm tired of enduring it any longer. I've lost my home and those I care for and I am about to end my existence. My life is so hopeless with nothing to look forward to and I've decided to end it. I wish to have an opportunity to see you and express faith in him, so that he won't be blamed. Will you do this for me?"

"It's awful to die alone away from everyone as I am to do but I don't want to live. I hope you'll all think as kindly as possible of me. Very truly me, ETHEL H. WHITMAN, 151 East Fourth street, St. Paul."

Immediately upon receipt of this Sheriff Sharpy telegraphed to Sheriff Chapel at St. Paul but has not received any answer. The letter was dated Saturday.

The woman came here from Brainerd where her parents are said to live and those who knew her here speak well of her. During her residence in Duluth there was an intimate friendship between herself and Professor Sherry and on one occasion after her arrest she claimed his arrest on a charge of assault and was fined.

It is a sad story but not an unusual one at this time if her determination continued is probably closed forever.

Insurance Men Disappointed.

A committee representing the board of underwriters is before the council committee, mayor and board of fire commissioners, together with Chief Smith this afternoon, protesting against the Duluth warehouse fire on Saturday. They are greatly dissatisfied and claim that there was no excuse for allowing the second house to burn, and say further that all of Duluth's bad fires occur in broad daylight, which fact gives the companies a bad impression of the efficiency of the city's fire department.

Old Settlers Meeting.

The fourteenth annual meeting of the Old Settlers association of the head of the lake, will take place on Wednesday next Dec. 13 at the Hotel St. Louis. Dinner will be served at 2 o'clock p. m., and about 150 invitations have been issued. Captain J. J. Hibbard is president and Collector C. F. Johnson is secretary of the association.

MARINE MATTERS.

The Bartlett Made a Big Bustle—Capt. Elliott's Hard Voyage.

The Bartlett has made a record for herself. She left here on Friday morning early, went to Fort William, Ont., loaded with wheat and passed the Soo yesterday.

Capt. Elliott, of the James Fisk, Jr., who arrived in Duluth yesterday, reports a rough course trip up, with head winds, snow and cold. He left Buffalo in a westerly gale which lasted until Port Huron was reached, and then a southeasterly gale accompanied him to Thunder Bay.

Land on Lake Huron, and from there it blew west-northwest to Detroit. He left the Soo locks on Wednesday about 4 o'clock, but before he got out of the piers it began to blow from the northwest with such a squall storm that he had to lay there until Friday at 4 o'clock.

Off Whitefish point he encountered a 40 mile an hour breeze with a heavy head sea and he kept this all the way up. After leaving Whitefish he laid his course for Isle Royale and then he steered for Two Harbors. The electric light at Two Harbors was laid his course for Two Harbors. The electric light at Two Harbors was laid his course for Two Harbors.

Capt. Elliott is of opinion that it is not a right state of affairs to extinguish the lights and shut down the foghorns before all vessels are off the lake. This is the season of the year when such aids to navigation are most needed, and if the lights are discontinued at this time, complaint should be made.

The Inman tug, Effie L. got her bow stove in breaking ice in the St. Paul & Duluth ship on Saturday afternoon just before the fire broke out. She was run aground on Porter's sand pile in the Omaha ship and Commodore Inman is busy at work raising her today. She has done a great deal of ice work this winter. Capt. Inman's fire boat contract reads until the 10th day of December, ice permitting.

NAVIGATION CLOSED TODAY.

The Last Boats Have Passed Through the Sault This Year.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 4.—Down: Monarch, 9 p. m.; Caledonia, 11. Clear, 5 degrees below zero. Navigation will close today. All down boats have passed. The locks are waiting on the Nicol and the Hodge.

The F. W. Wheeler Ashore.

MICHIGAN CITY, Mich., Dec. 4.—The big steamer F. W. Wheeler, bound from Buffalo to Chicago, went ashore at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning three miles east of Michigan City, and ran aground on a sand bar. A leak and high sea and a blinding snow storm. The crew were rescued by members of the life saving crew. The Wheeler is valued at $120,000 and is not insured.

Later—the steamer F. W. Wheeler which went ashore two miles east of this city during a heavy leak. Saturday, is breaking up. The life saving crew, assisted by a large force of men, is now trying to save the cargo of coal.

Tug W. R. Crowell Sunk.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The Dunham Towing company's big tug, W. R. Crowell, which left here accompanied by the tug T. T. Morford, to go to the aid of the ship U. S. Fish Hawk, a few miles east of Michigan City, sprung a leak and went down in ten fathoms of water, between six and seven miles west of Michigan City, shortly after 6 o'clock last night. Capt. Nyman and his crew of four men were taken off the sinking tug by the Morford and brought to this city. It is supposed the leak was caused by the excessive straining of the tug in the heavy sea.

NO CHANGE YET.

Latest Honolulu Advice Shows That Minister Willis Had Not Made His Policy Known.

He Was Quoted as Saying That No Change Would Take Place for Several Weeks.

Several Contingencies Arose About Which Neither Himself Nor the United States Government Was Aware.

He Deemed it Wise to Submit These Matters to His Government Before Proceeding Further.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Dec. 5.—Honolulu advices to Nov. 30, four days after the steamer Alameda sailed for San Francisco, were received yesterday by the barkentine Klickita, Capt. Cutler. In an interview published in the Honolulu Star, Minister Willis is quoted as saying that no change in the present situation on the island would take place for several weeks.

He brought with him certain instructions on the Hawaiian situation, but since his arrival certain contingencies had arisen, about which neither himself nor the United States government was aware when he left Washington, and he had therefore deemed it wise to submit those matters to his government before proceeding further. The royals did not attempt to conceal their displeasure over this statement, while the annexationists expressed much satisfaction.

Continuing Minister Willis said: "I mean that until the time comes for me to carry out my instructions, the peace and good order of this community will be kept undisturbed in the interests of humanity; that any attempt made by any person or persons to make trouble will be promptly checked and punished. You may put the matter more plainly and more bluntly even if the provisional government discharged all its troops today no lawlessness would be allowed for one moment under the present situation of affairs. The whole Hawaiian question is now in abeyance, and nothing the newspapers can say or do will alter the statement one iota. I make this statement on my own responsibility, because I hope that it will allay present excitement. No one need fear trouble and no lawlessness will be permitted."

After this statement runs began to fly about that the queen's supporters would make a final rally in her behalf. The crews of the United States men-of-war Philadelphia and Adams were held in readiness to be landed on a moment's notice. The queen's advocate came out next day with a story of an interview, saying he was misquoted, and by inference gave encouragement to the idea that Willis had or would receive an imperative order to make trouble. The newspapers containing Blount's report had not reached the island when the Klickita sailed.

ARE NOT FILIBUSTERERS.

Hawaiian Consul Wilder Discusses the Latest News From Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Hawaiian Consul Wilder, when he read the news which arrived last night from Honolulu, via Port Townsend, said: "I think Minister Willis found that the men composing the provisional government of Hawaii were high-minded, law-abiding citizens instead of filibusterers. He has been lead to believe them to be. This news," continued Wilder, "will have a great effect on the people of the United States, and I hope the administration will be forced by popular opinion to change its view on the Hawaiian question."

The revenue cutter Corwin sailed shortly before midnight on a 2000 mile voyage. Her destination is a secret, but it is supposed she is going to Honolulu with instructions for Minister Willis. The captain of the Corwin refused to take letters from Consul Wilder, saying he did not know where he was going.

Professor Tyndall Dead.
LONDON, Dec. 5.—Professor John Tyndall died last night at his home in Haslemere, Surrey. He was 81 years old. He was born in Glenageary, Ireland, on Aug. 21, 1818. In 1848 he went to Germany and studied under Bunsen and other eminent professors of physical sciences. He published several scientific works of great value.

A dispatch to the Central News from Haslemere states that Professor Tyndall's death was caused by an overdose of chloral. It has been learned that Professor Tyndall was accustomed to take chloral to alleviate his sufferings from indigestion, rheumatism and insomnia.

Gen. Grandey Dead.
RUTLAND, Vt., Dec. 5.—George W. Grandey, known to every lawyer in Vermont as Gen. Grandey, died at his home in Vergennes last night of general debility. He was 81 years old. Mr. Grandey had been for over a half a century a leading member of the Vermont bar, and was speaker of the house for two terms.

Resulted in a Draw.
LIMA, Ohio, Dec. 5.—Early this morning Charles Smith, of Portland, Ind., and Wiley Evans, colored, of California, engaged in a prize fight for a small purse, near the center of the city. Forty rounds were fought and it was declared a draw.

Blaze at Hancock.
HANCOCK, Mich., Dec. 5.—The North-ern block was discovered in a blaze last night about 12 o'clock and it was three hours before the fire was under control. Damage to building $5000; insured.

THE NORTH AND SOUTH ROAD.

The Delegates to the Convention Are Not Very Numerous.

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 5.—Delegates to the North and South railroad convention which meets here today have been slow to arrive, and those interested in the scheme are sorely disappointed at the attendance. About twenty delegates were ready to report this morning from Kansas, but the other states through which the proposed road is to be built had but small representation.

In calling the convention to order, Chairman F. J. Close stated that since the first convention was held at Lincoln, he had received many letters from this country and Europe in regard to the project, and great interest had been manifested in it for the reason that the people were quick to perceive that freight could be hauled 500 miles for a less cost than it can be hauled 1000 miles. He stated that last year the wheat acreage of the country which it was intended the road should tap, was 27,000,000 bushels of wheat. Mr. Close stated that the proposed road could be built and equipped for $10,000 a mile, and that it could be operated for less than the corporation roads.

After perfecting an organization this morning, the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock, at which time it was expected the attendance would be largely increased.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS TODAY.

Resolution Protecting Settlers Upon Mille Lacs Reservation Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—In the house a letter from Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, announcing that preparations had been completed for unveiling a statue to Gen. Shields was read. Committee were then called for reports. The bill confirming titles to private cash land entries in Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas, was taken up and discussed. This bill involves the restoration of 2022 acres. The bill was passed. A bill extending the time until Jan. 1, 1897, in which purchasers may perfect their title to forfeited railroad lands, and a joint resolution protecting settlers upon the Mille Lacs reservation in Minnesota, were also passed.

When the morning hour expired Mr. Oates moved to take up the bankruptcy bill and the motion prevailed. It was determined that general debate should be limited to six and half hours. Mr. Terry spoke against the bill.

The Senate.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—After some routine business, Senator Hoar introduced a resolution calling upon the president for copies of instructions to Minister Willis and Admiral Irwin sent to Hawaii. It went over at Mr. Sherman's suggestion, because of Mr. Morgan's absence.

Mr. Dolph, in conformity with notice given yesterday, then addressed the senate upon that part of the president's message relating to Hawaii, beginning with an expression of surprise at the president's action in forcibly overthrowing the provisional government in defiance of the almost unanimous sentiment of the press.

TRAIN ROBBERS CAPTURED.

Two More Want to Surrender if They Will not Be Hanged.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 5.—Four train robbers are in the penitentiary, two want to surrender and two are being closely pressed by a posse of determined men, and it is hoped by the authorities that by the end of the week all of the gang will be safely locked behind the iron doors of the penitentiary.

Sheriff Galbreath writes Governor Fishback that Chesney and Powell, two of the robbers who were hiding in Benton county, had made a proposition to surrender. They admit they took part in the robbery and say they will plead guilty to that charge but not to the charge of murder. They will turn over to the state's evidence and do everything in their power to assist the state if the governor will guarantee that they will not be hanged. They will turn over to the state's evidence and do everything in their power to assist the state if the governor will guarantee that they will not be hanged.

HORNBLOWER RENOMINATED.
John R. Proctor of Kentucky Made Civil Service Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Mr. Hornblower has been renominated for associate justice of the supreme court. The following appointments have also been made:

To be consuls of the United States: V. H. Clay Armstrong, Jr., of Alabama, at Grenoble, France; Newton B. Ashby, of Iowa, at Dublin; Marcellus L. Davis, of Arkansas, at Madrid, Spain.

Mr. Glendening will fight the charge to the end. His defense will be that the charges are not actionable criminally, as the money he collected is nothing more than a debt, and he can be held accountable only through a civil suit.

The State Bank Tax.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The meeting of the house committee on banking and currency today was devoted to a general discussion of measures referred to it during the extra session. The proposition to repeal the tax of 10 per cent on the circulation of state banks was discussed and made a special order for the meeting on Friday next. Members expressed the opinion that the matter will be then finally disposed of.

Two Blocks Burned.
CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Dec. 5.—Fire broke out in Hople Bros' drug store at Mount Vernon at 4:30 o'clock this morning, and as the town is without fire protection, it looked at one time as if the whole town was doomed. A bucket brigade worked heroically, however, and got the fire under control after two busy blocks had been destroyed. The total loss is about $15,000, partially insured.

Will Not Be Moved.
At the meeting of the library board last evening a communication from the secretary of the school board conveying the information that there is no available space in the High School building for quarters for the library was received. The library will probably remain where it is for some time at least.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Mrs. C. Hepler and Her Daughter, Mrs. Martin, Murdered Near St. Joe Station, Pa., This Morning.

The Awful Crime Was Committed by Harper Whitmer, a Son-in-Law of Mrs. Butler.

He Has Made His Escape But Will Probably Be Captured and May Be Lynched.

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 5.—A terrible tragedy occurred near St. Joe station, eight miles from Butler, this morning. Mrs. C. Hepler, with her daughter, Flora, recently married to James Martin, and her son L. Nathan, reside in a large frame house near St. Joe station. Mrs. Hepler is about 50 years of age and her daughter about 25. Harper Whitmer, who is married to another daughter of Mrs. Hepler, has been with the family several days. Whitmer is about 40 years of age and has been unfortunate for some time.

His mother-in-law was quite wealthy and held a mortgage on Whitmer's farm. She did not get along well together. Nathan has charge of a number of oil wells on his mother's farm. About 9 o'clock this morning Nathan returned home from work and instead of finding the house in its usually orderly condition and breakfast ready everything was turned upside down. Trunks were open, boxes and drawers had been ransacked. Entering an adjoining room Nathan found his mother lying in death's agony. He had been struck, apparently with a horribly mutilated and very bloody knife. There was a terrible gasp in her forehead, showing where the fatal blow had been struck. Apparently with the broad blade of a hatchet. Near by was the body of his sister Flora, her throat cut from ear to ear. Evidently she had been dead for some time. Her body bore evidence of having been roughly handled.

Nathan was almost paralyzed with horror, but in a moment recovered presence of mind and ran to the village station and gave the alarm. A number of men were waiting the departure of the train for Butler went with him to the house. Physicians were hastily summoned and succeeded in restoring Mrs. Hepler to consciousness. She sank rapidly, however, and died at 11 o'clock. The county officers were summoned by telegraph and are at work on the case. Whitmer has disappeared and the crime has been charged against him.

Sheriff-elect Campbell, of Oakland township, arrived early and said that about 6 o'clock Harper Whitmer came to the house of his brother, Samuel Whitmer, and asked for the loan of a revolver. Samuel questioned him as to what he wanted with the weapon, and Harper replied: "I have killed two women and I want to make an end of myself." Samuel refused to loan the revolver and advised his brother to give himself up. On this Harper left and disappeared over the hills. Since that time nothing has been heard of him. Before death Mrs. Hepler recovered consciousness sufficiently to give the information that the murder had been committed by her son-in-law, Harper Whitmer. There is great excitement, and about Harper Whitmer, he captured it is doubtful whether he would have the opportunity to stand trial.

EMBEZZLEMENT IS CHARGED.

A Denver Fire Insurance Agent is in Serious Trouble.

DENVER, Dec. 5.—This morning in a justice court, John Glendening, until lately agent for the Palatine and the Manufacturers and Builders fire insurance companies, waived examination to the charge of embezzling cash and policies to the amount of $6725.28, preferred by Ed. O. Hughes, special agent for the Palatine.

Glendening is the son-in-law of Fine P. Ernest, president of the American National bank of this city. According to the allegations made Glendening has accounted for none of the moneys he collected on insurance policies for either of the above-named companies since March last, although he issued over 6000 policies.

Mr. Glendening will fight the charge to the end. His defense will be that the charges are not actionable criminally, as the money he collected is nothing more than a debt, and he can be held accountable only through a civil suit.

A JURY FINALLY SECURED.

Twelve Men Obtained to Try Dan Coughlin's Case.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Henry E. Taylor was discharged from the Cronin jury by Judge Tuthill this morning, making the fourth juror who has been dismissed after being sworn in to try Daniel Coughlin. The judge declared that Taylor's discharge was not in the slightest degree a reflection upon his honor.

Less than half an hour was required to obtain the twelfth juror who was the second talesman examined. The last man is Hiram M. Wadleigh, a marine engineer, who was living in Iowa at the time of the Cronin murder. The jury was then sworn in by the clerk and adjourned as to their high and solemn duty.

LEHIGH STRIKE ENDED.

A Settlement of the Trouble Has Been Effected, But the Conditions Are Not Known.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 5.—There is every reason to believe that the strike is settled. At 2:30 p. m., when the meeting between President Wilbur and officials of the Lehigh Valley road and the state boards of arbitration of New York and New Jersey terminated, neither side would speak.

General Manager Voorhees said that the arbitrators would make an announcement tonight. He had pledged himself to secrecy. He did say the road had given its final answer.

On the other hand the arbitrators were all smiles and went direct to the hotel where the Lehigh Valley grievance committee are stopping. The conditions are not known, but that a settlement has been effected is certain.

AFTER JOHNSON'S SCALP.

The Canal Ferryman Has Fallen Into Mrs. Robinson's Displeasure.

A petition, signed by thirty-two names, has been sent to the city council, asking that the ship canal ferryman, Rufus Johnson, be dismissed. This is said to be the result of a ducking experience by a baby carriage belonging to Mrs. A. C. Robinson. She has a penchant for going out in all kinds of weather and many times a day. A few days ago she started out and had handed her baby to the boatman when, before the carriage could be handed in, the wind blew it into the canal.

The aldermanic committee, to whom the petition has been referred, says that only six of the names on the petition are men of any standing and that the whole thing is just a factional scheme.

Johnson holds his position by contract and not only is he given credit for putting up the best ferry service across the canal that the city has ever known, but he is not making any money out of his contract.

Mrs. Robinson, the complainant, is the woman who was up some days ago on complaint of Mrs. Costello, charging theft of some packages of merchandise and was acquitted. She has, in the past, been declared incompetent and her husband appointed her guardian.

Railroad Notes.
W. V. S. Thorne, late assistant superintendent of the Breckenridge division of the Great Northern railway, was yesterday appointed, by General Manager Farrington, superintendent of the Eastern Minnesota railway, with headquarters at West Superior.

F. N. Guthrie, formerly with the American Steel Barge company, has been appointed local agent for the Traders Dispatch and Nickel Plate Lehigh & Wabash, Lackawanna and Interstate Dispatch fast freight lines, with headquarters at No. 18 Board of Trade.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic train due here at 10:35 a. m., was several hours late, being delayed by the tremendous snow storms on the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Will Confer Friday Evening.
After the close of the council meeting last night the city clerk received a telephone message from West Duluth to the effect that a committee of five had been appointed to act with similar committees from Duluth and Superior to talk over ways and means to secure liberal appropriations from the present congress for harbor improvements at the head of the lakes. The first conference will be at the Spaulding hotel Friday evening.

Case of Extreme Want.
A sad case of destitution came to light a day or two ago which shows plainly that great want exists in many parts of which nothing is ever heard. A man whose name could not be learned, but who lives somewhere in the eastern part of the city, went into A. Kurst's grocery store and begged for a small sack of flour claiming that his family was starving. Mr. Kurst refused him, not from any unkindly motives but because he did not believe the story. Later it was learned that the man had stolen the sack. A policeman was notified and went to the house. As he entered he found the family eating the flour raw. The library will probably remain where it is for some time at least.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by John E. Fuller [unmarried], mortgagor, to Charles E. Bullock, of Bradford County, Pennsylvania, mortgagee, bearing date the first day of October, A. D. 1890, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, on the premises described as follows:

189, at one o'clock and forty-five minutes p. m., in book sixty-two (62) of mortgages, on page 145; such default consisting in the non-payment of the principal sum of two thousand five hundred ($2500) dollars thereby secured, together with the semi-annual instalment of interest thereon, amounting to the further sum of one hundred ($100) dollars, all of which became due on October 1, 1963;

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due, and there is actually due, upon said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of two thousand six hundred twenty-one and 33/100 ($2621.23) dollars, principal, interest and charges, and fifty dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure;

And whereas no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore notice is hereby given that virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz.:

Let's numbered fifteen [15] and sixteen [16] of block twenty-seven [27] of West Dunth, First Division, according to the recorded plat thereof; which said premises, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest and the taxes if any on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof, and the disbursements allowed by law, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the fourteenth [14th] day of December, A. D. 1893, at ten [10] o'clock a.m. of said day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Uniform Bankruptcy System.
Next to the tariff question, in importance to the business interests of the country, is the Torrey bankruptcy bill which caused considerable discussion in the house of representatives during the extra session of congress. There is no measure that is more generally endorsed by the business men of the entire country and the necessity of which is more apparent today. The passage of a national bankruptcy law is highly desirable from many points of view. The present situation, with a different bankruptcy law in each state, widely dissimilar in their provisions and more or less cumbersome and costly, is a serious drawback to the business interests of the country. Especially is this true at the present time when there are so many individuals, firms and corporations financially involved as a result of the depression.

As was pointed out by Mr. Oates, of Alabama, in a speech during the extra session, when he argued in favor of the bill's passage, the only aggressive determined opposition which this measure has met outside of congress has been from a few business houses located in the big cities; these great houses do not want a bankruptcy law enacted, because under its humane provisions large numbers of debtors who are now owing their sums aggregated very large amounts will be discharged from their debts; because they now have organized as departments of their business collecting agencies in charge of lawyers which enable them to take advantage of their debtors and advantage of their associate creditors who are not large enough to equip such costly and expensive
legal departments. In other words, these great houses can better protect their own selfish interests under the present varying and inefficient state insolvency laws than they can under a general equitable, wise bankruptcy law,
such as is now being considered. It follows that the congressmen who are opposing this bill are doing so knowingly or ignorantly in the interests of these great houses and not in the interests of the honest insolvents, the consumers, the retailers, the wholesalers and the manufacturers, and the small and the great commercial, industrial and professional bodies who have spoken upon the subject.

It has been said by its opponents that debtors would be at a disadvantage under this bill. This statement is not true; under its provisions, Mr. Oates pointed out, the honest debtor who may be the defendant in a bankruptcy proceeding
will, at every stage of the proceedings, be in a more advantageous position than
he would be as a defendant in the ordinary proceedings under present laws.
The result usually achieved now when one who is in debt and has become embarrassed is that one or two creditors are paid in full, the rest get nothing, and the debtor remains a financial wreck for the rest of his life; under this bill the honest creditors will each receive a ratable
share of the estate and the honest debtor
will be discharged after receiving his exemption. It is therefore conclusive that the enactment of this bill will promote the best interests of honest debtors and honest creditors whose affairs shall be affected by it.

The promoters of this wise measure will continue the fight in its behalf at the present session of congress and they hope to secure its passage. In favoring its enactment, Maj. Baldwin represents the desires of the business men of Duluth, and owing to the deep interest that he has always taken in the subject, both before and since his election to congress
it is not improbable that he may address
the house in support of the measure.

A Promising Future.
Henry Clews, the New York banker, in his last weekly financial review, takes a hopeful view of the situation. The Wilson tariff bill has not excited any distrust unfavorable to investments. The reductions of duty in the leading schedules are less extreme in many instances than had been expected among manufacturers; and considering that, on the other hand, the old duties raise the price of imports much above what home products are selling at, and on the other hand, that producers will have in many cases important advantages from cheap
raw materials, the impression gains ground that the new duties may not so seriously affect manufacturers as has been feared. Certainly, there is no where any evidence that the bill is viewed as more derogating to industrial interests than it was expected to be; perhaps, as a rule, it is regarded as less threatening.

This is the view of the tariff measure taken in financial circles, and it is also pointed out by Mr. Clews that the manufacturing interests now better understand the conditions under which the new tariff will place them, and are therefore more free to resume work in response to the increasing demand for goods. The industrial interests are also finding relief in the reduction of wages called for by the changed conditions of trade. The extraordinary cheapness of money facilitates the resumption of business; it is beginning to have its effect in encouraging preparations for launching new enterprises, and the conditions are becoming more propitious for the introduction of corporate loans, which were thrown into suspense by the panic. An unusual extent of capital seeking employment is apparent in the specially active demand for corporate mortgages;
and this demand is stimulated by the indisposition of banks and trust companies to receive important deposits, for the reason that, with the present surplus of floating balances they cannot afford to pay interest on funds
thus left in their hands.

All of which goes to show that recovery from the depression is steadily proceeding, and that when the tariff question has been definitely settled by this question plenty of capital will be found seeking investment, and when that time arrives there is no city in the country that will derive more benefit than will Duluth.
The winter months or the early spring
are not unlikely to witness a lively movement in real estate in Duluth and vicinity, owing to the large amount of money that will be seeking safe investment.
The near future is therefore very promising.

The Winona Republican still publishes the following at the head of its editorial columns: "The Republican has a much larger circulation than any other paper published in Minnesota outside the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, and is therefore, in its especial field, unrivaled as an advertising medium." The Herald has suggested in the past that the Republican add the words
"and Duluth" after the word "Minneapolis," but it has failed to do so. The Herald has a circulation more than three times as great as that of the Winona paper.

The Fargo Argus says: "Starving miners in the Lake Superior mining district are eating dogs! Thus has nine months of Democratic rule benefited the laboring man." There is no excuse for such a gross misstatement of facts.
Several days before this statement appeared in the Argus the story about miners in Northern Wisconsin eating dogs was emphatically denied; Neither is it clear in what way Democratic rule has placed the miners in a destitute condition. The financial depression closed the mines; Democratic rule had nothing to do with it.

The Butte, Mont., Miner predicts that the winter of 1924 will be more prosperous in Butte than in any other community in the United States. Yet it was only a few weeks ago that the Montana papers were declaring that the repeal of the Sherman silver purchase law would plunge their state into an awful condition of depression. It would now appear that all their fears were groundless.

The Minneapolis Tribune has been interviewing the present mayor and the ex-mayors of that city on the "one-man power" idea in municipal government—that the mayor shall have the right to appoint and dismiss all city officials and that they shall be answerable to him alone. There is no doubt it would be the best plan of municipal government with a good man as mayor, but with a poor man in the mayor's chair it would be the worst system.

Governor Nelson has appointed Sheriff Sharvy one of the delegates to represent Minnesota at a congress of the National Prison Association to be held in St. Paul next June. This is an excellent appointment, as Sheriff Sharvy conducts the model county jail in Minnesota and has many excellent ideas on penology.

PERSONAL.

P. B. Winston and W. O. Winston, of Minneapolis, were at the Spalding today.

L. R. Doty, James D. Hurd and N. P. Guild, of Chicago, a party of coal barons, were in the city today looking after the business of the Lehigh Coal company.

William B. Leach, of Minneapolis, a member of the old Third Minnesota regiment, is in the city to adjust the losses occasioned by the Union Dock company's fire.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Deane returned home last evening after a pleasant Thanksgiving in Minneapolis.

T. F. McGilvery and wife left this afternoon for Minneapolis.

W. A. Draper went to Madison, Wis., last evening.

Capt. Walter Singer, of Ashland, is in the city. He is a large tug owner and has done all the towing of logs this season for those mills that have not tugs of their own. The captain is considering the propriety of making his headquarters at this place.

Capt. J. J. Carlin is down from Missabe Mountain, of which mine he is mining captain. The Missabe Mountain is the banner shipper of the range, having shipped no less than 170,000 tons of ore this season.

Fred Bates returned from a trip to the Mesaba range yesterday and reports business up there pretty quiet, as the result of the suspension of mining operations.

F. A. Bates has gone to Cleveland and Pittsburgh for the purpose of negotiating for the lease of more Mesaba range properties, so it is said.

Day K. Smith and wife and J. S. Washburn and wife, contemplate a winter trip to Mexico.

A. M. Burns, agent for Brook's threads, is in the city looking up the chances for starting a branch business here.

John H. Murphy, the Chippewa Falls lumberman, who some years ago made Duluth his stamping ground, is at the St. Louis, and will remain in the city for a week or more.

B. H. Benson, formerly local forecast official here, left this afternoon for Bismarck, N. D., on a call from the government. He has been remaining here on a leave of absence.

H. M. Myers, successor to Myers & Whipple, has removed his office to room 9, Phoenix block.

DIVISION INTO WARDS.

Judges Ensign and Lewis Took Up the Matter of Redistricting the City This Afternoon.

It Will Take Some Time to Complete This and it Will be Adjourned After Today.

Verdict for the Plaintiff in the Jacobson vs. McGilvery et al. Case Returned by the Jury.

Judges Lewis and Ensign today took up the work of redistricting the city of Duluth as it will be constituted after the consolidation with West Duluth in January, into wards. West Duluth has representatives present in the persons of President Martin and City Attorney Phelps, and Duluth is also represented. The work was begun by first considering West Duluth, and this was in progress at 3 o'clock. Judge Ensign said today that the redistricting would probably not be completed for some little time and would probably be adjourned after today until after the trial of jury cases at this term is completed.

The jury in the case of Frank Jacobson vs. G. G. McGilvery et al. was out until this forenoon from early yesterday afternoon. It was a stubborn fight and a verdict for that amount was returned against two of the defendants, Albert Kitts and Elizabeth Durmick.

The Duluth News case of F. W. Paine, receiver, vs. B. F. Myers, went to the jury this morning. The twelve men at last accounts were wrestling hard with it.

A personal injury damage suit was on before Judge Ensign when court adjourned this noon, that of A. H. Schlitz vs. Faust Brewing Company et al. On July 4, 1891, plaintiff was driving a beer wagon and was thrown from it by reason of the horses becoming frightened at the discharge of a fire cracker. He alleges that the wagon was defective which caused it to tip. His leg was broken and his eye injured and he wants $25,000. The two cases of Max Shapiro vs. St. Paul Fire and Marine and Hartford Fire Insurance companies were taken up before Judge Lewis this morning. The case against the first-named is being tried, but it is stipulated that one verdict shall settle both cases. The drawing of a jury was begun, but the panel was exhausted after five jurors were drawn and court adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The Setting of Cases.
The following setting of cases was made this morning:
Wednesday—11, 13, 28, 53, 66.
Thursday—77, 81, 89, 93, 102, 104.
Friday—113, 141, 142, 143, 146.

AFTER AN INJUNCTION.
Louis Herbert Petitions the Court to Prevent Cutting Timber in 60-23.

Some time ago Cyrus E. Brown, A. H. Hedderley, John M. Watts and Pasquale Heveyque pre-empted claims in 60-23 and mortgaged them to Louis Herbert in order to obtain money enough to prove up with. The claims were subsequently cancelled on the ground of fraud. The pre-emptors then went to work and filed homestead claims upon the same lands and are now holding them. Now comes Louis Herbert and prays the United States circuit court to grant an injunction forbidding the settlers to cut and sell any pine lumber on, or to sell or dispose of their claims in any way, alleging that he never got any of his money back, that the mortgages on the land still hold good in spite of the shift in the cut so to speak. The necessary papers were filed with Clerk Pressnell this morning, and the case, which is a novel one, will excite a good deal of interest.

The Annual Election.
Duluth lodge No. 3795, Knights of Honor, elected the following officers at the annual meeting: J. A. Randall, dictator; G. F. Morgan, vice dictator; B. Rickford, assistant dictator; Walter Spearin, reporter; James Cullyford, financial reporter; L. M. Spalding, treasurer; J. D. Moore, guardian; H. Patterson, guide; B. Shurt, sentinel, and Dr. Faulkner, G. H. Truelsen and E. S. Palmer, trustee.

Swamp Land Decisions.
In the local United States land office this morning, decisions in the following swamp land contest cases were received: Homestead entry of Byron D. Winegar, involving 6 1/2 of section 9-61-18, decision against the state of Minnesota. Homestead entry of Charles Larson, involving the 26 1/2 of the 26 1/2 and 26 1/2 of section 14-58-10, decision same as above.

President Spencer has named Aldermen Wilson, Howard, Getty, Johnson and Nelson to act with committees from commercial bodies in Duluth and Superior toward getting increased harbor appropriations.

Palestine lodge, No. 79, A. F. and A. M., elected the following officers at the annual meeting: W. A. Fosse, W. E. Covey, W. M. Ellsworth, Benjamin, S. W. A. V. Kelly, J. W. J. P. Johnson, Treasurer, Edwin M. Fosse, secretary, and W. B. Patton, trustees.

The meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce, called for 10 o'clock this morning, did not materialize. It is about settled that the chamber will give up the room in which its headquarters are now located and seek more modest quarters, probably in the same building, which they will share with the jobbers union.

H. H. Pratt, aged 71 years, died on Sunday in Minneapolis. He leaves a wife, three daughters and one son, C. L. Pratt, of Grand Rapids, Minn. Mr. Pratt came to Minneapolis from Davenport in 1869.

"The Iron World" is the title of a new weekly paper issued in Duluth. The editor is W. P. Kibbee, recently of Marquette.

Duluth is to have a "blue book" at an early date. It will be carefully prepared and the names of those entitled to a place in it will be passed upon by a committee of three gentlemen prominent in social and business life. It will be a valuable work for Duluth society.

The woman, Lillie Clark, arrested last week, is a resident of St. Croix avenue and well known in Duluth circles.

Died this morning, of cerebral meningitis, William Sargent, youngest child of Frederic W. and Emilie S. Paine, aged 1 year 10 months and 17 days.

A marriage license was issued in Clerk Sinclair's office this morning to Carl Anderson and Christina Nelson.

First citizenship papers were issued this morning to Charles Whitehead, late of England.

All active members of the Y. M. C. A. should be present at the annual meeting tonight at 8 o'clock. Ten members of the board of directors will be elected.

The harbor committee met at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss harbor appropriations.

The attendance at the festival concert of the Duluth School of Music at the Temple tonight bids fair to be very large, judging from the sale of seats.

Two or three days ago H. M. Bradley, while passing from the Exchange building to the Chamber of Commerce, lost an envelope containing two Chandler mine notes, payable to himself, one for $1000 and the other for $500, together with a private document.

CHIEF SMITH BLAMED.
Fire Commissioners Decide That Warehouse No. 2 Could Have Been Saved.

There was a regular merry-go-round up in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon. Representatives of the board of underwriters, the mayor, the fire commissioners and some of the firemen were there, together with Chief Smith, of the fire department, upon whose neck the insurance men and the mayor seemed inclined to climb.

There were present T. W. Hoopes, H. M. Myers, N. F. Kupper, Graves, L. B. Manly and the city officials named above. The object of the meeting was to determine the blame for the total loss of the warehouses by fire last Saturday.

A part of those who were present evidently expected that they would say something that they would be sorry for as all reporters were barred.

The meeting decided that by ordinary care and judgment Warehouse No. 2 could have been saved. The existing contract with the Innans was annulled and a recommendation made that two experienced firemen be placed on the tug and that they be provided with more hose.

The fire commissioners will consider these charges and recommendations at their next regular meeting. If they feel others are after Chief Smith's head, it now looks as if they could knock it off with a blue stick.

One of the most damaging things brought out in the conference was that some of the firemen were charged with breaking open and eating canned fruit in the warehouse.

LOOKING FOR DAMAGES.
James Bond Thinks a Portion of His Leg is Worth Ten Thousand Dollars.

Newton & Morrison have been sued by James Bond for $10,000 damages. It is a personal injury case. The plaintiff claims to have been engaged on May 10, 1893, to work for the defendants as rock foreman but was put at work erecting two wooden structures known as camps in section 17, 50-11. The first was completed under the superintendence of the defendants and they are alleged to have left the erection of the second in charge of the plaintiff who was inexperienced in carpenter work. The building fell while he was working on it. He injured his left leg so badly that amputation between the ankle and knee was necessary. He therefore considers $10,000 as the proper sum to pay for the leg, George L. Spangler is attorney.

Judge Lewis has found for the defendant in the case of Tharold O. Hobe and Rodney B. Swift. It was a suit over a foreclosure sale.

Other papers filed with Clerk Sinclair today were: Transcripts from municipal court, T. K. Hicks vs. C. A. Long, amount $116.09; Charles Ast vs. A. T. Rudolph, $72.28; E. C. Burke vs. McCormick & Wilson and Honore Longtin and G. A. St. Clair garnishee dismissal of action against Honore Longtin.

Fillen Fire and Nine Police Alarm Boxes Contracted For.

This morning Mayor d'Autremont, Chief of Police Horgan, the fire commissioners, City Attorney Greene and Mayor Martin, of West Duluth, met to consider a proposition made for supplying the alarm boxes for West Duluth. John T. Black, general agent for the Gamwell Fire Alarm company, agreed that if the city would enter into a contract at once, and directly with the manufacturer, he would throw in an extra fire alarm box valued at $125 and a police alarm box valued at $150 and also get them here within ten days.

Mayor d'Autremont said that the Gamwell system was something of a costly monopoly, but that it always gives good satisfaction, which cannot be said of other systems. City Attorney Greene said that the charter did not require the entering of bids and that a contract could be entered into at once. Accordingly, Mr. Greene was authorized to draw up a contract for the purchase of fifteen fire alarm boxes and nine police alarm boxes.

The Bar Mill, the Axle Forge and the Planing Mill at the Car Works are running.

Things at the Works Wearing a Busier Appearance and Other Industries Are Now Reviving.

A Literary and Debating Club is Organized by Some Young Men of the Village.

The bar mill at the car works has been running pretty successfully this week, and also the axle forge. The planing mill was running yesterday and today and things in general about the works wear a busier look than for some time past. The Great Western company has a crew of men setting up the wire machines, although no manufacturing will probably be done in this department until next spring. The Marinette company has been working of late mostly on small orders. The orders for mill machinery do not generally come in to any extent until after the annual meetings of the mill companies which usually occur about the first of the year.

A Debating Club.
A literary and debating club has been organized by a number of young men of the village. The following officers have been selected: Earl Hultert, president; Clarence Nixon, vice president; Carl Boomer, secretary; Lawrence Gilley, treasurer. The meetings will be held on Friday evening in the rooms over Labor Union hall on Grand avenue.

FIRE RAGING FURIOUSLY.
Four Miners Who Were Hemmed in Have Been Rescued.

HAZELTON, Pa. Dec. 6.—The four miners who were hemmed in by fire in the Crystal ridge mine last night were found this morning by the rescuing party and conducted in safety to the surface through the Cranberry opening.

The fire is now raging furiously. It is even worse than last night's outbreak and the destruction of the collieries seems inevitable. The officials have not yet decided upon the method of fighting the fire, but the only hope of subduing it seems to lie in flooding the mine with water.

TOOK INSTRUCTIONS TO WILLIS.

Secret Department of the Corwin Under Cover of Night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—The secret department of the revenue cutter Thomas Corwin under cover of night has excited much interest here in the nature of the instructions which she took to Minister Willis. The fact that she was held here over five hours after she was ready for sea goes far to improve the state department's assertion that no dispatches came to them from Port Townsend.

The barkentine Kicketat reached Port Townsend Monday afternoon, bringing four days' later mails from Honolulu than were received by the last steamer. She is a swift vessel, and Willis, if he has a secret, would have been wired at once to Washington and answers received here before midnight.

No messenger went on the Corwin, unless he was concealed on board for over two days, which is not probable. The officers' wives said they saw no strangers on board, and the opinion is that Captain Munger acted as the bearer of the dispatches to Willis. Last night the Mohican dropped down from Mare Island navy yard. She is expected to sail for Honolulu today to relieve the Adams, which is ready to go out of commission.

BLEW OUT HIS BRAINS.
A Mexican Colonel Suicided Rather Than Face Disgrace.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 6.—A special from the City of Mexico to the Republic, says that a sensation has been created by the suicide of Col. Novoa, paymaster in the war department in that city. For some time back the pay of the employees had been coming irregularly and Col. Novoa promised to pay all in full on the 20th.

In the morning he wrote a letter which he gave his son to be given personally to his brother and one each to Gens. Huigosa and Escudero. He then locked out with his office and blew his brains out with a pistol. It was found that he was a defaulter in the sum of about $25,000.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

Liquor Caused a Tragedy in Arkansas This Morning.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 6.—Henry Collier, bookkeeper for the Hardwood State factory, of this city, was killed early this morning by George McNamara, a bartender. Both had been drinking. Another bartender in the saloon where they were drinking, named William Gilford, refused Collier the drinks, when the latter attacked Gilford, who called on McNamara to protect him, whereupon Collier shot Collier through the heart, killing him instantly. McNamara was arrested and lodged in jail.

MUTINY AND MURDER.

Two Brothers and Another Man on Trial in France.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The naval tribunal at Brest began yesterday the trial of Alexander and Joseph Rodriguez, brothers, and another man, named Mircey, on the charge of mutiny and murder. The defendants were members of the crew of the Minorahiti, a vessel belonging to a Tahitian prince.

In January, 1892, it is said, they mutinied, shot the native captain and the English surgeon, Gibson, and poisoned six Kanaka seamen. Then they seized the vessel, loaded her with various native products valued at 40,000 francs and changed the ship's name.

Robbed and Murdered.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 6.—The residence of Mrs. Lucy W. Wright, in Bessemer, a suburb of this city, was destroyed by fire last night. The body of Mrs. Wright was found in the ruins. She was supposed to have had a considerable amount of money and it is believed she was murdered and the house set on fire to conceal the crime.

Death From Inhaling Gas.
WARREN, Ohio, Dec. 6.—Late Tuesday night two men named Saunders and Mahon, employed at the Andrews-Hitchcock mill in Hubbard, dropped dead. Death was caused by inhaling gas from the blast furnace. Saunders leaves a wife and Mahon a wife and five children. The men were about 40 years of age.

Pursuing the Matabeles.
CAPE TOWN, Dec. 6.—A dispatch from Bulawayo dated Nov. 28 says that Maj. Forbes is in hot pursuit of Lobengula, king of the Matabeles. He expects either to capture him or to force him over the Zambesi river. The Matabeles have lost all spirit. The British captured 2,000 head of cattle. The rains have commenced.

PRENDERGAST ON TRIAL.

The Slayer of Carter H. Harrison Answers for His Crime.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—The trial of Patrick E. Prendergast for the murder of Carter H. Harrison began this morning. State's Attorney Kern and Alfred S. Trade appeared for the state and R. A. Wade, Robert Essex, John P. McGarry and John Heron for the defense.

The only change in Prendergast's appearance was in a light growth of hair on his upper lip and increased nervousness. He was placed in a seat a few feet from the jury box, facing his lawyers and the spectators. His common and black tie almost concealed his standing collar, and his dark clothes were of the shabby genteel order.

The line of inquiry on behalf of the state showed that the intention was to get a jury which could believe Prendergast to have been a crank at the time he fired the fatal bullet into Mayor Harrison's body and yet be responsible for his death, knowing the difference between right and wrong. The state's attorney's questions also indicate that the infliction of the death penalty would be asked at the hands of the jury, if Prendergast was judged to be guilty of murder beyond a reasonable doubt.

The talesmen's answers in relation to the defendant's plea of insanity showed that nearly all had a suspicion of such a defense, while many who were excused had made up their minds unalterably that Prendergast was guilty of a dastardly crime and should be hanged.

The line on examination on the part of Attorney Wade for the defense was another banner. He made inquiries if the talesmen had any prejudice against evidence tending to show Prendergast was insane, and also as to whether the men would protect him, when the latter told Collier through the heart, killing him instantly. McNamara was arrested and lodged in jail.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS TODAY.

Senator Voorhees Opened His Pension Campaign in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Senator Voorhees opened his pension campaign in the senate this morning by introducing two bills, one declaring a pension a vested right; regulating suspension of pensions, and granting appeals to the supreme court of the District of Columbia; the other defining sundry crimes against the United States in the administration of pension laws.

After some morning business, in the course of which Mr. Manderson introduced a bill to amend the internal revenue law, Mr. Cullom offered a resolution accepting from Illinois the statue of Gen. Shields and proceeded to address the senate, eulogizing Gen. Shields.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A letter from the attorney general was laid before the house stating that there were no employees in his department below the standard of efficiency.

Mr. Grosvenor offered a resolution giving the names of 1,000 Ohio pensioners dropped from the rolls and asking for a reason and other information from the secretary of the interior.

ITALY'S NEW MINISTRY.

Does Not Inspire Confidence in Financial and Political Circles.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—A special despatch to the Times from Rome says: The Zanardelli ministry does not inspire confidence in financial and political circles. The general position in Italy is becoming worse, and the prices of all securities are falling.

The correspondent in Rome of the Daily News says that with two exceptions the new ministers do not possess abilities to fit them for their positions. Several of them have figured badly in the bank scandals. There is discord already among the ministers.

Napoli, the capital, a socialist member of the chamber of deputies, has published a work on the bank scandals, relating the facts in connection with the struggle to obtain legislative inquiry into the matter. The work is eagerly purchased. It will become an historical document.

A Telegrapher Dead.
TORONTO, Dec. 6.—Benjamin B. Toye, Western superintendent of the Great Northwestern Telegraph company, and one of the oldest and best known telegraphers in the country, died in this city, at 3 o'clock this morning. He began his telegraphic career in 1838.

Burglary at Des Moines.
DES MOINES, Dec. 6.—Burglars entered the jewelry store of Butler & Miller at Indiana last night, drilled open the safe, and secured jewelry valued at $300. None.

Heavy Loss of Life.
VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 6.—According to official returns, a shipwreck, a heavy gale in Shumai prefecture, Japan, did great damage to lives and property. On one steam vessel twenty-nine persons were lost.

AN ANTI A. P. A. MOVE.

The National Society of Liberty and Loyalty Organized in Denver.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 6.—The National Society of Liberty and Loyalty organized in this city some time ago has opened headquarters in Denver with Irwin Mahon as national secretary. Already correspondence is coming from out-of-town people asking for particulars.

The president of the association is Rev. Byron W. Reed, well known throughout the country for his aggressive views on public matters, and the vice president is Hon. Charles S. Thomas, a prominent lawyer and political leader. Many of the women identified with the equal suffrage movement are members of the society.

The main purpose of this organization is to discourage the growth of the A. P. A. movement by a counter society that has for its basis the exclusion of intolerance from public affairs.

An Omaha Tragedy.

OMAHA, Dec. 6.—The woman who was killed last night by Martin Hansen, the porter, has been identified as Mary Jensen, with whom Hansen has been living. She wanted him to marry her, but he was bent upon marrying another woman. He was engaged and killed the Jensen woman to get her out of the way. He did not intend to suicide, but when detected, killed himself to avoid arrest.

The Coughlin Trial.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Legal authorities by the score and bushel were hurled at Judge Tullih in the Coughlin trial this morning. The question at issue was whether Mrs. Andrew Foy, at whose house it is proposed to show that the conspiracy against Dr. Cronin was hatched, should be permitted to testify in behalf of the state, even though the testimony should implicate her husband.

Arrested For Murder.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Frank Tansey, colored, was arrested today on suspicion of being the murderer of two old soldiers in Dayton, Ohio, on Oct. 10th. Tansey was arrested by the Dayton authorities and is held there.

More Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The president today sent to the senate the following nominations: Joseph B. Doe, of Wisconsin, to the assistant secretary of war; Postmaster: Minnesota—Thomas M. Blacklin, Albert Lea, Wisconsin; John H. Lewis, Black River Falls.

New Serbian Ministry.

BELGRADE, Dec. 6.—M. Guichis has succeeded in forming a cabinet. It is composed as follows: Prime minister, minister of foreign affairs, minister of war and minister of marine, M. Guichis; minister of finance, M. Vuics; minister of public works, M. Stankovics; minister of commerce, M. Miloshevics; minister of public instruction, M. Wescovic.

To Sell Saltwater Deposits.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The Herald's Valparaiso dispatch says the government in Santiago has decided to sell the salt water deposits. A decree has been issued fixing the sale for July 15 next.

A Scottish Noble Dead.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Viscount Strathallan, heir presumptive to the earldom of Scotch titles of Perth, died last night from cholera. He was formerly major of the Sixth dragoon guards, from which he retired in 1882 as honorary colonel.

A MARRIAGE LOTTERY.

London's Queer Mixture of Dowry, Matrimony and Hebrew Philanthropy.

"Michael Harris and Nancy Jacobs having pooled the highest number of votes were duly elected to receive a dowry of 225 and marriage fees, and a vacancy was again declared for a couple."

So ran a paragraph in a Jewish paper recently, and a reporter was fired with an ambition to learn more about these folks who give complex dowries, and more about the conditions under which such dowries are won. The benevolence, it appeared, emanated from the Society for Allowing Marriage Fees and a Portion to Young Men and Virtuous Girls of the Jewish Faith. The president of this society one would imagine would be a patriarchal sage with grandchildren in scores about his knees. But Mr. A. Swartz, who is the head of the society, is a young man with a slight black mustache, a clean shaven chin and certainly no grandchildren. When not hymenically occupied he is engaged in his business as a diamond merchant in Hatton Garden.

"The society," he said, in reply to the interviewer, "has been in existence nearly 40 years, and has done no small amount of good. It was started among a few friends in quite a small way, and a dowry of £10 only was all that could be afforded at first. But £10, if not exactly a drop in the ocean, was not quite sufficient to answer the purpose in view, and as the fund grew the dowry was increased to £25."

"Are the operations of the society confined to London?"

"No. They extend all over England. The funds are recruited by subscriptions of all amounts, from a penny a week upward, and by donations."

"It gives them a prior claim on the dowry, doesn't it?"

"No, it doesn't. I will make that clear in a moment. We assist about a dozen couples every year, the dowries and marriage fees coming to over £200. The object in giving the dowry is to enable the young couple to start a little business together. Before becoming candidates for the dowry—toward which they need not have subscribed a farthing—they have to be possessed of all home necessities and furniture, and the man has to prove to the satisfaction of the committee that he is in a position to maintain his wife."

"Only virtuous girls are to be befriended by the society, I gather from its title. Does it not become rather a delicate matter to adjudicate upon the qualifications of young lady applicants?"

"Every case is investigated by two members of the committee, appointed annually for that purpose. They make their inquiries with proper tact and discretion, and they also investigate the character of the man. Let us go through the entire procedure. Say a vacancy has been declared, which means that you have sufficient in hand to put another dowry up for competition. We send out notices to that effect and supply forms for application. We get four, five, six, perhaps a dozen couples competing for the prize. They all come before the committee in couples, and are asked questions concerning the money they have saved, the nature of the man's work, and so on. Once I suppose I must have been present on the prospective bridegroom pretty hard, for the young lady spoke up sorrowfully, 'Well, sir, you got married once, and we want to too!'"

"Well, as soon as they have been admitted as candidates, what follows?"

"We give them a book of minutes, and tell them to go and canvass for votes, the members possessing votes in proportion to the amount of their subscriptions."

"Have you yourself many votes?"

"Yes, I hold something like 50 votes."

"Then you are the target of plenty of beseeching brown eyes and persuasive glances?"

"No, nothing out of the way, because as president I take no part in choosing the recipients of the dowry."

"Can you give me a specific instance of the good the society has done?"

"I can and a striking one, I think. There are three members of the committee of the society, now men of position and well to do, who were embarked upon life with dowries from the society."

Marble Made With Electricity.
The latest achievement of science is the artificial production of marble from pure calcium carbonate.

M. H. Le Chatelier, a French chemist, makes the calcium in the form of an impalpable powder and compresses it in a steel cylinder between two pistons with a pressure of 2,000 pounds to the square inch. In this condition a platinum spiral, previously imbedded in the powder, is heated by an electric current, with the result that the powder in the neighborhood of the wire is rendered crystalline and translucent.

Sections of the resulting substance when examined under a microscope exhibited the characteristics of certain specimens of slightly mottled marble. This remarkable work of the electric current may prove the stepping stone to greater achievements in the production of artificial stone of all kinds.

Stanford Photography.
A simple method of photographing a person in his different attitudes all at once has been invented by a New Jersey photographer, by means of which the same fellow gives five different views of the sitter. This is accomplished by using as a background two plane mirrors, forming between them an angle of 45 degrees, and placing the person in the center.

The usefulness of such pictures will not be confined to ordinary life, as they will be most valuable in criminology and anthropology.—Exchange.

His Opinion.
"Sam'l, what an yo' opinion ob de reflexive merits ob mod'rate temperance an' right down testotance?" inquired Mr. Augustus Jupiter Johnson of his brother.

"Gustus," replied Samuel shrewdly, "yo' question minds me ob w'at a man dat kep' a 'yulm for de insane folks once to me. He say dat, when dey want to know if de pore critters done git cure, dey show 'em a trough wid de water pourin into it from de up in a big barrel, an' dey say, 'Yo' try empty dat trough now.'"

A Wild Shooter.

"Not long ago," said the drummer, lazily lounging around the hotel stove, "I was down in one of those West Virginia mountain towns, where to shoot is human, to hit, divine, and a scrap arose in front of the courthouse between a couple of mountaineers, one of whom had left his gun at the tavern. The other fellow pulled a revolver and began to shoot, and the crowd stood aside, while a couple of friends tried to get the unarmed man out of the way."

"What in thunder air you doing?" he exclaimed, breaking loose.

"Why, Jim is shootin', and ye'll be killed," they explained hurriedly.

"Who's he shootin' at?"

"Shootin' at you, in course."

"Shoot?"

"In course we air."

"Well, the crowd had better scatter an' let him keep on shootin' at me. I'm safe."

"That feller never hit notin' he shot at in his life, and I'm tellin' you ye'd better git out of the way."

"That very moment a bullet struck one of the friends in the arm, and they let go in a hurry and got around the corner."—Detroit Free Press.

He Had the Proof.

"Uxale Eben," said a young man who was disposed to be jocular, "do you believe that there is luck in a rabbit's foot?"

The old man's eyes twinkled. Putting his hand in his vest pocket, he drew forth a velvet rabbit's paw and said gravely he held it at arm's length:

"See dese?"

"Yes, dese ain't no use tryin' ter tell 120 dat luck don't go wid dat rabbit's foot. It's got de proofs right hyur in de kitchen."

"Proof of the luck that goes with that rabbit's paw?"

"Yes, and de old man's eyes twinkled more than ever. "De

The Weather.

U. S. W. BATHUR, DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 6.—Forecast until 8 a. m., tomorrow: At 7 a. m., today, the barometer was highest from Colorado to the region north of Dakota, and an area of low pressure had moved to the northeast of Lake Huron. It was decidedly colder than yesterday in the lake regions, the fall
in temperature having been attended by light snow over Lake Superior.Duluth temperature, 7 a. m., was 4 degrees below zero; maximum, for twenty-four hours, 14 degrees; minimum, 4 degrees below zero.
Drizzle, Dec. 6.—Local forecast: Fair till Thursday evening; warmer Thursday evening;
northwesterly winds becoming light and variable.JAMES KENNELLY, Local Forecast Officer.WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Forecast till 8 p. m., tomorrow: For Wisconsin generally fair;
slowly rising temperature; winds southerly.
For Minnesota: Snow flurries today or tomorrow; fair Thursday morning in North Dakota and Minnesota Thursday; wide variable.

Why Protection Should Apply.

The Herald has not seen as yet any sound argument on the part of those who defend the Wilson tariff bill which would justify the removal of the duty on iron ore. Even Mr. Wilson, in the statement which he issued simultaneously with the copy of the bill, was apparently at a loss
for a good reason for removing this duty and fell back upon the absurd and untenable ground that "steam shovel mining" has made it possible for American mines to compete with the world.There is no iron range in this country, except possibly the Mesaba, that could compete with the cheap ore from Cuba and the almost equally cheap ore from Canada, should the duty be removed, and the Mesaba could compete only by reducing the wages of the miners. This proves that the removal of the duty will cause a direct reduction of the wages of labor, engaged in the iron industry. As the Democratic national platform declares that duties should be levied sufficient in amount to make up the difference in the cost of labor at home and abroad, it is manifest that in the case of iron ore the Wilson
bill is in direct violation of the pledge made to the country by that platform.The fact that, even with that duty of 75 cents a ton in force, Cuban ore has traveled as far west as Scranton, Pa., shows that instead of the duty being removed it should be increased, if the Democratic party does not desire to reduce the wages of the miners in this country.A gentleman who is a leader among the Democrats of Minnesota, and is heavily interested in the iron mines of St. Louis county, has addressed a most interesting letter to Congressman Bal-win upon this subject. He makes a very strong argument, which The Herald takes pleasure in publishing. After commenting upon the printer's interviews which are credited to Maj. Baldwin, the writer says that he notices by statistics that just about the same amount of foreign ore is coming to this country, and paying the present duty of 75 cents per ton, as came when iron was double the present price, and that he is of the opinion that an increase of the tariff of 25 cents a ton over the present tariff rate would not lessen the importation. He also believes that the putting of iron ore on the free list would not materially increase the importation. "Now," says he,
"if this view of the matter is correct, then the Democratic party would be false to its pledges of 'tariff for revenue only' by lessening the present tariff rate;
and to redeem its pledges, would be called upon to increase the tariff."To consider the subject in another light. If as predicted by the Republican press of the country, the putting of iron ore on the free list would cause a great increase of foreign ore, over and above what is now imported, then his view of the matter would be this: The price of iron ore for the last year, or a half or two years has been less than it could be produced for from more than one-half of the mines of high grade ore which have supplied thus far the American market, paying to transportation lines a reasonable freightage to the places of consumption. Now in this view the striking down of the tariff would result in untold injury to the mining and transportation interests of this country which under the circumstances are not helped, even to the point of living profits by the present tariff.Under this view of the subject, that is conceding that the putting of iron ore on the free list would occasion a large increase of importations, the result would necessarily be the building up of manufacturing on the Atlantic seaboard and in the Western cities, and destroying the present manufacturing centers of steel and iron in this country. It would prevent the mining of ore on the south shore ranges and probably on the Vermilion range and leave the Mesaba range in the position of having the Cuban, and possibly some Canadian mines as its only competitors. "This," says the writer to Maj.
Baldwin, "while it might help me and help Duluth locally, in my judgment is too selfish a view for you in your present position to consider for a single moment.
After deliberately considering the whole subject matter, I am of the opinion thatthere is no commodity upon which the government is today raising a revenue that is so free from benefiting unduly any class, and so free from being a burden upon any class, as the present revenue derived from iron ore. I say this for the reason that notwithstanding the present tariff, iron ore is cheaper today
than ever it was before in our history,
and cheaper than it can be profitably mined and got to market, with the single exception of from a few of the steam shovel mines of the Mesaba range, and regarding them, it is not possible for some years to come with the present or possible transportation facilities, for these mines to supply the American demand. Hence I repeat that if the Democratic party is true to its pledges of 'tariff for revenue only,' there is no commodity on which a tariff is or has been so equitable to all classes of our people as the revenue raised from iron ore."The writer of the above cogent arguments is Col. E. C. Gridley, and his sentiments as above expressed are heartily concurred in by another prominent iron man, also a staunch Democrat, A. E.
Humphreys.The statements of facts and strong arguments of these two gentlemen are commended to the attention of the Minneapolis Times and other Democratic papers that are defending the removal of the iron ore duty, evidently because it is contained in a bill bearing the party label, and likewise to the Minneapolis Tribune and one or two other papers which claim to be Republican but which
in this instance are taking a stand directly opposed to the principle of protection as advocated by the Republican party.

Destitution on the Gogebic.

The state of affairs on the Gogebic range is heartrending. Thousands of people are on the verge of starvation, and their suffering is terrible to contemplate. It is an opportunity for the great Northwest to save hundreds of human beings from starvation, and although the past year has been a trying one to many in the Northwest the condition of our people is vastly superior to that of the miners of Michigan and their families who are shivering for lack of sufficient clothing and have barely enough to eat to sustain life.The governor of Michigan and prominent citizens of Detroit have taken steps to relieve the awful distress, but so great and widespread is the suffering that even the rich state of Michigan may find it self unable to supply enough food and clothing and aid may be required from other states. A committee was appointed by Governor Rich to visit the mining towns and investigate the extent of the distress. The first place they reached was the city of Ironwood, and the facts discovered there will probably faithfully
represent the conditions in other parts of the range.
One year ago the wages to the day workers of Ironwood, a city of 8,000 inhabitants was $250,000 per month. At the present time the pay-rolls for the same number of people will not exceed $300,000
a month. This wage money came entirely from the seven mines of the city, and the mines are closed down and only 250 men at work, where formerly were employed several thousand. The fact that the mining industries of the lake region are paralyzed is known to the commercial world, but the extent of the suffering that has been caused by the closing down of these mines is not so generally appreciated. This means that 5,000 people of Ironwood, where the thermometer for weeks at a time is 15 and 20 degrees below zero, must be supported by charity. It means that every man, woman and child in that town must depend for food and clothing for five months on savings of last year or what is given them. No money is to be earned, for there is no work to do.When the mines commenced to close down last April and May and the regular monthly pay day was a pleasant memory of the past these people in most cases found that they had paid out all their earnings. The regular monthly pay day of the building associations came around just the same, however, and every effort was made to stay foreclosure. Whatever next day the miner was able to put aside for a rainy day during the unusually severe winter of six months that he had just passed through was soon paid out to the grocer, butcher, and building association. During the summer and fall about 5 per cent of the miners sought work in other mining districts. Work was almost as hard to find in other districts as it was there, and the men were able to send little or no money home to the families. In a short time these families were charity charges on the hands of the country. Added to this number was the constantly increasing list of those at home who had exhausted their credit and were without the means of sustaining life.Another calamity befell the unfortunate people. In the spring there was an epidemic of typhoid fever. One out of every eight inhabitants of Ironwood was stricken by the disease. Of the number that was taken sick, one out of ten died.
The greater portion of those sick were of the poorer classes and the patients had to be cared for in the public institutions of the city and paid for out of the general funds. There are in the city today sixty-five convalescents.The Michigan committee will recommend for Ironwood that enough heavy clothing be forwarded at once to make the people comfortable, and that a fund be guaranteed from which enough maybe drawn weekly to supply them with food until winter breaks. The local committee estimates that life can be sustained for $2.50 a month for each individual. This does not include clothing bills. Supplies may be forwarded to the Ironwood relief committee, which is the recognized receiving bureau. The charitably inclined are especially inclined to remember the hundreds of barefooted and scantily clad children who need
"little red school house," heavy socks, German socks and underclothing that will dress them so that they can go to school in a climate where the thermometer is usually lower than 12 degrees below zero.If any Duluth people feel inclined to contribute towards the relief of these people, either cash, clothing or food, The Herald will gladly receive their donations and forward them to the proper authorities over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road, which has generously offered to carry all contributions free of charge.The death of Professor John Tyndall, which was announced in yesterday's dispatches, will be mourned by many who gained a love of scientific knowledge from reading his attractive lectures and other works. The professor regarded the law of conservation, which combines the energies of the natural universe into an organic whole, as the greatest generation of the last fifty years; the principle of evolution as the second in importance; the discovery of the spectrum analysis as the third leading scientific event of the half century. Professor Tyndall made simple to the general public the great scientific facts which he discovered, and the intelligible character of his writings was one of their greatest charms.Congressman Kiefer, of St. Paul, is pursuing the coal comb. He has been studying the transportation question in connection with the cost of coal at the mines and will offer a resolution calling on the attorney general of the United States for information. Under section 4, of the act approved July 2, 1890, known as the Sherman anti-trust act, it is made the duty of the attorney general to restrain violations and prevent combinations or conspiracy in opposition to legiti-mate trade and commerce.The lack of wisdom in holding executive sessions when discussing matters affecting the public interests is again shown by the many rumors that are afloat regarding what was said at the "conference" on the Union dock fire. All sorts of stories are now being related and no one knows which are correct. Had the reporters not been barred out of the meeting, these rumors would not be afloat
and the Berlin would be known.A Berlin dispatch says that Prof.
Fritsch, lecturing in the museum of ethnology, to 200 military officers, stated that with the aid of electricity he had been able to photograph projectiles in transit. He exhibited photograph showing the air waves caused by the missiles,
which form a legible record of the velocity with which they had traveled. The apparatus used by the professor is the invention of boy named Vernon, a resident of Edinburgh, Scotland.The house yesterday passed a joint resolution to confirm patents to land on the Mille Lacs reservation, and thus the settlers, who have been subject to much injustice by the land office rulings, will secure their rights.Should Stand as a Unit.
St. Paul News: There is absolutely no excuse for admitting the foreign ore to free competition with the native ores.
The representatives of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota in the North, and of Alabama in the South, will undoubtedly stand as a unit upon this point; if they do not they will betray the interest of their constituents. They will be justified in going to the extreme of parliamentary obstruction to prevent a serious blow at the material well being of their states in particular and of the country in general.Get Nothing and Give Everything.
New York Sun: Had the authors of the Wilson bill refrained from placing most of the natural products of Canada on the free list, we should have seen, in the course of a few years, a voluntary union of the Anglo-Saxon race upon this continent, or, at the worst, an agreement for unrestricted reciprocity. As it is, we get nothing and give everything; and it is the American miners, lumbermen, fishermen and farmers who have to foot the bill.Something to Be Thankful For.
Portland Oregonian, Key: Times are too hard now for us to return thanks for any good things of a material sort in this world, but then we can fall back on the old orthodox by-law, to-wit:
"And are we wretches yet alive?
And do we yet rebel?
'Tis wonderful, 'tis amazing grace
That we are out of hell!"A Little Premature.
Judge: "Well," said Anthony to Cleopatra as the end of November approached, "it will soon be Thanksgiving day." "What on earth are you thinking about, Tony?" replied the prize beauty.
Thanksgiving day hasn't been invented yet." "That's so," replied the man as he sank back into thoughtful silence.But They Won't.
Athens Globe: The old maids
could have a great deal of fun together
if some of them would only admit they were old maids.A Good Reason Too.
Ram's Horn: One reason why some men do not have better wives is because they are such poor husbands.No Never.
New York Register: Will the bosses ever learn the lesson that in politics the people can do their own bossing.

A. P. DODGE DEAD.

His Death Occurred Yesterday at Galesburg, Wash.

The sad news of the death of Andrew Perkins Dodge, more familiarly known as "Perk" Dodge, was received here today by his brother, J. P. Dodge. Mr. Dodge died yesterday at Galesburg, Wash., and his body has been taken in charge by the G. A. R. and will be forwarded to this place, reaching here on Sunday next. From here it will be shipped to Escanaba, Mich., from whence Mr. Dodge came here in October, 1881, when he entered the employ of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad as conductor, being the second man employed by the company in this capacity. Mr. Dodge, upon resigning his position some three years ago, went to storekeeping at Mesaba, now Allen Junction, and afterwards at Biwabik. He leaves a wife and three children, who are now at Mr. Dodge's late residence, 609 West First street. "Perk" Dodge was a gentleman who will always be remembered affectionately by all his former friends and acquaintances, and his untimely decease will cause regret wherever he was known.

Drinks More Numerous.
It seemed like old times in the police court this morning with the increased size in the list of drunks. Mr. McDonald, Andrew Johnson, Nick Matson, A. Gaylor and Ed Johnson pleaded guilty to the charge of pouring out libations to excess and were sent up for ten days each. Knute Johnson pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy and went along for five days. N. J. Hogan, charged by John Hughes with larceny as bailor of $15, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the afternoon session.

WAS NOT A MARRIAGE

Judge Ayer Decides That Lottie A. Pomeroy's Contract Did Not Constitute a Marriage in Law.

It Takes More Than the Existence of an Agreement Even if in the Present Tense.

Both of the Petitions Made by Her Are Therefore Denied—Case Will be Appealed.

The Hulet will case as far as the probate of St. Louis county is concerned will probably be at rest for some time as Judge Ayer made his decision this morning. It is very short and had not, during the forenoon, been reduced to writing, but it will go just the same.

Judge Ayer decides that there was no legal marriage existing between Lottie A. Pomeroy and Nehemiah Hulet. He holds that proof of the existence of an agreement to become husband and wife, even if written in words of the present tense is not sufficient in law to constitute a marriage. This alleged marriage, he says, was secret and there was no open recognition of the relation of husband and wife.

Lottie Pomeroy had two petitions before the court, one to set off the homestead to her as the widow of the deceased and the other to revoke the order admitting the will to probate. Judge Ayer, of course, denies both of these petitions. The estate will therefore go to the heirs under the old will made in 1862, unless the courts overrule Judge Ayer's decision. The case will be carried into the courts.

AROUND THE TOWN.

Interesting and Entertaining Gossip at Hotels and Other Places.

Among the names on the Spalding register this morning appears that of Frank E. Searle, of St. Cloud. Mr. Searle is a past grand master of the St. Cloud school of politics and a brother to Judge Searle. He was very reticent as to his business in the city, and preferred to talk about the land office fight in the St. Cloud land district, but it is whispered around today that Mr. Searle has nearly made up his mind that it would be a good thing for him to come to Duluth and enter upon the practice of law.

"Cleveland talks of our 'narrow markets' said a wholesale man, but the British papers are falling all over themselves in their jubilation over the Wilson bill. They keep shouting about increased exports, revival of the American trade and other good luck that free trade in this country would bring to England, and yet the president considers the markets of America too 'narrow' for American artisans and mechanics. No one is so blind as he who will not see."

There is a good deal of speculation here as to who are on the committee appointed to select the names that are to grace Duluth's blue book. Col. John H. Langton is the only man who knows positively who these gentlemen are and he refuses to cough up any information. It is rumored that Hon. Dick Cullen has already forwarded his name for insertion and that Humane Henry Haskins has also applied for a blank to fill out.

"Did you see what Sol Curry told the Chicago Tribune?" said a Mesaba miner at the St. Louis. "Well, he said that if the tariff was taken off of ore the big Norrie mine would be shut down as they could not mine ore at a profit with the reduced prices that would surely ensue. And mind you this Sol Curry is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat."

A mining man who has been running a mine in Cuba for an American company said today:

"The output of the three companies now mining iron ore in Cuba is about 600,000 tons annually and this could easily be increased to double the amount without extra expense to the producers. It costs on board the vessel about $1 per ton and is chiefly produced by labor that will average all round about 90 cents a day. When I say all round I mean an average of all the wages paid to miners and laborers. There are other deposits on the island that can be easily opened up and the Atlantic seaboard would at once be flooded with this ore if the tariff was taken off."

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Verdict Returned in the Case of F. W. Paine.

Receiver vs. B. F. Myers.

The jury in the case of F. W. Paine, receiver, vs. B. F. Myers handed in a sealed verdict this morning. It was for the plaintiff and the amount was $728.81. The amount sued for was over $2000—four notes of $500 each. The defendant in his answer admitted that three of the notes had been paid and a note which the directory of the News company had endorsed and offered to turn over the remaining one and about $228, but this was not satisfactory to the receiver. The verdict is for the amount admitted in the answer.

In the case of Max Shapiro vs. St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance company a jury was secured this morning and the trial of the case taken up. The damage case of A. H. Schletz vs. Pabst Brewing company is still on trial before Judge Ensign. Village of West Duluth vs. P. McDonald was continued; James Drohan vs. Arthur Lavasseur was settled, and F. W. Paine, assignee, vs. Huntress-Brown Lumber company was passed to the foot of the jury calendar.

A Pine Land Deal.

A deal has just been closed in which E. A. Shores, of Ashland, for the Shores Lumber company, Wisconsin, becomes the possessor of a large tract of pine in Bayfield county Wis. The sale was made by H. M. Stocking, of the West Superior Lumber company, and the consideration was $12,000. This deal has been pending for some time, in fact the details were agreed to before the panic but the bargain has just recently been formally closed. This block of timber is the only large one transferred this season. No one at present holding larger groups of timber is trying to sell. The only activity is in properties held by men who have taken timber and stone claims. Many bargains of that kind are now on the market and quite a number are being snapped up by companies blessed with a little surplus cash.

THE COURT FILINGS.

Suit to Recover for Personal Property Under an Agreement.

Cynthia H. Fletcher has commenced an action against Nettie E. Lazier to recover $1250. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant rented the premises at 329 West Second street from her and the suit grows out of alleged failure to conform to certain conditions made in the agreement at the time of renting. The value of the property is placed at $750 and the damages by reason of the detention at $250. Allen & Baldwin are plaintiff's attorneys.

Charles Schem has sued the Duluth Dispatch & Northern Miner for $268.75. The amount claimed is alleged to be due on a purchase made by the defendant from S. Simon & Co., of Detroit, and the account was sold to them by the plaintiff, Draper, Davis & Hollister are plaintiff's attorneys.

Other papers filed today with Clerk Sinclair were as follows:
Transcript of judgment from municipal court for $136.40 in case of George Myers vs. Eastlake & Wolf.
Proposed amendment of findings of fact and conclusions of law in the case of Howe Lumber company vs. Iron Bay company.

In case of David McNutt vs. W. C. Doherty, order on court directing defendant to give plaintiff order for $598 on the city of Duluth and directing the city of Duluth to pay the same to no person but the plaintiff.

Notice of the filing of the report of Commissioners Alex Fraser, John F. McLaren and Robert Louden in the matter of the application of the Duluth, Superior & Northern railroad for the condemnation of lands for railroad purposes.

Answer of defendant in case of Duluth Belt Line Railway company vs. Duluth Manufacturing company.

RANCE DISCHARGED.

Judge Powell Decides That a Deer's Head is not the Carcass.

W. L. Rance, the Superior street butcher, made his appearance in municipal court this morning to a charge of having unlawfully in his possession the carcasses of three deer, complaint having been made by Deputy Game Warden Jeff Daniels. C. C. Baldwin appeared for the defendant and City Attorney Greene prosecuted. A jury was empaneled to decide the case, and the wheels of justice set in motion. Mr. Rance admitted having in his possession the heads of three deer but the defense set up that the head of a deer is not the carcass of a deer. Judge Powell took that view and so charged the jury. A verdict was brought in for the defendant and he accordingly was discharged.

RICE'S POINT BRIDGE.

County Commissioners Confer With a Delegation From Superior.

The county commissioners are in session this afternoon. There was a delegation present from the Douglas county board in regard to the two counties erecting a bridge between Rice's point and Superior.

Committees were appointed to inquire into the legality of the scheme, and it was decided to telegraph Congressmen Baldwin and Hughes to hold up all the bridge bills until the commissioners of the two counties have reached a decision.

Says It Is Not True.

Adam Kirst, the grocer at 129 Tenth avenue east, has a story in the last evening's Herald concerning the sack of flour, a poor man, and children eating raw flour out of the sack. No such incident has occurred. Mr. Kirst, however, and aside from the tendency of the narration of the incident to make him out as rather hard hearted, his place of business was overrun all the morning with kind-hearted ladies who desired to get the address of the sufferers, so that their distress might be alleviated.

MOVEMENTS OF MELLO.

He Has Arrived at the Quarantine Station on Rio.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A dispatch was received at the state department this morning from Minister Thompson announcing the arrival of Admiral Mello on the Aquiduan at the quarantine station of Ilhe Grand.

This is the quarantine station off Rio, recently established, and the admiral's appearance there would seem to indicate that he has reconsidered his determination to give battle to the America and Nicholson on high seas, if indeed, that was really his purpose in leaving the harbor several days ago. No news has been received at the Brazilian legation upon the subject.

TO BE AMENDED

There Will be Numerous Changes in the Wilson Bill When Reported to the Senate.

Possibly the Entire Principle of Free Raw Materials May be Abandoned or Modified Materially.

If This Should Prove to be True the Iron Ore Duty Will Not be Removed.

Practically Settled That the Bill Will be Reported to the House on Next Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Democratic members of the finance committee of the senate held a conference this morning, at which an effort was made to come to some conclusion as to the policy to be pursued in the consideration of the tariff bill. The senators were slow in reaching the room, and the conference lasted more than fifteen minutes and was adjourned until tomorrow at the same hour.

It was decided that a comparative statement should be prepared showing the difference between the rates of tariff under the Wilson bill and the existing law, and as soon as this is received the committee will begin work on the bill, independent of the action of the house.

From the tenor of the remarks of a leading member of the committee, the inference is drawn that there may be numerous changes in the Wilson bill when it is reported to the senate, and it is not without the range of possibilities that the entire principle of free raw materials may be abandoned or modified materially.

The opinion of these Democratic senators in a position to know the disposition of the party is that the bill cannot possibly pass the senate before the last of February, and that it will be impossible for it to take effect in March, as now provided in the bill. The full finance committee will decide upon the question of hearings at the next meeting.

The Democratic members of the ways and means committee of the house were in session today, correcting the various errors in the tariff schedules. The corridors surrounding the committee room were filled with representatives of the Eastern manufacturers in the interests particularly of the flax, drug, silk and cotton thread industries.

It is practically settled that the bill will be reported to the house on Wednesday, Dec. 13, and general debate will begin the following Monday. There is also a tacit agreement, so far as the house is concerned, that the new tariff law shall become operative July 1.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS TODAY.

The House Passed a Resolution Increasing Capital Employes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A resolution increasing the force of capital employes led to considerable discussion. After an amendment striking out an extra clerk for the disbursing office of the house, the resolution was adopted.

The house went into committee of the whole to consider the joint resolution authorizing the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the personnel of the navy. The status of the personnel, as brought over from yesterday, is the securing of a quorum and this was again undertaken.

The vote by tellers resulted: Yeas, 130; nays, 8. The clerk was directed to call the roll to secure a quorum. But 210 members answered to their names, not constituting a quorum. The morning hour having expired the bankruptcy bill was taken up. Mr. Bailey speaking against it.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The senate has passed the senate bill to reimburse Nebraska for expenses incurred in the Sioux outbreak of 1891; also a resolution permitting the use of the monument grounds for the Pythian convalescent hospital for the purpose of amending the railroad land forfeiture act.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW.

The Prospects are Not What are Called Cheering.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 7.—The Iron Trade Review says today: "The opening week of what is, after January, the dulllest month in the year in the iron market, brings prospects that are far from cheering. So many untoward influences are hanging over the market—the tariff reform threat which has now taken definite shape being foremost of all—that attempts to put a spirit into the trade are not successful."

Gave $5000 Damages.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—The verdict in the case of Abagnate against the city was opened this morning. The jury gives the plaintiff $5000. The original claim was for $30,000, but the charge of the judge reduced the amount to be claimed to $10,000. There are six more cases, in most of which the same points are raised.

Woolen Mills Resume.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 7.—The Henderson Woolen mills have resumed operation, and are expected to run at full time the rest of the season. About 200 people are given employment.

Steel Works to Close.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 7.—It is learned from a semi-official source that the Pennsylvania Steel works at Steelton, giving work to about 3400 men, will close down from Christmas until February and perhaps longer.

THE AMERICA DISABLED.

The Brazilian Cruiser Forced to go to Barbadoes for Repairs.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The Herald says: The Brazilian cruiser America, which sailed from New York for Rio Janeiro on the night of Nov. 26, for the purpose of fighting the rebel Admiral Mello's warships, so seriously disabled by the act of an unknown traitor among her crew that she will probably be unable to continue her voyage for several weeks.

A cable message was received by Flint & Co., from the West Indies late yesterday afternoon, announcing that one of the vessel's valves, among the most vulnerable parts of a ship's machinery, had been purposely broken by some unknown member of the crew and that the vessel had thereby been so seriously injured that a long delay must occur before she could continue her voyage.

In view of the latter fact, it was announced in the cablegram that the cruiser America, which St. Thomas with the America for Rio Janeiro last Sunday night, had continued the voyage alone. The traitor, it is said, did his work last Monday.

The indications are said to point most strongly to the traitor being in the engine division, as a person who does not understand machinery would not know which particular part to attack to produce the results obtained in this instance.

A GIRL'S AWFUL EXPERIENCE.

Kept a Prisoner and Subjected to Terrible Abuse.

NEW BRITAIN, Pa., Dec. 7.—Two weeks ago Miss Ida Fay, the pretty 18-year old daughter of Henry Fay, a well-to-do farmer, residing near East Palestine, tiring of country life, came here to seek employment as a seamstress. Not finding employment here she went to Beaver Falls, where she suddenly disappeared and nothing had been seen or heard of her until yesterday, when the girl's rural lover made inquiries concerning her at police headquarters.

A search was instituted. At a late hour the girl was found in a half-furnished room in the tenanted Merchants hotel, which was supposed to be deserted. Ida Fay had been had to be carried from the building.

When able to speak, she related a terrible story of the fiendish indignities and abuse to which she had been subjected at the hands of a gang of young hoodlums, who held her a prisoner. The police were engaged in the outrage, and there is trouble in store for the members of the gang.

CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING.

Mines in the Michigan Ranges are Resuming Operations.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Dec. 7.—Michigan's visiting relief committee covered three important towns yesterday and discovered nothing that will add anything to the burdens of the charitable of the lower peninsula.

Incidentally many things were learned that indicate an improvement in the mining situation. In Ishpeming, which daily employs 1500 people, has started up with 700 miners. Other mines are also making preparations to resume.

In Ishpeming and Negaunee the local authorities as they will be able to provide for their poor until conditions improve. In Calumet, Houghton and Hancock and throughout the copper region there is plenty of work and no suffering.

BURNED TO THE GROUND.

Southern Female University Destroyed and a Girl Fatally Injured.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 7.—The Southern Female university was burned to the ground last night. The structure was a wooden frame, and the fire burned so rapidly the occupants were saved with great difficulty, being hurried from their beds out to the street in night clothes.

The casualties were: Miss Minnie Dean, of Warrior, Ala., fatally burned; Virginia West, a servant, badly burned and arm broken by jumping from a window; J. B. Robbins, badly burned; James Foster, badly burned.

The origin of the fire cannot be learned, but it is thought it originated from a defective flue. The loss is estimated at $60,000. Misses E. and C. Jones were proprietors of the university.

Minnie Dean, who ran into the burning building to save her jewelry, received injuries from which she died this morning. The two servants who were badly burned will recover.

A Republican Candidate.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—Ex-Minister to Brazil Robert Adams, Jr., will probably be nominated tomorrow to the Republican convention of the Second congressional district to succeed the late Charles O'Neill. The selection of Mr. Adams was made yesterday by Republican leaders, and it was understood that their action was based upon a promise previously made to Mr. Adams by United States Senator Quay.

Car Company Resumes.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Dec. 7.—The Haskell and Barker Car company, which shut down last August, resumed operations this morning. This company employs 3000 men. About half that number have been employed. As soon as the present depression in the trade lifts, the force will be increased.

A Brakeman Murdered.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 7.—Last night in a quarrel over religious matters, Michael Horen, of Logansport, Ind., was shot and almost instantly killed by Edward Rudesdel. The former was a brakeman and the latter an engineer in the employ of the Monon road.

Judge Terhune Dead.

VIRGOVA, Wis., Dec. 7.—Judge William F. Terhune was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. He felt ill Tuesday evening and before retiring his wife administered a light remedy.

Will Sue for Divorce.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—In an interview today Mrs. Charles Coghlin, the first, said that she will sue for a divorce, Kuehne Beveridge, the actor's second wife, is to be named as co-respondent.

EXPIATED HIS CRIME

Benjamin Tennis Was Hanged For Murder in the Jail at Harrisburg, Pa., This Morning.

Last September He Criminally Assaulted and Murdered a Little Girl Named Agnes Cooper Wright.

His Arrest Created a Great Sensation, But He Confessed and Was Sentenced to Death.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 7.—Benjamin Tennis was hanged in the jail here this morning for the murder of little Agnes Wright near Hummelstown on Sept. 19 last. The drop fell at 11:30. After hanging twenty-three minutes the body was cut down.

The crime for which Tennis was hanged was the brutal murder on Sept. 19 last of Agnes Cooper Wright, the 9-year-old daughter of an employe of the Hummelstown Brownstone company. The Wrights live in a rather sparsely settled section about two miles from Hummelstown. On the morning of the above mentioned date the child left her home for school at about 7:15 o'clock. The school is almost two miles distant and the road was skirted by dense undergrowth and trees.

The girl not returning in the evening, a search was instituted and resulted in the finding of her body in the thicket about twenty-five yards from the road and less than a quarter of a mile from the house. She had been outraged and murdered, pieces of her clothing having been used to strangle her to death. The child's manner and school books were scattered about indicating a struggle before the innocent child was overcome.

No trace could be obtained at the time as to the identity of the fiendish murderer. A week later, however, detectives arrested Benjamin Tennis, a neighbor, on suspicion. Great excitement was occasioned by the arrest and threats of lynching were openly made. Tennis was at once taken to Harrisburg and on being placed in jail confessed.

On the following day he was arraigned in court and pleaded guilty and was sentenced to be hanged. Tennis was a widower and leaves seven children.

This Coupon counts for three votes if sent to The Herald office on or before Dec. 8.

DECEMBER'S DELUSIONS!

To begin with, the very name is misleading; it is not the tenth month, as it's name would imply, but the twelfth. That's because the year used to begin with the vernal equinox in March; but times have changed since then in more respects than one. The most deadly delusion of all, however, is the impression some people have that they can put off buying heavy goods until after Christmas. To persist in that idea is to make ready for spending that same holiday under the cypress. Too grave for amusement, isn't it?

HE WAS NOT MURDERED

The Mysterious Disappearance of Rev. E. F. Clifton, Which Shocked the People of St. Louis, Explained.

He Was Not Faultily Dealt With by Offended Catholics as Some People Wrongly Imagined.

A Deserted Wife Had Located Him and Threatened to Expose Him and He Fleed.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—The Rev. E. F. Clifton, whose mysterious disappearance in 1887, while a member of the Broadway mission, shocked the people of St. Louis and neighboring points in Illinois, has been located. Clifton was a member of the Broadway mission here and a great favorite. His bitter attacks on Catholicism and the immoral practices he alleged were carried on in convents aroused the ire of Father Phelan, and a bitter controversy arose between the two. It was brought to a sudden stop in November, 1887, by the sudden disappearance of Mr. Clifton.

Great excitement was caused among the Protestants and it was implicitly believed that he was foully dealt with by the Rev. John Comfort, of this city. The controversy between Clifton and the Rev. Phelan attracted the attention of Clifton's wife, whom it is said, he had abandoned in the East, through clippings in Eastern papers, and she readily recognized the Rev. E. F. Clifton as none other than her husband. Edward Clifton Lee, she wrote him that she had located and would shortly take steps to expose him. Clifton saw his predicament and at once decamped. Lee is said to be a relative of Gen. Robert E. Lee. The alias he assumed, Clifton, is the name of his mother's family, one of the best known families in Virginia.

BOTH SEVERELY WOUNDED.
Row Between Two Young Officers and a Civilian in Germany.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Two lieutenants in Schrodia Posen refused recently to serve upon a local committee because the third member, Herr Gregor, was a civilian.

Gregor challenged both officers to fight. They declined his challenges on the ground that he was not a gentleman and hence incapable of giving satisfaction on the field of honor.

Tuesday Gregor met one of the officers for the first time since his challenge was refused, and at once boxed the young man's ears. The lieutenant drew his revolver and answered with three shots. Both men were wounded severely.

"LARRY" NEAL IS ROSE.
He Says the Administration is Responsible for His Defeat.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—Lawrence Neal, the late Democratic candidate for governor, in an interview declares that the administration was directly responsible for his defeat. Ninety-five per cent of the changes to the Republican ranks was due to its action on the pensions.

The principal cause of the large stay-at-home vote in the Democratic party was the general dissatisfaction and disgust with the action of President Cleveland and his administration in retaining Republicans in office and keeping Democrats out. He says the president's timidity in his message awakens suspicions as to his message as a tariff reformer.

Sailed for Europe.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—James J. Van Allen, who was appointed minister to Italy but declined to accept the appointment, sailed for Europe yesterday on the Majestic. His name was not on the passengers' list, and it is said few of his friends knew of his intention to sail.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. No force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to their health. The electro-magnetic force, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nervous system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the electrical nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels, the pneumatic force, while the numerous fine branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the same consequently weaken.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organs as if they were the cause of the trouble. The most specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., L. D., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning the human body are his. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the universal brain and nerve tonic, restores the nerve force, and thus restores the health of the entire system. Its wonderful success in curing nervousness is testified to by thousands in every part of the land. Restorative Nerve cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, headache, and all debility. St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc., is free from quinine or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medicine Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

MASQUERADED AS A MAN.

Escapade of a Missouri Girl Who Took Morphine When Found.

St. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 7.—Early yesterday morning the Burlington railroad agent at Ford City, twenty miles east of this city, saw what he took to be a young man climbing into an empty box car standing on the sidetrack. Something unusual in the manner in which the person climbed into the car attracted his attention and he made an investigation and ended by arresting the party, who is said to be Miss Edna Idol, one of the most prominent young society ladies of Union Star, a village twelve miles away.

The young lady had clipped her hair close to her head, was dressed in a suit of her brother's clothing and had a valise full of men's clothing.

The agent telegraphed to the girl's father, a business man of Union Star. When the girl saw him approaching, she swallowed the contents of a bottle of morphine and is in a dying condition. No cause is assigned for her strange actions.

AN UNACCOUNTABLE MISHAP.
An Engine Crashed Into Three Others on a Straight Track.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 7.—Another wreck took place on the Wyoming division of the Lehigh Valley at Port Bowley yesterday morning. Engine 346 was going west with a train of freight cars and crashed into three engines that were standing coupled together near the Port Bowley depot. The front part of Engine 346 was badly smashed and one of the cylinders was sent flying through the waiting room of the depot.

Ten of the freight cars were wrecked and three engines were badly damaged. There is a straight piece of track for more than a mile on which the accident occurred, and no one can account for the action of the engine on 346 in stopping his train to avoid the collision.

TO TAX CHURCH PROPERTY.
A Movement Started by the Ministers of the Christian Church.

St. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—A movement has been started by the ministers of the Christian church in this city looking to the taxation of church property. A bill will be prepared at a conference Monday next and it will be introduced in the state legislature.

Rev. J. B. Pinkerton, editor of the Christian Evangelist, said yesterday: "We consider it altogether wrong that millions of dollars worth of property should be allowed to lie idle while the state draws revenue from it. In St. Louis alone one denomination has millions of dollars worth of such property, which they are holding at no expense whatever for the purpose of realizing higher prices for it."

THE SCHEME HAS FAILED.
The Idea of Restoring the Hawaiian Monarchy Abandoned.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—A special to the Evening Post from Washington says: Secretary Gresham is quoted by a responsible man as having stated that the administration has already sufficient information from Minister Willis to satisfy it that the purpose to put the queen on the throne has failed.

The reason for the failure is said to be that the queen was not willing to accept the services of the United States in the way offered. It is understood that the president will voluntarily send to congress as speedily as possible all the correspondence on the subject.

Founding a New Church.
PARIS, Dec. 7.—Pere Hyacinthe, lecturing in this city in support of the movement to establish a Christian apostolic church, states that the new church will not be hostile to existing churches. He declares that, according to church statistics, 30,000,000 out of the 38,000,000 French Catholics do not receive the sacrament at Easter and are, consequently, excommunicated. Pere Hyacinthe attributes the public indifference to the narrow views expounded by ministers.

An Anti-Option Measure.
BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The discussion of the proposal to tax house transactions was continued in the reichstag yesterday. Herr Singer, Social Democrat, opposed the scheme because his party objected to the military bill expenses incurred covering. He objected to all the other proposed new taxes.

Working on Full Time.
FORT WAYNE, Ind., Dec. 7.—The Foster Shirt and Waist factory, employing 200 hands, yesterday commenced working full force on full time. Mr. Foster states that this force will be kept employed all winter. The Olds Wagon works yesterday took back 175 men, who have been laid off for some time on account of the hard times.

Arrested for Murder.
DENVER, Dec. 7.—Thomas Chase, Herman Chase, brothers, and Freeman Chase, a cousin, arrested on the charge of murdering Asa Dean, the aged postmaster at Lansing, Col., were brought here yesterday and lodged in the county jail. The evidence is quite strong against them.

A Farmer Shot Dead.
IOWA FALLS, Ia., Dec. 7.—John Kersey, a farmer living near here, went out to the well Tuesday evening late and was shot dead. Eighty dollars which he had in his pocket was taken. There is no clue to the assassins.

Robbed His Partner.
IOWA FALLS, Ia., Dec. 7.—Dr. McGreggor, of the firm of Wood & McGreggor, proprietors of a salivarium, and who had charge of the local business while Wood remained in Chicago, has absconded, taking about $500 in money belonging to Wood.

Nobody Was Hurt.
PARIS, Dec. 7.—A dynamite cartridge exploded Tuesday night in the Place de la Revolution, at Alsace, department of Gard. Some slight damage was done the buildings close to where the explosion occurred, but nobody was hurt.

A Bark Abandoned.
LONDON, Dec. 7.—The British bark Colingdale, Capt. Shaw, from Paspheira for Brazil, caught fire at sea and was abandoned. Her crew have arrived at Pernambuco.

HERE'S A BIG SCHEME

The Plan Arranged by the Convention at Topeka For the Building of the North & South Railroad.

To Traverse North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, With Several Branches.

The Board of Directors, Which Includes Kittel Halvorsen, Will Raise Thirty-Eight Million Dollars.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 7.—The gulf and interstate railroad convention was occupied yesterday in the consideration of plans for putting the North & South scheme in motion and for raising funds with which to construct the road. The plan, as adopted at noon, contemplates a road from the British possessions to the gulf, traversing the states of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, with branches reaching to Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota.

It requires a board of provisional directors, one from each of the ten states, whose duty it will be to secure charters, push legislation, secure capital, make surveys, accumulate chattels, and build and operate parts of the road. It provides that when five states have authorized the project, the railroad commissioners of the several states to be held forever in trust for the people or until the general government may buy the road at actual cost.

The directors will be expected to arrange for the construction of 250 miles of road in the immediate future, to cost $38,000,000. The entire cost, it is estimated, will be saved to shippers by reduced rates annually. The money with which to carry on the work will be raised by issuing a 4 per cent construction bond in denominations of $5 each and multiples thereof, payable at the option of the road and receivable for all kinds of traffic. Forty year 4 per cent first mortgage bonds will also be issued, to be taken by the several states and purchased from the school funds.

The provisional directors appointed are Lieutenant Governor Ed Wallace, of North Dakota; Lieutenant Governor E. C. Harwell, of South Dakota; C. J. Randall, of Nebraska; F. J. Close, of Kansas; S. J. Clarke, of Oklahoma; W. S. Kimpton, of Texas; K. Halvorsen, of Minnesota; Governor Larrabee, of Iowa; H. M. Dake, of Missouri; L. P. Featherstone, of Arkansas; E. S. Stoddard, of Omaha, director-at-large and chairman of the board. The convention adjourned without date at 3 o'clock.

THE NAUGHT GIRLS FINED.
They Wanted to Do the Dance du Ventre Before the Court.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The three dancers from the "Streets of Cairo," whose performance was stopped on the ground of impropriety by Inspector Williams, were arraigned in court yesterday and fined $50 each upon the evidence of the police.

The dancers were willing to do the dance du ventre before the court, but the judge did not care to see it. The dancers paid their fines but will appeal from the decision.

Decrease in Receipts.
TORONTO, Dec. 7.—A special cable from London says the Grand Trunk railway's receipts for the last week show a total decrease of $14,121. The causes given are the Lehigh Valley strike, dullness arising from bad roads and the uncertainty of tariff development.

FOUR PEOPLE POISONED.

A Murder Case of Great Interest Being Tried in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—A case which rivals in interest the late Eorden mystery is now being tried in the criminal court here. Last summer Frank Koesters, Mrs. Clara Koesters, Marie Koesters and Charles Koesters, an infant, died suddenly, within the space of a few months, at their home in this city.

The symptoms attending their death were of a most violent type, suggestive of poisoning, and Charles Koesters, the husband and father, began an investigation, with the assistance of the coroner, which culminated in the arrest of Annie Wagner, a domestic in the employ of the Koesters family. The only motive which could be assigned for the deed was a strange infatuation which the girl had for Charles Koesters. She determined to become his mistress and, it is alleged, poisoned the whole family in order that she might accomplish her purpose.

Charles Koesters, the first witness, was put on the stand yesterday. He related the story of the deaths and dwell upon the actions of the girl toward him. She was always at his command and would do many things for him, the performance of which properly belonged to other members of the family. On every possible occasion she displayed a desire to be in his company.

Once he said, when his friends were expressing their sympathy for him in his bereavement, he remarked: "Well, my daughter Marie is still left. Death has not taken her away, and she will soon be big enough to assume the duties of my household and comfort me."

"You want a woman," broke in the alleged murderer, "these American girls can't be trusted and are too fond of running around."

The father then declared that the daughter should have the dead mother's place, and in one week the child died with symptoms of arsenic poisoning. The case against her is very strong, as a neighboring druggist will testify that the accused bought "rough on rats" from him. He knew the girl personally and cannot be mistaken, he says, in her identity.

A "REVEREND" SWINDLER.
He is Now on Trial in Tennessee for the Second Time.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 7.—The second trial of Rev. Frederick Howard, alias William Lord Moore, was begun in the federal court at Jackson, Tenn., yesterday. The first attempt at a trial ended two weeks ago in a disagreement.

The witnesses that came from London have remained over, and other English witnesses are now on their way to this country. Howard, who was a prominent Baptist minister of Jackson, is said to be identical with William Lord Moore, of London, who conducted a fraudulent legacy business inducing people in this country to pay him fees, per centages and fees for them in England that never existed.

QUARTER OF A MILLION LOSS.
A Serious Fire in the Navy Yard at Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 7.—Fire was discovered in the building No. 15, containing the steam engineering and general stores at the navy yard yesterday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is thought to have been due to a defective flue.

It started on the second floor where a lot of waste was stored. The building, 75 by 250 feet and two stories high, was entirely destroyed with its contents. The loss will probably reach $250,000.

THE BRIDGE MATTER

County Commissioners' Idea is to Get the Franchise From Congress and Confer it Themselves.

This, They Believe, Would Enable the Two Counties to Secure the Most Favorable Terms.

James Bardon and Hiram Hayes Addressed the Commissioners in Opposition to County Building.

The full board of county commissioners met with a delegation from the board of supervisors of Douglas county, Wis., composed of Messrs. A. D. McDonald, John A. Haug, F. L. Wilcox and W. J. Gomers. The resolution passed by the Superior men was first read and then Chairman Bardon asked the sense of the meeting upon the subject and it was unanimously endorsed.

Commissioner Miller inquired if the revenue derived from railroads and street cars would be sufficient to pay the interest on the cost of the proposed bridge and from the information at hand it appeared that it would be ample.

F. L. Wilcox, of Douglas county, said that the introduction of the resolution was simply a preliminary to facilitate discussion upon the matter and that if St. Louis county considered it an advisable project, then legal advice could be taken to see if the scheme of the two counties joining hands to build a bridge was lawful and practicable.

Commissioner Poirier then recounted what had taken place at the meeting of Monday afternoon and stated that in his opinion if the two counties could obtain a bridge franchise, they would find no difficulty in finding some company which would build a bridge upon favorable terms. A. D. McDonald, of Douglas county, expressed upon the meeting the necessity of getting to work at once and pointed out the dangers of delay.

Commissioner Poirier then suggested that telegrams be sent to Congressmen Baldwin and Haugen asking them to suspend all action upon bridge bills.

The chairman suggested that a committee be appointed to confer with the Douglas county committee, and if necessary to obtain legal advice. Mr. McDonald said that a free bridge was a necessity. He said: "This city of 100,000 people, divided into two parts, cannot afford to be cut in two parts, and besides, a bridge free to pedestrians and vehicles will do more to promote harmony and good fellowship between the people of Duluth and Superior."

On motion of Commissioner Miller, the chairman appointed the full board a committee and the following was resolved:

"Resolved that a telegraphic message be immediately sent by the chairman to Hon. W. K. Baldwin requesting him, if possible, to cause legislation to delay action upon all bills relating to a bridge franchise between the cities of West Superior and Duluth."

The following telegram was then sent by the chairman to Maj. Baldwin: "The board of county commissioners of St. Louis county have passed a resolution requesting you to delay legislation on bridge franchise between West Superior and Duluth. Answer."

After some more desultory conversation the meeting broke up.

S. A. Thompson appeared before the board and made some remarks which tallied with the ideas of Commissioner Poirier.

Col. Hiram Hayes and James Bardon came over from Superior but did not arrive until after the action had been taken. They did not believe the idea of the commissioners to be feasible and Col. Hayes addressed the commissioners on the legal aspect of the matter.

The Wisconsin state law, he said, does not permit any county or city to own or operate a railroad, and the railroad part of the proposed bridge must be considered as a railroad. The only way it could be done is to organize a company, and then the county could sell no bonds to aid the project until the whole bridge would be complete and in operation.

Furthermore, a provision in Wisconsin law requires any company building a railroad bridge across St. Louis bay or river to build tracks, establish depots, and passenger and freight cars, and to give Superior the same rates that any point in St. Louis county, Minnesota, should receive.

Col. Hayes also presented several features which he claimed must be considered and responsibilities which can better be borne by corporations than by counties. The draws and lights must be attended to, the constant repairing and then there is the liability for damages. He also claimed that while Douglas county is supposed to be practically free from debt, it is not because the city comprises four-fifths of the county and is heavily burdened.

Mr. Bardon also spoke in the same vein and thought the best way to do it is to let some company build it, the counties looking to the best possible conditions for purchase.

The routine work of the board was then taken up. Forty-nine inmates are reported from the poor farm. The county physician reported thirty-nine cases in the hospital on Nov. 30. During the month he made sixty-nine visits and investigated forty-two cases. Superintendent Clark received 335 applications for county aid and expended $2,600.

An adjournment was then taken until 9 o'clock this morning.

At the session of the board this morning nothing but routine business was transacted. The superintendent of county roads reported $18,327.88 as expended the past year. The principal roads improved were as follows: Mesaba road from Mountain Iron to Virginia and Merritt to McKinley, $3,767.47; Midway road, $14,560.50; Floodwood road, $1,580.75; LaVogue road, $100.00; East Duluth and Lester River road, $1,375.71; Rice Lake road, $1,400.00; Ely and Selkwood road, $2,177.12; Mountain Iron and Hibbing road, $2,136.72.

DEATH WAS THWARTED

Mrs. Ethel Whitman, Alias Sherry, Tried to Carry Out Her Threat of Committing Suicide.

She Took Fifteen Grains of Morphine in St. Paul, But a Physician Saved Her Life.

Wrote a Note to Dr. Smith of People's Church, Saying She Was Tired of Living.

Ethel H. Whitman, after writing to Mrs. Sherry in Duluth, as published in Saturday's Herald, made an attempt Monday to kill herself in St. Paul by swallowing fifteen grains of morphine.

Whitman, who is known as Mrs. Ethel Sherry, reached St. Paul last Thursday and went directly to the European hotel, 150 East Fourth street, conducted by F. W. Smith. She engaged a room at the hotel and bought her meals at the Temperance restaurant on the ground floor of the building.

Friday and Saturday of the building. She remained in her room nearly all day. She said nothing about herself further than that she came from Duluth and intended to remain in St. Paul but a few days.

Saturday afternoon she spent in writing, and Saturday night she inquired of Mr. Smith the location of a drug store, saying she was suffering from a severe headache, and desired something to relieve the pain. Mr. Smith directed the young woman to a drug store on Jackson street, and she returned about 6 o'clock in the evening. Sunday she did not leave her room for dinner, and when one of the servants opened the door to her room the young woman was sitting weeping at a table on which was spread a number of letters.

Monday morning at 8 o'clock a servant girl found the door locked to the young woman's room, and, supposing Mrs. Whitman was asleep, did not attempt to awaken her. At noon the door was still locked, and the matter was reported to Mr. Smith, who, fearing that something was wrong, forced an entrance to the room. Lying on the bed was the unconscious body of Mrs. Whitman, and on the table at her side was a sealed letter addressed to Dr. Smith of the People's church, and a box labeled "morphine."

Mr. Smith ascertained that there was a feeble pulsation at the throat, and at heart, and he at once summoned Dr. Edgar Snyder.

When the physician arrived he saw that it was an urgent case, and for two hours he labored over the young woman, whose life was hanging in the balance. Finally, the physician's skill, aided by the girl's excellent constitution, prevailed over death and she revived sufficiently to warrant hopes of her recovery.

Through the night she rallied, and at day morning Dr. Snyder pronounced her out of danger. The letter addressed to Dr. Smith was found. In it she stated that she had become tired of life and wanted to die. She implored the preacher to pray for her.

"I have lost my home," the letter ran, "and those for whom I care, so I am about to end my existence. I have led such a miserable existence during the past six months and I am tired of it all. I am tired of life and all its bitterness. God forgive me for what I am about to do. But when you read this letter, after I am no more, you may at least be able to pity me. I am so lonely. It is awful to die alone away from everybody I hold dear, but I don't want to live."

After the young woman had recovered sufficiently Rev. Dr. Smith counseled her on the weakness of her terrible action, and secured from her a promise that she would not again in the future make an attempt on her own life.

BROWN-JAMISON.

Marriage of Two Well-Known Young People Last Evening.

A charming wedding took place last evening, when at 8:30 p. m. Miss Fannie P. Brown was wedded to Arthur C. Jamison, by the Rev. A. W. Hester.

The bride was attired in an elegant costume of brocade white with a train, and a satin sash, cut in train, and heavily trimmed with crystals and point applique.

Miss Alice Hester, who wore a dress of yellow silk, in train, was maid of honor. Misses Lily Brown, Florence Moore and Miss Alice Hester were bridesmaids.

The presents were numerous, and the ceremony was performed in a room prettily decorated with exotic plants and evergreens. After the marriage service was concluded the company, about thirty-five in number, sat down to a wedding supper.

The newly wedded couple left on the night train for Minneapolis from whence, after a short visit, they will go East for a few weeks. Both the bride and bridegroom are social favorites and take with them in their start in life the best wishes of all their friends.

Able to Pay.

The complaint filed yesterday by Charles Scheer against the Duluth Dry Goods company in a suit to recover $2,553.75 is misleading as it gives the impression that the company is being sued for refusal or failure to pay an account.

Attorney Davis, of Draper, Davis & Hollister, who represent the plaintiff corrects this. He says:

"The fact is that the claim was not due until the day before yesterday was brought, but that about two months ago a suit was commenced between other parties, in which the Duluth Dry Goods company was garnished and thereby prevented from paying this claim when it was due, unless it took the risk of paying it."

The action in which the garnishment proceeding was had is still pending, and in none of these proceedings is the ability of the Duluth Dry Goods company to pay its debts in question; but the last suit is simply the result of a contest between two Eastern wholesale houses as to which shall receive this money from the dry goods company."

When Nargarkar, the exponent of ad-

in India was in Duluth he lectured to a crowded house. Much interest was aroused in the philosophy, religion and social conditions of India and since then Rev. J. M. Thoburn has even made those matters the subjects of several lectures and discourses.

The admirers of Indian philosophy and literature have neglected for Nargarkar's return. He will come some Saturday this month and deliver a lecture on modern philosophy and the social condition of India, with special reference to the women of that country. He will remain over Sabbath and on the succeeding Monday will probably appear before the Unity club where it is hoped that it will be possible to bring him into controversial contact with Rev. Mr. Thoburn, pastor of the First M. E. church.

York and for that reason alone they had decided to reside there this winter. Col.
Graves will probably not return before the spring unless summoned home on

LOST HIS INSURANCE

Max Shapiro Knocked Out on His Cases
Against the Two Fire Insurance Companies.

Proof of Loss Was Not Made Within Sixty Days as Required by the Policies.

Interesting Suit Concerning a Simon Clark
& Co. Claim on Trial Today Before Judge Lewis.

Max Shapiro was knocked out on his insurance case in the district court yesterday afternoon. The case against the St. Paul Fire and Marine company involving $2000 was the one on trial but it was stipulated that the same verdict should apply to the case against the Hartford Fire Insurance company involving $500. The company set up the defense that proof of loss was not made within sixty days
as required. The plaintiff claimed that he had been told by C. Namara, the local agent at Tower, to delay making proof until the adjuster who was expected would arrive and that it would be all right even if the time did expire.
The company denied Mr. McNamara's authority to waive the sixty days limit.
After the testimony was all in Judge Lewis instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

The companies won on the technicality,
but if the case had gone to the jury, a verdict for the plaintiff would probably have been returned. When the foreman was signing the verdict, one of the jurymen spoke up and said: "If I was foreman I wouldn't sign that verdict."

"Well," said Judge Lewis with a laugh, "what would you do about it?"
R. F. Fitzgerald, assignee, vs. J. J.
Murphy is on trial today. The plaintiff claims that Simon Clark & Co. paid $1500 on a real estate deal for the plaintiff, a non-resident, at his request, and that he was to be reimbursed, but that he afterward repudiated the debt. The defendant claims that he never authorized the firm to pay the amount.

The personal injury damage case of A.
H. Schlett vs. Paist Brewing company was being argued at noon today. A motion to dismiss was denied.
Judgment for plaintiff by stipulation
has been entered in John Beckfelt vs.
Birmingham Iron company et al., and Elston & Britts vs. Hugh Janeway et al.

The Court Filings.
Walter Turle has instituted an action
to recover from S. G. Wightman, R. C. and Lizzie M. Brophy and W. P. Strickland the sum of $2814.43 on promissory notes. McArthur & Getchell and Clarkson & Co. have been garnished as having in their possession money due Lizzie
M. Brophy.

Charles E. Hasey has sued C. C. Merritt et al on a promissory note of $1000 given to A. C. Jamison and by him sold to the plaintiff.

Other papers filed today with Clerk
Sinclair were as follows:
Transcript of judgment for $109.35 in favor of Pratt & Lambert against Anton Ringled.

Affidavit of mailing of notices of order limiting time to prove claims in the matter of the assignment of Charles S. Eppling.

Proof of service of notice of application for guardian ad litem in case of Charles H. Davis vs. Frank Clough, et al.

The Municipal Court.
In police court this morning the grist was ground out by Judge White owing to the illness of Judge Powell. Gust Olson pleaded guilty to three charges of petit larceny. He was committed thirty days on one charge and sentence in the two other cases was deferred. Alfred Olson went up ten days for misappropriating money in his possession. Jacob Johnson, and Joe Muff, up for intoxication, were given suspensions of sentences. John Hanson, charged with assault, convinced the judge that he was not the man wanted, so was released.

General Manager Philbin Married.
D. M. Philbin, general manager of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, was married on Tuesday at Marquette,
the bride being Miss Volk, of Marquette.
The wedding was a quiet one and very

Arthur C. Jamison and Emma P. Brown.

S. F. Boyce was advised yesterday of the death of his brother, John Boyce, at Wellsville, Ohio.

A jury in the municipal court yesterday awarded the city a judgment of $80 against the St. Paul & Duluth railroad for hose cut by its engines while the lines were stretched across the tracks.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church gave a New England supper, social and fair last night. One hundred and seventy-five people were served in the diningroom. At home, dolls, home made candy and fancy and useful articles were sold.

The examination of James and Richard Roe, the two fellows arrested Saturday night and in whose shack a lot of goods stolen from a St. Paul & Duluth car were found was docketed for this afternoon. A charge of burglary and grand larceny rests against both men.

A burning chimney at Fourth street and Fifteenth avenue east called out the fire department this morning, but no damage resulted and the services of the apparatus were not needed.

A shorthand class was opened last evening at the Commercial High school in connection with the night school. Owing to the fact that no announcement of the commencement was made the attendance was small. All who have signified a desire to join this class will do well to report at once for lessons.

The Estey W. C. T. U. will hold a

at Forest Hill.

William Dunn, of Chicago, owner of the burned warehouses is expected tomorrow in Chicago. The insurance companies are going about with the appraisal of the loss but have not as yet admitted their liability. The sugar in the ship warehouse is about half free from damage.

Donations of All Kinds to the New Maternity Hospital Are Needed.

Thomas Clark, superintendent of the poor, this morning in conversation with a Herald reporter said: "I wish you would speak a word in behalf of the needs of the Maternity hospital which has been instituted by the Women's and Children's Relief society. This home is located at the corner of Jefferson street and Seventeenth avenue and already has accomplished much good. The management is not flush with means and everything that the public can do will be most acceptable as well as in a good cause. Donations of any sort will be in order. There may be some business men who can donate beds. There cannot be too much said in behalf of the Maternity hospital and there is no danger that more than necessary will be done in its behalf, so no one need hesitate about giving."

Interesting and Entertaining Gossip at Hotels and Other Places.

"Minnesota grows the best potatoes in the world, I believe," said a drummer, yesterday. "Down at St. Louis and many of the principal river towns,
'Northfield' potatoes are a regular item on the hotel and restaurant menus. The light sandy soil of Pine county seems to be peculiarly adapted to growing the tubers, and it seems to me that potatoes could be made to pay big money almost anywhere between here and St. Paul."

A railroad contractor was settling with one of his sub-contractors yesterday week,
and did not find the sub's pay roll to his liking. "Why, man," said he, "have you no conscience?"

"The best in the world," was the unexpected reply.
"How's that?"

"Because it is bran new and has never been used," replied the sub-contractor with a grin.

"I know the place well where the ship
Jason went ashore yesterday," said Capt.
Ray T. Lewis. "I am as familiar with that coast as I am with Superior street,
and when a ship gets the Cape Cod code under her lee in a heavy gale she is in a bad place. Many of my friends have been drowned near the same spot,
and I can remember I came along there I always gave the land a wide berth. It is the most dangerous place in winter, in my opinion, on the whole of the North Atlantic coast. It was a very sad shipwreck."

Capt. Osborne said today: "While I have nothing personal against Ferryman Johnson, as a resident of Park Point I must say that I consider the ferry across the ship canal a very dangerous mode of transport. I am an old boatman, have handled all sorts of boats all my life, and I am often made very uneasy by the antics of the men who are entrusted with the ferries. They are generally inexperienced, very often speaking and understanding the English language imperfectly and for the most part perfectly ignorant of the meaning of the signals given by steamboats. A ferry-man over the canal should be licensed just as the pilot of a steamboat is licensed, to obtain a license he should have to pass an examination.
The other day when I was crossing I noticed the man was clumsy with his oars, and when questioned he told me that he was a bodicarryer and that three weeks before he had never had charge of a boat. After some terrible drowning accident, such as I have seen, has occurred, then I suppose that the city will give this matter proper attention."

G. A. Leland says: "I think that it is a mistake to imagine that the people of Douglas and St. Louis counties own any interest in the franchise for a bridge across navigable waters. The power of granting such a franchise is vested in congress, and I scarcely imagine that the scheme of these two counties owning and controlling a bridge between Rice's and Connor's Points can be carried out."

People's Bethel Hall.
The educational and patriotic lecture on Tuesday, Dec. 12, at the Bethel, "Our Christmas will be within reach of the general public. Panton & Watson will have their grand holiday opening at the Glass block store. Hoare's orchestra will give forth its most entrancing strains, an elaborate program having been arranged for the hours from 7 to 10 o'clock p. m.

There will be a grand electric display,
but the greatest display of all will be the complete and matchless stock of goods
in all the various departments.

Messrs. Panton & Watson have decided to charge an admission fee of 10 cents for adults and 5 cents for children.
The entire receipts of the evening will be donated to the Associated Charities.

SAID BY MELLO

The Commander of the Brazilian Rebel Fleet Talks of His Purpose and His Prospects.

Not His Intention to Restore the Monarchy, and Majority of Brazilians Opposed To It.

Hopes That the Conflict Will be Ended Within Ten Days in Some Decisive Way.

Does Not Fear a Fight With the Ships Peixoto Bought in the United States.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The Herald prints an interview with Admiral Mello, commanding the Brazilian rebel fleet. On Nov. 26 the Herald's correspondent was permitted to go aboard the Aquidaban, under the protection of Admiral Magnaghi, of the Italian fleet, and the rebel commander talked as follows:

"It never was my intention to restore the monarchy. The majority of Brazilians are opposed to it. My sole object is to rid Brazil of the military despotism which now threatens to prevail. Floriano Peixoto is a man of stubborn nature, greedy for power and money, cruel and revengeful.

"During the early days of the revolution I had hoped to receive aid from persons on shore. They deceived me, however, lured by the payment of immense sums from Peixoto. My aspirations are for the liberty of all the people and not for personal gain. These sentiments are shared by all my adherents.

"Salvador de Gama is on my side, and I hope within the coming week to receive valuable aid from Gen. Gummer, who is now in Rio de Janeiro, and from a Santa Catalina toward Parana. He is a valuable ally.

"I want to deny emphatically that the Aquidaban was sunk by shots from the fleet. The sinking was due to her springing a leak, caused by concussion resulting from the continuous firing of her heavy guns. Her gunners were unable to use the hydraulic loading gear, which had been disabled, and they were obliged to load by hand. I think the powder charges used two days before the sinking were too heavy. The Aquidaban had been leaking for the last two weeks. The pumps were constantly in use. The ship was old and was not well taken care of. No repairs have been made on her.

"I have the Aquidaban, Republica, Jupiter, Esperanza and other armed steamers, which are well fitted with guns. We have abundant charges aboard them to last several months, while there is no lack of fresh food received daily.

"My hope at present is that the conflict will be ended in ten days in some decisive way. Perhaps, in case of certain contingencies arising, I shall take the Aquidaban, which is able to steam eleven knots an hour, the Tamandare and seven other steamers and endeavor to force a passage of the bar."

The Herald's correspondent inspected the Aquidaban and says the only age she has thus far sustained has been to the upper light woodwork aft and to Mello's cabin, the woodwork of which was smashed by the shells from the Hotchkiss guns. Her officers and crew appear to be undaunted. The utmost discipline prevails among her men.

Before the correspondent left Admiral Mello added: "I feel that my comrades on the foreign naval ships sympathize with me. The action of foreign governments in permitting President Peixoto to buy ships is perfectly legitimate. I do not fear a fight with the ships which he has bought in the United States."

PROGRESS OF THE FIGHT.

Mello's Sailors Vainly Try to Effect a Landing.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The Times has this dispatch sent from Rio Janeiro on Dec. 3 and forwarded via Montevideo: Last Sunday the government troops occupied Mount Armaco, recently abandoned by the sailors. In the afternoon the government attempted to land men under cover of fire from the guns of the Trajano, Jupiter and Aquidaban. The troops maintained a heavy fire and the sailors retired with one killed and three wounded. On the same day the government forts directed a heavy artillery fire upon Fort Villegaignon, many shells bursting at San Joao and Fort Santa Cruz. Several also struck Fort Villegaignon, killing one and wounding two.

"On Monday 800 soldiers behind walls and houses again opposed the landing of men from the ships. The fire lasted an hour. The launches made several attempts to land men, but the heavy fire from the troops prevented. The sailors lost four killed and five wounded and the troops reported numerous casualties. The forts continued fire on the same day and the troops in front of Santa Luiza opened a rifle fire upon Fort Villegaignon, wounding one of them. The fort replied, killing and wounding about twenty. A shell from Fort Santa Cruz struck Fort Villegaignon, ricochetted over Colaba Island, three and a half miles off, and sank a naval training brig.

"On Tuesday the government suspended the Gazeta de Noticias, the only journal treating foreigners fairly, and the French newspaper Echo de Brasil. On the same evening launches again attempted to land men at Mt. Armaco, but were repulsed by the government troops. There were many casualties. On Wednesday the government took over the ship Aurora at Pernambuco and renamed her Gustavo Sampaio."

The correspondent describes the escape of the warship Aquidaban from the transport Esperanza from the harbor. He says that both have gone to Desterro to join the insurgent cruiser Republica and help her bring troops northward. "The government fears," he continues, "that Admiral Goncalves, now at Montevideo with the Tiradentes and Bahia, will join the insurgents. On Friday morning a steamer reported passing the Aquidaban and the Esperanza thirty miles southward. They signalled 'all well.' The officers of the foreign squadrons consider that the tactics of the Aquidaban were excellent and the execution splendid. The passing of the forts by the ships has created a strong feeling ashore in favor of the insurgents.

"Admiral Gama has assumed control of the insurgent fleet here. I have seen a draft copy of a manifesto saying that a victory of the insurgents is certain and calling upon the Brazilian nation to remedy by force of arms the mistake made in a moment of temporary madness in November, 1889. Gen. Peixoto, a strong monarchist commanding troops in the south of San Paulo, is reported to sympathize with the insurgents. The government is unable to find crews for its new ships. The state of siege here has been prolonged until Christmas."

VICTORY FOR THE ROAD.

The Strikers on the Lehigh Valley Road Were Beaten.

JERSEY CITY, Dec. 8.—The striking employees of the Lehigh Valley railroad accepted the terms offered by the company and applied for work yesterday.

About one-quarter of the men were given places and the names and addresses of the others who applied for work were taken.

All vacancies on the road will be filled at once, but none of the non-union men who were employed when told the old berths for strikers. There will be no discrimination against union men, but they will have no better chance than the non-union men who have stood by the company during the strike.

The strike has ended in a complete victory for the Lehigh Valley railroad and the men who were led to believe that they had won now admit their defeat.

CHICAGO POLICE AROUSED.

A Circular Calling for Ten Thousand Armed Men to Meet.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The police are using their best efforts to find the author of a mysterious circular which has been distributed about the city. The circular is a formidable document in its tone and calls for 10,000 men to meet on the lake front at daybreak, Dec. 12, fully armed.

The circular purports to have been sent by a farmer near Wheaton, Ill., and its object is a mystery. An officer has been dispatched to Wheaton to distance cover if possible the author of the document. The chief of police, while believing the circular to be the work of a crank, will have a number of officers ready at daybreak, Dec. 12, to see what is going on.

ORDERED A PALATIAL YACHT.

And now Charged With Larceny in a Disreputable House.

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—Howard W. Ream, the "New York banker," who ordered a palatial yacht from the Herreshoffs, of Bristol, without having the wherewithal to carry out his part of the contract, and who is said to be well and not favorably known in New York and Chicago and other large cities, is under arrest in this city charged with larceny from a person in a house of questionable repute.

Samples of tobin bronze, aluminum and plans of yachts were found among other things in his possession, and the prisoner admits that he is the man who negotiated with the Bristol yacht builders for a beautiful and costly pleasure boat.

GENEROUS MRS. GOULD.

Sent a Dry Goods Case of Garments For a Poor Family.

SEDALIA, Mo., Dec. 8.—When Mrs. George Gould, wife of the president of the Missouri Pacific railroad visited Sedalia a few weeks ago, in company with her husband, her attention was attracted to Henry Kunrede, an armless and one-legged ex-watchman, who was passing through the railway yards by the side of the Gould private car.

She presented him with a purse of money and promised to send him a box of clothing for himself and family. The box came Wednesday. It was as big as a dry goods case and was filled with substantial winter garments for the Kunrede family.

FOOTBALL IS PROFITABLE.

Princeton and Yale Will Divide Thirty Thousand Dollars.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 8.—The Yale Football association has issued an official statement regarding the proceeds of the Thanksgiving day game in New York. The statement shows that over $17,000 was taken in at the gates and from the sale of tickets.

The University Athletic club, of New York, is to get one-third and pay all expenses. This will leave over $15,000 each to the Yale and Princeton football associations, which is the largest amount ever realized by a football association in this country from any one game.

MAY CALL AN EXTRA SESSION.

Governor Rich's Efforts to Relieve the Distressed Miners.

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 8.—Governor Rich is thinking of calling a special session of the legislature to consider the matter of relief for the upper peninsula miners. It is estimated that $150,000 each to the Yale and Princeton football associations, which is the largest amount ever realized by a football association in this country from any one game.

TRIED TO SUICIDE.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Halliday, the murderess, attempted to commit suicide in her cell at noon yesterday. She hung herself, but was cut down in time to save her life.

SEVERE STORM RAGES

The West Coast of Great Britain Visited by a Storm That is Doing Great Damage.

A Vessel Sunk Off the Welsh Coast and Probably All on Board Went Down.

A Gale Blew in Dublin, Damaging Roofs and Chimneys and is Increasing in Severity.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A severe storm is prevailing on the west coast of Great Britain. At Greenock, Scotland, the quays are submerged by the extraordinary high tides. Several of the high-land steamers have been compelled to return to Greenock. All vessels arriving in the Clyde report having experienced terrible weather.

A vessel was seen in distress off the coast of Anglesea, Wales, early this morning. Before a life boat could be made ready to start to her assistance, she disappeared and it is feared she went down with all on board.

Dispatches from Dublin state that a gale blew there all night. Roofs were damaged and chimneys and signs were blown down into the streets. This morning the gale increased in severity.

The steamer Enterprise, of Folkestone, was wrecked while trying to enter the harbor at West Hartlepool. Her crew were taken off by means of the rocket apparatus.

THURIN INSURANCE CASE.

The Jury Out Over Twenty-four Hours and No Verdict Yet.

WAUSAU, Wis., Dec. 8.—The jury in the Thrun insurance swindling case has been out since 10 o'clock yesterday morning and is expected to come in soon. Defendants Follet and Hansen were surprised that it has not come in before with an acquittal for them.

On the night of Oct. 28, 1892, the house of F. J. Thrun, in Romeo, Wis., burned and it was stated that Thrun perished in the flames. Mrs. Thrun put in claims for $75,000 life insurance and the insurance companies began to investigate.

Thrun was caught in New Orleans some months later.

G. I. Follet, an attorney at Spencer, Wis., and Attorney Hansen, formerly of the claim department of the Wisconsin Central road, were held with Thrun being accused of conspiring with him and assisting him to disappear after the fire.

The life insurance was chiefly in $10,000 and $15,000 policies, the former being in the Northwestern of Milwaukee, the Mutual Life of New York, and the Equitable of Hartford, the latter amount being in the Equitable of New York.

Let the jury in the Thrun case found a verdict of acquittal this noon. The charge was conspiracy and this verdict also frees Thrun.

This Coupon counts for three votes if sent to The Herald office previous to Dec. 10.

WAS TERRIBLY BURNED.

A Young Hero Saves His Sister From Being Cremated.

PAINESVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 8.—A little 5-year-old daughter of L. H. Mosier was terribly burned at Fairport yesterday. During the temporary absence of the child's mother it got hold of a coal oil can and began pouring the contents upon the fire.

The flames burst out and set the girl's dress on fire. An 8-year-old brother, who was in the room, seized the screaming child in his arms and rushing out doors, rolled the little one in the snow until the flames were extinguished.

Every particle of clothing was burned off the little girl except her under wrapper. The little hero's hands were also badly burned. It is feared that besides being terribly burned, the little girl inhaled the flames.

LENGNER WAS CONVICTED.

Was Found Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree.

DEDHAM, Mass., Dec. 8.—The jury in the case of August Lengner, charged with the murder of Miss Mary Emerson, a woman 70 years old, for whom he worked as a farm hand in West Dedham, rendered a verdict at 10 o'clock this morning of murder in the second degree.

Lengner was sentenced to imprisonment for life. In an interview later he maintained his innocence of the crime, reiterating his statement that he had never injured Miss Emerson in any way.

Wisconsin Democrat's Luck. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Ernest Schwartz, of Wisconsin, has been appointed chief clerk of the general land office, vice Michael A. Jacobs, resigned.

RAID ON ANARCHISTS

The Spanish Police Searched Houses Occupied by Anarchists and Secured Some Very Important Papers.

The Discovery of the Documents Confirms the Police Suspicion That a Wide-spread Conspiracy Exists.

Names of all the Members of the Anarchist Society Obtained and Many Arrests Made.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A dispatch from Madrid to the Central News says that the police have made a raid upon houses suspected to be occupied by anarchists at Mesina de Rio Seco, a town twenty-six miles northwest of Valladolid and secured a number of documents. It has been suspected, in fact, known by the police for a long time, that the anarchist outrages in Spain had their origin in a conspiracy, but the authorities have never been able to get proof as to who the prime movers in the conspiracy are.

Many arrests have been made in different parts of Spain, but the prisoners would never give evidence that would lead to the arrest of their principals. The town of Mesina de Rio Seco is off the line of travel, and it appears now that taking advantage of its comparatively isolated position, the anarchists sought refuge there, and from there directed the movements of members of the gang in other places in Spain.

The discovery of the documents confirms the suspicions of the police that there is a widespread movement to spread the anarchistic propaganda by means of dynamite and other outrages. It is learned that the society at Mesina de Rio Seco has over eighty members, all of whom are sworn to secrecy by the most solemn oaths. Even the ritual employed in the initiation of members is in the hands of the authorities, and in it the anarchists call down upon themselves the vengeance of their fellow members if they betray in the slightest degree the confidence reposed in them.

Some of the oaths in the ritual are blasphemous, but the police state that so far as they know no one of the many anarchists who have been arrested has ever violated his pledged word. The prisoners have lied to the authorities and led them on many wild chases, but have not given them information that would lead to the arrest of the arch conspirators. The police discovery at Mesina de Rio Seco was brought about by accident, and not by any positive information they had received.

It is said their attention was first attracted to the town by a sudden and heavy increase in the mail matter sent from there to different parts of Spain, and upon investigation it was learned that the persons to which most of this mail matter was addressed were known to the police officers as declared anarchists or as suspected sympathizers with the anarchistic movement. It was a comparatively easy task, once this fact was established, to find the haunts of the gang, but not so easy to arrest its members. The latter, in some unknown way, learned of the contemplated raid, and when the police visited the suspected lodgings, their occupants had fled.

The documents that fell into the hands of the police, however, gave the names of all the members of the society, and the police soon expect to have many of the anarchists in custody. Among other things revealed by the books, pamphlets and leaflets seized by the police is the fact that anarchists in Valladolid and Barcelona aimed to provoke and maintain the recent strike among telegraph operators which caused great inconvenience to the government and commercial interests.

This is the first knowledge that the strike was caused by anything but dissatisfaction among the telegraph operators in respect of their wages. The documents also show that the anarchists have sought to cause trouble in all branches of the government service, even going so far in the furtherance of their plans as to approach clerks and others holding important positions.

The information gleaned from the seized documents has been communicated to the police throughout the country and has resulted in increased activity against these organized enemies of society.

At Sabadel, on the Llobregat river, ten miles north of Barcelona, the police, acting on information received from the police at Valladolid, have arrested two prominent residents of that place on the charge of aiding the anarchists. It is known that other residents of the place are implicated in the conspiracy, and every effort is being made to capture them. Every house suspected of furnishing shelter to anarchists or their sympathizers will be thoroughly searched.

The most important arrest growing out of the Mesina de Rio Seco discovery is that of Tomas Altet by the police of Barcelona. Altet was arrested on the charge that he was author of the recent dynamite outrage at Villanueva y La Geltrú, twenty-five miles southwest of Barcelona. Several arrests were made in connection with this explosion, but the police were not able to definitely fasten the guilt upon any of the prisoners.

Altet, it appears, was not a member of the Mesina de Rio Seco society, but belonged to a branch organization that was in a measure subject to the orders of the former society. Altet was greatly frightened when he was taken into custody, and the police so worked upon his fears by threats and promises of rewards that he would betray his associates that he soon weakened and told all he knew of the outrage. He gave the names of all his associates, and the police speedily placed under arrest a number of them. Further wholesale arrests are expected.

Three of the men arrested had in their possession papers implicating others in the outrage. The police are jubilant over their discovery and declare that they have at last discovered the leading spirits in the anarchist conspiracy in Spain. They believe that they have now complete information as to the dynamite plots and will soon have the leaders safely lodged in prison.

STRICKEN DEAD.

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads:

"James C. H. is a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body and pronounced heart disease the cause of death. A peculiarly sad feature of the case is that Mr. H. was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his boyhood. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. IF YOU have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Stratford, Pa.:

"I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, pain in shoulders, sides, and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolges, of Cleveland, O.:

"I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for sixteen months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy and rheumatism. I never took medicine that relieved me at once as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure does. I am much stronger. My appetite is splendid. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

"Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart" is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists. It is safe, effective, agreeable, and does cure. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

A SENSATIONAL SUIT.

Mrs. Zella Nicolaus Sues George Gould For a Check For $40,000.

New York, Dec. 8.—George Gould has retained the Hon. Bourke Cockran as his attorney in the matter of the action brought by Mrs. Zella Nicolaus, who claims that Mr. Gould took from her a check for $40,000 which he had previously given her.

She Files High.

Zella Nicolaus is probably the youngest and most remarkably successful confidence woman in the country, says the Chicago Dispatch. Last May she was 19 years old, and yet she has prodigally spent over $50,000 and still has wealth untold.

There is a little village down in Indiana called Wabash. It is homely and small, but within its precincts one Zella Lytle was born. She was gifted with a face of marvelous beauty and an ambition to tread untrammelled paths. Her parentage was humble and as good as villagers must needs be in that White Cap infested district.

What her youth was does not transpire but at the age of 11 she distinguished herself, and as it gave a horoscope it will suffice.

Even at that undeveloped period her beauty was famed throughout the community and she reveled in her glory. A bright young, traveling man named Christian visited the quaint little town, and one evening Zella went riding with him. She had never indulged in the companionship of adults, and it was the start of a career which is still furnishing gossip and sensations. What occurred during the ride is a matter for speculation, but Christian vowed by the stars that nothing worse happened and Zella was a boaster too.

Zella had a story of her own. She left her companion, kissed him goodbye and then as he drove away she ran weeping bitterly to her home and told her father a harrowing tale of assault. She weaved a story that was good, but hardly good enough; the honest police captain thought it fishy and while he arrested the young man he held Zella in another place.

The outcome of the New York lawsuit is a matter of the future, her successes were, are and will be.

As is said in Bacchanalian circles, "Vive la Zella."

TO MAKE GOTHAM DECENT.

Women of the Gay Set Driven Out of the Tenderloin District.

New York, Dec. 8.—The gay half world of this big city is as dead as the tombs in Greenwood. The "tenderloin district," nearly as famous as the statue of Liberty in quite another sense, is closed up tight. Every woman of the gay set has been obliged to vacate the house where she has her business. There has never been so complete and wholesale an evacuation of disorderly houses.

This streak of morality started at the Mulberry Street station and was sent out by Superintendent Byrnes. Dr. Parkhurst, who began his crusade against the police last winter, is the direct cause of the movement. He made the police department feel afraid and it caused a general closing up. An intimation was sent around as early as Saturday evening to all the landladies that it would be better if the inmates found other quarters.

No explanation was sought by the women. They went at once. Storage warehouses have done a rushing business ever since. Flats are at a premium. Ten days ago a good flat could be had for $60 a month. The same rooms now bring $150 for the women are all seeking refuge in the respectable parts of the town.

The tenderloin district has to New York always been a set off. In all Dr. Parkhurst's successes it was never even dreamed that he could successfully close up the gay old "tenderloin," the "Belcham" of the Bohemians, but this was done. The same order that was sent down to Cherry street, the White-chapel of New York, went to Capt. O'Connor. In this district, however, the tipping was done on a more business-like basis. Ward detectives detailed for the duty called on proprietors of dens and informed them that they would have to move.

Then began such a hurrying as was never seen before in that portion of the town. The orders were imperative and there was no disputing the command. A hustle was made for trunks and boxes. Clothing was hastily bundled in, and cabs were kept on the go until the small hours of the morning. Many landladies were so badly frightened that they straightway engaged express wagons and moved all their furniture and household effects to other parts of the city. Many were deprived of shelter. Hundreds of them walked Sixth avenue and Broadway the early part of the morning.

Demurrer Sustained.

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 8.—Judge Bunn, of the United States district court of the Western district of Wisconsin, yesterday rendered his decision in the case of Cadwallader, the West Superior banker, sustaining the demurrer made to the indictment.

Bold Bank Robbery.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 8.—The boldest robbery in the annals of crime in Indiana was committed yesterday about noon, the victim being the South Bend National bank, one of the leading banking concerns in the state. The amount taken was $15,000. No clue to the identity of the robbers has yet come to light.

A Bad Failure.

WASAW, Dec. 8.—The banking firm of B. & S. Finkelstein, of this city, has suspended. The assets are $500,000, less than the liabilities. The firm has a branch in Poland.

Prominent Canadian Dead.

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—Hon. Rudolph Laframme, minister of justice for the Dominion government under the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, died at his residence in this city yesterday afternoon.

The great value of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh is vouched for by thousands of people whom it has cured.

To Please

By beauty of feature and grace of manner is the laudable wish of all ladies; but too frequently the charm of faultless features is greatly impaired by an imperfect complexion. Camelline, the celebrated California beautician, corrects all blemishes, imparts healthy action to the skin and restores the delicate bloom of early youth. By its use the damaging effect of our trying climate is prevented and a pure and natural complexion preserved. Refreshing, soothing and efficient in preventing and removing the distressing effects of suburn, irritation and eruptions of the skin, poison ivy, etc. Prepared in pure white and delicate flesh color. Price to cents. A limited supply just received and for sale by all druggists.

Not Seeking a Controversy. To the Editor of The Herald:

I was astonished when I read in last evening's paper, that I might be brought into controversy with Baboo Narghar in the city of Duluth. I know nothing of this and desire hereby not only to protest against the disclosures of being so published, but also to set myself right before the public.

I heard the gentleman from Bombay when he was here. I noted some statements which were at variance with the facts as I personally know from my four years' sojourn in India. The following Sunday evening, I preached on the "Supremacy of Christianity," in which I endeavored to put some historical and experimental facts before my congregation in their right light. I might have been said to have been answering the lecturer. But I was not trying to answer him, as much as I was to present the truth unbiased by Brahmin traditions. I was very careful not to mention the word "conversion," as the language used, lest I might appear to be attacking him behind his back.

To say that I have made the subject the basis of my lectures and discourses since is simply a misstatement. My lecture on India came afterward it is true, but that had been previously announced and had no connection whatever with anything the gentleman from India said.

I am the last person in the world who would consent to appear as indicated in last evening's Herald. If I could see any good which might result from it, I would not hesitate to bury my natural aversion to such a contest, and entering myself in the list of the brawling and noisy crowd.

Presenting the living truth, then I am to knock over the mummies of Vedic mythology. Whenever it is necessary for me to speak against glaring misrepresentations of facts, then from my own pulpit I shall be heard. But to throw down the gauntlet, or take it up, when he who is against me is struggling for the light, would be very unwise if not un-Christian. There will be no controversy if I am to be one of the principals. Very respectfully, JAMES M. THORNTON, JR., Duluth, Dec. 8.

A SENSATIONAL CASE. George Dunn On Trial at Brussels For Shooting a Girl.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 8.—The Antwerp assizes have opened with the sensational trial of George Dunn, an artist born in New York city, for murder. Dunn is 65 years old and for some time has lived in Antwerp. He became infatuated with Anna Hoffmann, a maid in service at the house where he lived.

The Hoffmann girl discouraged his familiarity and eventually left the house. She became engaged to a young man named Boutman from Kassel, Germany, whom she planned to marry in July. On June 5 Dunn went to the house in the Rue Escant where she was staying. Three persons tried to keep him out. He fired a revolver at them but did not injure any one. After they had fled he shot the Hoffmann girl dead.

The Men of the Hour. LONDON, Dec. 8.—A special dispatch from Rome to the Times says that the

to aid the rebel cause, and President Peixoto may soon find himself between two fires, the rebel forces on land and the insurgent fleet on water. Should Admiral Mello succeed in defeating and sinking the vessels just secured by President Peixoto, the latter could not hope to long withstand the insurgents.

Age of the Human Race. The fullest answers that science can yet give to the three most interesting questions perhaps ever asked in the world are explained in an interesting article in the December Forum, by Dr. Daniel G. Brinton, the ethnologist.

These questions are: "When did the first man appear?" "By what process did he appear?" and "Where did he appear?"

Summing up all that geologists and anthropologists know, he appeared certainly 50,000 years ago, and it may be as many as 200,000 years ago. The evidences of his existence which date back 50,000 years are unmistakable. By what process he came into being science has no definite answer. If it refuses to accept the doctrine of specific creation, it must refuse also, for lack of complete evidence, to accept the doctrine of gradual evolution—the old Darwinian doctrine.

Dr. Brinton thinks the theory of "evolution by a leap" is as good as any other theory. According to this, man sprung from some high order of mammal, the great tree-ape perhaps, by a freak, just as men of genius are freaks, and as all the vegetable and animal kingdoms show freaks. As to where man first appeared, it is beyond doubt that his earliest home was in Southern Europe, or Asia, or North Africa. No earlier traces of him have been found than those found in the area that is now New England, France and Spain.

It is true that these are not very conclusive and satisfactory answers that science offers, and it is not likely that anything will ever be discovered which will throw additional light upon the question. The time of man's first appearance and the process by which he appeared must always remain a mystery, except to such an extent as is revealed by the Scriptures.

Authors of "Fake" News. Recently one of the "fake" correspondents in Duluth sent out a story that Mr. Hill had ordered suspension of work on his new passenger boats at Cleveland.

There was not a word of truth in it. A few days ago another one of these unreliable correspondents sent a false report to the Minneapolis Times of "a horror narrowly averted" on the Northern Pacific bridge between Duluth and Superior. This has called for a justly indignant protest from General Passenger Agent Fee, of the Northern Pacific, who writes that the alleged accident never occurred and was practically impossible.

"The Northern Pacific," he says, "keeps a watchman on this bridge at all hours of the day and night and it is hardly among the possibilities that a rail could be broken and not be discovered almost instantly."

The men who, for the sake of a few paltry cents, will deliberately manufacture stories of this description and palm them off on outside newspapers as "news," would steal sheep or do any other despicable act. They must be morally dishonest, or they would not thus seek to obtain money under false pretenses. It is unfortunate that Duluth is cursed by the presence of such people, because their actions throw discredit on legitimate news which is sent out from here and thus injure the city.

A statistician finds that the average value of a mule is $7 more than that of a horse. In Texas the price of a mule is about twice that of a horse, and in other Southern states it takes a longer purse to buy the longer-eared quadruped. The suggestion is made that there should be an annual mule show. The ability of the mule when given a chance to convert it into a circus guarantees that the exhibition would be interesting and exciting.

"She was the best of housekeepers," was Marthy. I never went over so neat a house. I ain't the gift myself. I can clear up, Mis' Martin, but I can't remain cleared up," says one of the women in Miss Jewett's story, "A Second Spring," in Harper's for December, and many housekeepers can sympathize with her analysis of housekeeping order.

An interviewer of octogenarians says that people who wish not to grow old must "invariably avoid worrying," and a profound Western philosopher adds: "It is also necessary never to be poor, overworked or sick, and anybody who will carefully avoid these four evils may be assured of living until he dies."

The Boston Transcript thinks that there is apparently an inconsistency involved in the fact that Governor McKinley was cheered in a church, where the chief commodity—salvation—is free.

Militia Ready to March. INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 8.—It leaked out last night that three companies of state militia stationed at Fort Wayne, Coshen and La Porte are under marching orders to proceed against Roby next Monday. The governor has disappeared and his private secretary declares that he is at his farm.

The City Hall Roof is Again in Horrible Shape and Perplexing the Council Committee.

To Put on a Tin Roof Seems the Only Remedy and That Will be Expensive.

Fine Recital of Sacred Music at the Church of the Holy Apostles Last Evening.

The building committee of the village council is again confronted with the defective work at the new city hall, and is in a quandary what to do in the matter. The roof leaks so badly that in some of the upper floor offices it is necessary to catch the streams of water in pails to keep it from flooding the rooms. In some places the plastering has fallen off and by all appearances there is more to follow.

The roof was patched up twice last summer, but it now in worse shape than ever. The committee thinks it is not advisable to use any more tar and gravel in repairs, as the rain is so light that there is danger of the whole roof giving way under its own weight. The only way out of the difficulty seems to lay in putting on a new tin roof, which at this season of the year will cost in the neighborhood of $250.

Trustees Kuuppi and Olafson were investigating the matter this morning and will probably have some recommendations to offer in regard to the repair of the dilapidated structure.

Church Choir Recital.
A fair sized audience heard the recital of sacred music at the church of the Holy Apostles last evening. The opening selection, the doxology, was sung by a chorus of twenty-five voices and was followed by the anthem "Glory to Thee, My God, this Night" by the combined choirs.

The solos by Miss Rebecca McKenzie and Miss Theresa Nicol were well rendered and favorably received. The contralto solo, "Rock of Ages," sung by Mrs. Holcomb and chorus was given with fine effect, as was also the closing chorus, "Gloria in Excelsis," by the choir. Professor Gustafson gave two organ solos which met with popular applause and added to the artistic effects of the program.

West Duluth Briefs.
The morning subject at the Congregational church tomorrow will be, "The Spirit of Truth," which will be followed by a chorus of twenty-five voices and was followed by the anthem "Glory to Thee, My God, this Night" by the combined choirs.

Arrangements have been completed for the new fire alarm and police patrol system and Dan Neary, the electrician, will commence putting up poles and wire next week.

Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, of Maple Plain, is in the village.
C. T. Condon, of Milwaukee, is registered at the Bennett.

Anthony Johnson returned yesterday from Vergas Falls.

For one week at retail we offer the McKenna & Ryan stock of clothing, furnishing goods, hats and caps, etc., at 50 cents on the dollar, at their old stand. Corresponding low prices will be made in the merchant tailoring department.

A Tennessee Tragedy.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 9.—Will Edwards, a young farmer in good standing, during a petty quarrel with his wife at Dresden, Tenn., became very much enraged, and drawing a pistol shot her dead. He then tried to kill his wife's sister, Miss Jenkins, and when she escaped he turned the weapon on himself, putting three bullets into his body. The last shot proved fatal.

Broke Out of Jail.
NASHVILLE, Dec. 9.—Seventeen prisoners broke out of the Hamilton county jail at Chattanooga last night. Among them were Budd Wooten, under sentence of death for the murder of Alarion Ross.

Ex-Minister Mizer Dead.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Lansing B. Mizer, ex-United States minister to Guatemala, whose connection with the Baruffa affair resulted in his recall, died this morning at Benicia, Cal., at the age of 68 years.

Prof. Hosford Dead.
OLIVET, Mich., Dec. 9.—Orramel Hosford, professor emeritus of astronomy and mathematics of Olivet college, died here this morning. Professor Hosford was born in Bedford, Vt., in 1820, and educated at Oberlin college.

He Went Too Far.
They had not met for years. "Do you remember," he asked, "the little sapling we planted together as a boy and girl?"

Her eyes softened at the recollection. "Yes," she answered, "I remember it well."

"That sapling," he continued dreamily, "must be a strong and sturdy oak now."

The softness all died out of her eyes, and conversation ceased.—New York Herald.

THE BRAND OF CAIN.
Terrible Struggle Between Two Brothers and Two Killed.

HELENA, Mon., Dec. 9.—The crime of Cain is attached to the name of Frank Miller, who lives on a ranch near Horr, in Park county. Yesterday he killed his brother, P. J. Miller, commonly known as Box.

Yesterday Box told Frank that he would give him until Saturday to clear out. Coming out of the house soon after he grabbed an ax and started for him. A terrible struggle ensued.

Box at last dropped the ax and started for the house after a gun, but before he could reach this Frank struck him in the head with the ax handle, fracturing his skull. He died soon after from the effects of the blow. Frank gave himself up.

A TAX ON INCOMES.
Democratic Members of the House Will Insist Upon It.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—It is apparently a settled fact, so far as the Democratic members of the ways and means committee are concerned, that there will be no increase in the whisky tax.

The committee has practically decided that the deficiency in the revenues must be secured from a tax on incomes, not only on corporations but upon individuals as well.

It is not certain that they will so report, but they are satisfied that a majority of the house Democrats will insist upon such a tax and that it will ultimately pass.

WAYLAI BY BRIGANDS.
A Wealthy Mexican Coffee Planter Murdered and Robbed.

OAXACA, Mex., Dec. 9.—Mail advices were received here yesterday that Jose Alejandro Parana, a wealthy and well-known coffee planter living near the eastern boundary of the state of Chiapas, was waylaid by a band of brigands and murdered and robbed.

The bandits then proceeded to the home of the murdered man, which they attacked and robbed of money and valuables, terrorizing the family into submitting to their demands. The prisoner, escaped to their rendezvous in the mountains.

A GREAT NORTHERN WRECK.
A Train Struck a Landslide and Went Over an Embankment.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 9.—News reached this city last night from Belton, a small station on the Great Northern road east of here, that the east-bound passenger train struck a landslide. The engine, express and baggage car left the track and rolled down a twenty-foot embankment.

The scene of the wreck is distant from telegraph communication and news is meager. It is known, however, that several persons were injured, and perhaps killed. No information could be obtained from railroad officials here.

"Tom King" Escaped.
NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A special to the Sun from Wichita, Kan., says: "Tom King," the famous horse thief, escaped from the jail at El Reno, Okla., last night. Officers have gone to Yukon after a pair of bloodhounds, and they expect to run the woman down by morning. The prisoner was evidently aided from the outside, as a horse was in waiting for her.

NO STEPS YET TAKEN

A Connected Resume of the Hawaiian Situation, Picked Out From Hints From Reliable Sources.

Minister Willis Has Not Adopted Any Steps Yet Disclosing the Nature of His Instructions.

Queen Lili Not Anxious to Again Take the Throne But Prefers to Sell Her Title.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Successive arrivals from Honolulu without news of importance, except the negative fact that no steps have yet been taken by Minister Willis to carry out his instructions, lead senators and others here who are in a position to receive from different sources fragmentary intimations of actual facts, to construct out of these intimations, as dropped from time to time, a connected resume of the situation, which, in the absence of any direct news to the contrary, is accepted as highly probable. It runs about as follows:

Minister Willis unquestionably left Washington imbued with the belief that the result of communicating to the authorities in Hawaii the instructions with which he was burdened would be the immediate and peaceful restoration of Queen Liliuokalani to the throne. Mr. Willis' instructions contemplated the publication in Honolulu of Secretary Gresham's summary of Mr. Blount's report.

It was anticipated that the mere announcement of the attitude of the United States government, as disclosed in this report from the secretary of state to the president, the provisional government would end.

What "changed conditions" Mr. Willis found is perhaps less a matter of conjecture than the nature of his instructions. He found all the arms and all the best fighting elements of the island at the command of the provisional government, and a body of regulars and determined men of the Anglo-Saxon stock who declined to relinquish what they had gained without fighting for its retention.

It was something not contemplated and something which he could not overcome.

Just there another and almost comical element of difficulty came in. The ex-queen came to the conclusion, so it is said, that instead of taking back the empty honor of the queenship without adequate funds to gratify her expensive tastes, she would rather take a lump sum in cash and give up her title together with the valuable crown lands and all the other belongings.

Half a million dollars is the sum mentioned as having been suggested by her as adequate compensation for the wrong done her by the United States and for her rights relinquished. This proposition, it is asserted, is among the matters which Mr. Willis has laid before the state department and asked instructions upon.

In brief, it is said Mr. Willis reports: First, a condition of things in the island which makes it impossible for him to restore the status quo without a direct resort to force which is forbidden him.

Second, an indisposition on the part of the queen to resume the government without guarantees of protection from the United States; and

Third, a proposition to condone the wrong which the United States, by its executive, admits has been done and to relinquish all her titular rights, as well as whatever claims she may have upon the valuable crown lands, for the lump sum of $500,000.

This theory of the situation, as already stated, has been picked out from disconnected hints derived from the best sources of information and is generally accepted as being very near the truth.

The Latest From Hawaii.
SYRINKE, N. S. W., Dec. 9.—Advices from Auckland, N. Z., state that the steamer Monowai has arrived there and reports the provisional government of Hawaii still in power up to Nov. 24, the date when the steamer left Honolulu.

The statement that it was the intention of the United States government to restore Liliuokalani to power was received.

SCALL HEAD CURED

Bad Case. Two Doctors No Good. Tried Cuticura. First Set Helped. Four Sets Completely Cured.

Our baby Pearl was born Nov. 23, 1891. From her birth she had scall head, until she was four months old, then it became worse and came out in small white pimples, and then spread to be large yellow scabs. We tried two doctors, but they could not do any good. So we tried Cuticura Remedies, giving her a thorough washing with Cuticura Soap, and then using the Cuticura. The first set we tried helped her, and before we used four sets she was perfectly cured. At the age of six months our baby weighed thirty-four pounds. Her skin is fair and smooth, and she is perfectly well. Portrait included. I would not do without Cuticura Remedies, and can recommend them as most excellent for children.

Mrs. S. M. McCall, Yonkers, N. Y.

SMOOTH SKIN FOR $5.00.
I used the CUTICURA Remedies for about two months, and the entire expense was but $5.00. I am now a fair-skinned woman, and my skin is smooth and clear. I would not do without Cuticura Remedies, and can recommend them as most excellent for children.

with great disapproval. It was not believed that the queen would return to power unless she was assured of armed American support. The Hawaiian Gazette strongly protests against her restoration.

HARRY WRIGHT, THE VETERAN.
For Twenty-Six Years He Has Been Prominently Identified With Baseball.

Harry Wright, who recently retired from the management of the Philadelphia Baseball club, had been at the head of the team for a decade and had been prominent in matters connected with the national game for 25 years. The Quakers finished fourth in the race for the pennant this year, and dissatisfaction with the standing of the club during the season is said to have been the cause of his withdrawal from the management. Wright was a member of the famous Cincinnati Red Stockings, and Wright was the first player to wear knickerbockers on a professional team. In 1869, under Wright's management, the Red Stockings made a professional tour, winning 56 straight games and retiring without a defeat, a record never since equalled. In 1871 Wright became manager of the Boston club and remained with that organization 11 years, during which the team won the pennant six times. In 1882 he managed the Providence team, and the following year went to Philadelphia. Next year the Philadelphia club was probably have a manager who will also captain the team.

IVES ON LONG RUNS.
He Describes One of the Most Effortful Feats in Billiards.

Frank C. Ives, the world famous billiardist, in speaking of long runs, said recently: "Do you know that it is one of the hardest things in billiards to pass a record run being up by your opponent in a game? Now, suppose the high run is 200 and you set out to beat it. Everything goes smoothly until you get within 10 points of the 200. Then a strange quiet settles over the spectators, and you can almost hear your heart beat. As you proceed slowly this feeling becomes more oppressive, and a faint ripple of applause here and there only intensifies it. If you are well and in a happy mood, and two hundredth shot the hardest you ever faced, even if the balls are in perfect position. The two hundred and first is just as hard, and it's 10 to 1 you'll go all the pieces. If a prize depends upon the high run, it is all the more difficult."

In spite of its difficulty, Ives recently performed the feat he speaks of. In the Chicago match, after Schaefer had made a new world's record of 343 points, Ives set his stroke and made the unprecedented number of 460 points.

The Origin of Chess.
The idea that chess was invented by the ancient Indians or by the Chinese is shaken by the discovery at Sakara in Egypt of a wall painting showing two chess players belonging to the government of Khufu, Teta of the sixth dynasty. Professor Brugsch puts Teta at 2500 B. C., or 5,500 years ago.

PANTON & WATSON'S

Grand Christmas and Holiday Opening Will Positively Take Place Monday, December 11th.

THE ETHICS OF "CHRISTMAS."

Love is the underlying law of Christmas time, just as justice is or ought to be, of all other times. Cynics call the interchanges of the season the grand annual game of swap. We give because we love, and are glad to give because we can; we can because at our store at least everybody can afford to buy, and that store is

The Glass Block Store.

A STORE FOR THE PEOPLE, WITH THE PEOPLE AND OF THE PEOPLE.

Every Hour of the Day, Every Day of the Week, Every Week of the Month and Every Month of the Year.

EVERYBODY AT THE HEAD OF THE LAKES

INVITED TO ATTEND THE GRAND EVENT.

Goods Will Be Sold

From 8 a. m. until 10 p. m., and every department is running over with bargains waiting for you to take them away.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO PATRONS.

In the evening we will charge admission for the benefit of the poor. The entire proceeds to be turned over to the different Charitable Institutions of Duluth.

CHILDREN'S DAY!

Santa Claus
Will be Here.

We have made special arrangements to devote one day for the children.

Saturday Dec. 16, the Day.

Old Santa will be here himself and will present every little boy and every little girl with a nice present, provided they come accompanied by either of their parents.

Santa Claus will be walking around the store between the hours of 9 and 10 a. m. and 2 and 3 p. m. and 7 and 8 p. m. exclusively.

Everybody Come!

10,000 people can be accommodated in our gigantic store, and we, as well as the charitable institutions, will be very much disappointed if we don't realize $500 for the poor.

$1000 In Gold To be Given Away BY M. S. BURROWS & CO. $20 Every Week.

How it Will Be Done. We have had made for us a number of YALE KEYS to give to our customers, and a heavy plate-glass and steel money-box. In this money-box we shall place $20 in Gold every Thursday morning. Among the keys given out each week will be one that will unlock the box and secure the $20 for the person holding the key. With every purchase in every department the customer receives one of these keys, and the one whose key opens the box will take out the contents as a free gift. Every holder of a key may try it in the lock of the box on each Wednesday, between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. No key will be noticed unless it is attached to the original Tag. All keys must be left at the store after they are tried in the lock.

Finest Clothing, Furnishings and Hats. No other house ever did, ever will, or ever can sell the perfect goods for the same Low Prices as M. S. Burrows & Co. can sell them.

We Are Now Giving Away the Keys.

NO LOTTERY FAKE. Method of Doing Business at No. 29 East Superior Street.

The "scheme" at 29 East Superior street is not a lottery or nickel-in-the-slot in any way. A due bill is sold for 5 cents which designates a department, the purchaser then is allowed to buy any article in that department for an additional 25 cents. Not wishing the article, the party is at liberty to use the due bill at 5 cents to purchase goods outside of the department at the regular retail price. The due bills remain good at any day or date. The goods sold are nearly all purchased from Duluth dealers and are sold at prices no higher than in any other establishment in the city. A thorough investigation will convince any one that the business is strictly legitimate and has no lottery or nickel-in-the-slot feature. The following is a letter written by the municipal judge at Chippewa Falls where a similar story was run by the proprietor of this Duluth establishment. "The undersigned has witnessed and become familiar with the business of the Novelty Coupon store, doing business in this city for the past three weeks, and can testify to the perfect fairness of the proprietor of such establishment. J. C. Smith, who has adopted a novel and attractive system of doing business, that might from its novelty be at first misunderstood, but on examination will be found a legitimate, though ingenious, method of attracting trade. His stay here in this city, though brief, has injured no branch of trade here, but on the contrary has stimulated business in the street on which he was located, as I am credibly informed and believe.

Notice to Stockholders. The annual meeting of stockholders of the Manufacturers Bank of West Duluth, will be held at the banking room on Tuesday, Jan. 9, 1904, at 3 o'clock p. m., for the election of directors and the transaction of any other business that may properly come before it.

Important. Pianos for $50, $75, $100 and upwards. Organs for $10, $25, $40 and upwards. These are rare bargains at Pilkey & Hall's Music store, 225 West Superior street.

THE DISTRICT COURT

M. L. Cornary's Motion For a Change of Venue in the Divorce Case Argued Today.

W. G. Crosby Appointed Receiver of the Duluth Driving Park Association on J. G. Howard's petition.

Verdict in the Schletz Personal Injury Damage Case is Against the Pabst Brewing Company.

In the special term this morning a motion was argued in the divorce case of Adele V. Cornary vs. Montgomery L. Cornary on the part of the defendant for a change of venue to Hennepin.

He makes affidavit that his home is in that county, but the plaintiff on the other hand maintains that Duluth is his home.

The motion was heard and submitted and Judge Lewis will give his decision later.

In the matter of the reassessment of Superior street and Piedmont avenue east of Hennepin, J. A. Keyes and M. Douglas have appeared for the persons and property objecting. An order was entered confirming the assessment as to all lots or parcels of land upon which no objections have been made.

To the owners of lots and lands upon which objections have been entered, the court will grant a hearing next Saturday.

The petition of John G. Howard asking that a receiver be appointed for the Duluth Driving Park association was heard and W. G. Crosby was named.

Other cases disposed of were as follows: Theobald O. Hope vs. R. B. Swift, motion for new trial denied.

Mary Ann Munro vs. Daniel Munro, allowance of alimony and counsel fees ordered.

George Dinwoodie vs. G. V. I. Brown, order made in supplementary proceedings.

Order made amending deed of assignment in the matter of the assignment of the Flag River Brownstone company.

In re receivership of C. J. Byrnes; order made allowing attorney's fees for obtaining receiver.

George Dinwoodie vs. Albert Schliek, order made in supplementary proceedings.

M. S. Stokely vs. W. N. Ingalls, demurrer argued, heard and submitted.

National Bank of Commerce vs. Charles E. Shannon et al., findings in accordance with complaint.

In re receivership of Nelson Bennett, claim of Pabst Brewing company given preference.

W. J. Holmes vs. Lakeside Street Railway company, continued.

Is For the Plaintiff. The verdict in the case of Adolph Schletz vs. Pabst Brewing company will be opened until Monday morning, but it is known that it is for the plaintiff.

The amount, however, is uncertain. Some voted for as low as $200 while one voted for $25,000 but what average was struck is the thing which cannot be learned.

The Majority Contest. The vote today in the Herald majority contest stands as follows:

Henry Haskins.....17,413

A Good Supper and Good Time. Pilgrim Congregational church Wednesday evening, Dec. 13. Supper, 6 to 8 o'clock. Chicken pie, oysters, coffee and all the side "fixes." After supper a sociable and special sale of fancy and useful articles. We want you to come.

Log Rolled Over Him. B. L. Brigham of 725 East Fifth street, was killed yesterday at Louden & Morris' lumber camp on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, a log rolling over him.

Afterward removed to his home. He was a young man and had been married only about a year. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the house.

The executive committee of nine appointed on Thursday at the Superior convention on harbor improvements has been called by Capt. Ira Harris, the chairman, to meet this afternoon at Capt. McDougall's office at the American Steel Barge company's works at West Superior.

The complaining fishermen off the Mahoning received tickets home yesterday, without further trouble. As the complaint had been laid and some costs incurred, the captain and men "whacked up" the amount between them, and all further trouble is avoided.

The pupils of the Duluth-Superior School of Music gave a performance at the Opera house in West Superior, which was well received by a large audience.

Marriage licenses were issued today in Clerk Sinclair's office to Edward Jensen and Ida Johnson, Mats Newman and Fima Raikala, and Swan Rydberg and Beret Marie Christensen.

In police court yesterday three poor drunks were all that claimed Judge Powell's attention.

The birth of a daughter to Thomas and Julia Fortin, 801 Minnesota street, has been reported to the board of health.

The young men who are interested in the management of the Boy's club will meet at lunch at 12 o'clock on Monday.

The firm of Hugo, Moores & Logie has been dissolved. Mr. Hugo retiring. The business will be continued by E. Moores and J. H. Logie.

The publishers of the Blue Book wish to announce that up to a misunderstanding of the original plan to impose a tax of 50 cents upon those whose names were to appear therein, this plan has been abandoned.

The list as originally selected will be published complete without charge and the price of the Blue Book has been fixed at $1.50.

PERSONAL. Michael Kelly returned this morning from Saginaw, Mich., where he has been to attend the funeral of the late F. C. Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bernard, of Grand Rapids, were in the city today on their way home from St. Paul.

A. E. Humphreys left last night for Chicago.

Register A. J. Taylor, of the local United States land office, is off duty on account of typhoid fever, and will have grave fears that he will not get off with a light attack.

Carson W. Smith, son of George M. Smith, has recovered from his recent attack of typhoid fever, and is now able to go around his father's office today.

HIGH SCHOOL ITEMS.

Matters of Interest Which Have Taken Place During the Week. The regular rehearsal of the Musical society for yesterday was postponed.

An examination for those members of the D class who entered on condition was held last Monday afternoon.

The membership committees of the Olympic and Adelphe societies met on Tuesday and selected the pupils of the freshman class as members of the societies.

The members of the class in general history in charge of the principal have been assigned special subjects in the history of Rome on which to prepare written themes. Among the themes are: "The Roman Art of War," "The Catacombs," "The Roman House," "Roman Books and Their Publication," etc.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the senior class was held Tuesday. A final decision was reached favorable to the publication of an annual to be ready some time during the next commencement week.

The following seniors were elected as a board of editors: Eugene H. Holston, business manager; assistants—Messrs. Scott Cash, Walter Mischler, W. H. Smith, Fred Smith, and Misses Ella W. Ward, Anna Walsh, Helen McKay, Emily Anderson, Virgie LaVaque, and Judith Stewart.

The annual is to be in the form of about 100 pages, profusely illustrated, and will give a record of the events of the school year, solemn and otherwise. Several pages are to be devoted to the pupils of the poor, the plan proved a most excellent one.

The report for the seniors was given by Miss Anna Vaughn, of the juniors by Hamilton Peyton; sophomors by Miss Emma Stevens; for the freshmen by Miss Clara L. Bain. In addition to the liberal donations of food and clothing a cash donation of $70 was made which was turned over to the treasurer of the Relief society.

The exercises of the literary societies, which were organized this year, are gaining in interest. The plan of having each performance in charge of one of the faculty proves to be a good one. More care can thus be given to the selection of subjects, the correction of manuscripts and supervision of the work.

Miss Cullyford had charge of the exercises yesterday afternoon, on which occasion the Olympics presented the following program:

Piano solo.....Allen Jones
Recitation.....Charles Taylor
Debate: Resolved, that a monarchy is the best and most stable form of government.
Affirmative—Charles Morris, Martin Hostwick, Negatives—H. C. Abbott, Clara Lenthien.
(The decision of the judges was in favor of the negative.)

Vocal duet.....Phoebe Zimmerman, Annie Mill.
Recitation.....Howe Williston, McKay.

A DESERVING CHARITY. An Appeal for Donations to the New Maternity Hospital.

The great need for a maternity hospital in Duluth has been made so apparent by physicians and the county officials that the board of managers of the Women's and Children's Home has undertaken so far as possible to supply this urgent need, trusting that the citizens of Duluth will come forward to this good work.

The house leased for this purpose is situated on Seventeenth avenue east and Jefferson street, where all the carpenter, painter, plasterer, electrician, plumber, and other trades are represented. Among the articles most urgently required are the following: Bureaus, chairs, coffee pot, stoves, clocks, stoves, carpets, tables, and other household goods.

PRICES PARTICULARLY LEASING! Quality Amounts to Little Unless the Price be Fair, Low Are Not Bargains Unless Quality is There!

We Combine Them! Rejoice and Buy!

We have decided to close out our entire stock of Lamps at actual cost. We have been thinking seriously of going out of the lamp business for some months and the time has arrived when these goods must be sold. Low prices will move the stock and low prices you shall have on every Lamp in our stock. We give nothing away, but a low figure DOES get the best in the house. Our stock consists principally of the celebrated Rochesters, a make excelled by none. Space will not permit us to enumerate our list of snaps, but bear in mind you can buy all at actual cost. Call in and see them.

DULL AND INACTIVE.

The Wheat Market Was Quiet Today and Slightly Higher. A dull and slow week's business in wheat closed today with a very dull and inactive market.

Closing firm at 1/2c advance on cash and 1/2c above yesterday's closing figures for May, the market ruled dull but about steady.

May wheat advanced 1/2c early with fairly good business at the advance, but eased off again to the opening figure of 95 1/2 by 11 a. m.

The market ruled very dull and closed quiet but steady at 1/2c above yesterday for cash, and December and 1/2c higher for May. As compared with last Saturday, the close today is 1/2c higher for cash, May and 1/2c higher for December.

The receipts of wheat here during the week were 15,000 bushels. The shipments were 15,000 bushels and the mills took 15,000 bushels, so that the stock in store will show an increase of about 40,000 bushels for the week.

The following were the closing prices: No. 1 hard cash, 95 1/2; No. 2 northern, cash, 95 1/2; No. 3, 95 1/2; No. 4, 95 1/2; No. 5, 95 1/2; No. 6, 95 1/2; No. 7, 95 1/2; No. 8, 95 1/2; No. 9, 95 1/2; No. 10, 95 1/2.

Car inspection today—Wheat 155, rye 2, oats 3, barley 1, flax 5. Receipts—Wheat 95,000 bushels, rye 100, oats 100, barley 100, flax 100.

The New York Breadstuffs. NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The weekly statement of the associated bakers shows the following changes:

Reserve, increase.....$ 48,325
Loans, increase.....2,500
Specie, increase.....4,400
Legal tenders, increase.....1,250
Deposits, increase.....5,400
Circulation, decrease.....56,100
The banks now hold $258,425 in excess of the requirements of the 25 percent rule.

Cattle and Hogs. U. S. YARDS, CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Cattle: Receipts, 30,000; market dull and weak. Hogs: Receipts, 20,000; market steady.

London Money Market. LONDON, Dec. 9.—Money 3 1/2 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for both short and three months bills 2 1/2 per cent.

New York Breadstuffs. NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The grain market opened this morning steady for wheat and irregular for corn. At Liverpool wheat was unchanged and steadily held; corn lower and less desirable to buy.

At London cargoes of wheat were firmly held; wheat and corn on passage were steady. The French markets were unchanged.

The Minneapolis Market. MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 9.—Wheat opened at 63 1/2c for May and with little activity declined to 63 c; December at 59 1/2c. On track—No. 1 hard; 60 1/2c; No. 2 northern; 59 1/2c; No. 3, 59 1/2c; No. 4, 59 1/2c; No. 5, 59 1/2c; No. 6, 59 1/2c; No. 7, 59 1/2c; No. 8, 59 1/2c; No. 9, 59 1/2c; No. 10, 59 1/2c.

Gossip. Received over private wire from W. P. Brown, grain and stock broker, room 107, Chamber of Commerce.

Cables flat; corn and wheat 1/2c lower. Grain kept steady today, but little life in it. Government report this afternoon is expected to be bullish.

Stocks have been weak all day; market acts heavy; railroad earnings not encouraging. Puts, May wheat, 65 1/2c. Calls, May wheat, 65 1/2c. Puts, May corn, 10 1/2c. Calls, May corn, 10 1/2c.

New York Stock Exchange. NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Money on call is nominally 10 1/2 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2 per cent. Bond market active and strong.

The stock market was weak after 11 o'clock and while the pressure to sell was not large, there was a marked absence of buying power. The market closed dull and steady.

DULUTH EVENING HERALD

THREE CENTS

DULUTH'S BLUE BOOK

A Ward McAllister Has Arisen in the Zenith City and Will Prepare His Little List.

A Herald Reporter Captures Some of the Replies Received by the Select Committee of Three.

John Langton Says the Spalding Register Has Always Been Duluth's Blue Book and Is Indignant.

Another page in the history of Duluth is about to be written. After years of wandering through the dense underbrush in the social wilderness at the head of the lakes, the promised land of snobocracy is about to be reached and the gentle manners of the smart set—the Zenith City's "nob"—are about to be sorted out from the vulgar herd, even as the sheep will be culled out from the goats on the only and original day of judgment. A social savior has been born, as the thirty-five new electric lights purchased by the West Duluth council will soon bear witness. Yes, a greater man than Ward McAllister is here, and Duluth will soon take the same social supremacy over Gotham that she will commercially over Chicago.

This Ward McAllister the Second who expects to work such a revolution in these hypochondriacal regions, has not yet shown the color of his hair nor announced his name. It may be that his coat is ragged at the elbows, and that patches as big as sunflowers cover the bosom of his pants, but, pardon, trousers, pants is so deucedly vulgar, don't you know?—but he's true to his mission. It may be that he doesn't eat at Boyle's three times a day, but he's soon going to weigh the "social and business elements" of this unsanctified city in the balances and find out who are entitled to wear long, shaggy hair parted in the middle, nurse on the heads of massive canes, smoke cigarettes, play baccarat, give pink teas, wear gowns so décolleté as to cause a Frenchman to blush and to practice all the remainder of the list of polite acts known only to the "nob."

When all that has been determined, it is going to be printed in a blue book—not so long as the one containing the name of his royal lowness, the prince of Wales and his fellow loafers, but just as big and a good deal more important.

"DULUTH. In the Year of Our Distress, December, 1893.—To the Honorable and Right Honorable the Select Committee of Three. This has been a blue season for all hands and the cook. Blue points on the shell are out of reach, which materially has influenced me to keep up the press by publishing about the first of the year, the first real blue book ever issued in Duluth.

"This precious blue volume will beat blue blazes. It will be bound in half calf and blue flannel. It will be printed on sky blue paper, perfumed with dark blue musk. The introduction will be written by Ward McAllister, the prince of Wales will furnish a special feature in an autograph letter, Inside Pointers on How to Win at Baccarat. A prominent mixologist, who has stood behind several of the best bars in Duluth, will contribute a few thumb nail sketches on cocktails and mint juleps. The pages of the 'American Herd Book' have been carefully searched and pedigree and market value of all the American nobles will be given. This will be invaluable to all who are interested in fast or blooded stock. The name of every man in Duluth rich enough to wear musk and a diamond cluster as large as a chrysanthemum will be printed in this record of blue bloods; also a complete list of two hundred married women who are credited with thinking more of certain young men than of their own darling husbands. Prominent specialists in medicine, the leading divorce lawyers and all ministers of the gospel pulling out salaries over $5000 per year, will have their full names printed in big black letters. The Kitchen Grammar club and several similar institutions and societies of various kinds will be represented; but it is hereby guaranteed that the Federated Trades assembly will not be given space under any consideration. This book is for those who do not, neither do they own."

"In addition, the Blue Book will contain the names of such of Duluth's foremost citizens, viewed from a financial and social standpoint, whose blood is not more than one-quarter Chippewa Indian and who have not been street laborers within the last ten years.

"This list of names has been carefully prepared by a committee of three gentlemen well known in business and social circles and it will readily be seen that those who do not care to include negro waiters and Chinese lap dryers, black men and garbage can drivers in their circle of associates, will find this invaluable as a means of reference. Those who have business with or cater to this blue-blooded element, cannot afford to be without this azure volume, even if it should be necessary to put a second mortgage on the furniture to secure the purchase money.

"Each individual whose name appears in this list of holders-of-the-blue-book will be taxed 50 cents. Of course, 50 cents is a piteous amount and some may think it is deucedly vulgar not to ask for more; but there has not been much activity in wildcat mining stocks this summer and jack pots have been few and none too large. The publishers are in need of several 50-cent pieces and have decided to decrease the entrance fee and increase the number of those who can enter. If you don't want your name left out, please sign the enclosed slip, which is a cute little contract in which you agree to pay the half dollar after the 'herd book' is published and return it.

WARD McALLISTER, II, Back Room, Torrey Building, Duluth, Minn.

That committee of "three gentlemen well known in business and social circles" are now holding daily meetings in that "back room" up in the Torrey building. They are trying to get enough names of scots, Anglo-manics, dudes, dudines, codlins, aristocrats, white fish aristocrats, iron kings and queens, pine land robbers, saphires and swagmen members of the smart set generally to fill up the defunct pages of that "pedigree of blooded stock." The members of that committee evidently feel like outlaws and fear that the tool killer will come along with his brass-knobby club, for they do their deeds in strict privacy, behind closed doors. A Herald reporter went up to that office the other day, but admittance was denied him. Like Mary's lamb, he lingered near, and by a reportorial use of keyhole and trowel, was enabled to see and hear exactly what was said and done.

Around a table sat Ward McAllister, II heavily masked, and the learned committee of three. Out of respect to their relatives, some of whom are poor and all respectable, the names of "these three" had been determined, it is going to be printed in a blue book—not so long as the one containing the name of his royal lowness, the prince of Wales and his fellow loafers, but just as big and a good deal more important.

"In addition, the Blue Book will contain the names of such of Duluth's foremost

most citizens, viewed from a financial and social standpoint, whose blood is not more than one-quarter Chippewa Indian and who have not been street laborers within the last ten years.

"This list of names has been carefully prepared by a committee of three gentlemen well known in business and social circles and it will readily be seen that those who do not care to include negro waiters and Chinese lap dryers, black men and garbage can drivers in their circle of associates, will find this invaluable as a means of reference. Those who have business with or cater to this blue-blooded element, cannot afford to be without this azure volume, even if it should be necessary to put a second mortgage on the furniture to secure the purchase money.

"Each individual whose name appears in this list of holders-of-the-blue-book will be taxed 50 cents. Of course, 50 cents is a piteous amount and some may think it is deucedly vulgar not to ask for more; but there has not been much activity in wildcat mining stocks this summer and jack pots have been few and none too large. The publishers are in need of several 50-cent pieces and have decided to decrease the entrance fee and increase the number of those who can enter. If you don't want your name left out, please sign the enclosed slip, which is a cute little contract in which you agree to pay the half dollar after the 'herd book' is published and return it.

WARD McALLISTER, II, Back Room, Torrey Building, Duluth, Minn.

That committee of "three gentlemen well known in business and social circles" are now holding daily meetings in that "back room" up in the Torrey building. They are trying to get enough names of scots, Anglo-manics, dudes, dudines, codlins, aristocrats, white fish aristocrats, iron kings and queens, pine land robbers, saphires and swagmen members of the smart set generally to fill up the defunct pages of that "pedigree of blooded stock." The members of that committee evidently feel like outlaws and fear that the tool killer will come along with his brass-knobby club, for they do their deeds in strict privacy, behind closed doors. A Herald reporter went up to that office the other day, but admittance was denied him. Like Mary's lamb, he lingered near, and by a reportorial use of keyhole and trowel, was enabled to see and hear exactly what was said and done.

Around a table sat Ward McAllister, II heavily masked, and the learned committee of three. Out of respect to their relatives, some of whom are poor and all respectable, the names of "these three" had been determined, it is going to be printed in a blue book—not so long as the one containing the name of his royal lowness, the prince of Wales and his fellow loafers, but just as big and a good deal more important.

Two thousand Duluthians will receive a colorful letter, printed on sky blue paper and perfumed with dark blue musk, and worded about as follows:

"DULUTH. In the Year of Our Distress, December, 1893.—To the Honorable and Right Honorable the Select Committee of Three. This has been a blue season for all hands and the cook. Blue points on the shell are out of reach, which materially has influenced me to keep up the press by publishing about the first of the year, the first real blue book ever issued in Duluth.

"This precious blue volume will beat blue blazes. It will be bound in half calf and blue flannel. It will be printed on sky blue paper, perfumed with dark blue musk. The introduction will be written by Ward McAllister, the prince of Wales will furnish a special feature in an autograph letter, Inside Pointers on How to Win at Baccarat. A prominent mixologist, who has stood behind several of the best bars in Duluth, will contribute a few thumb nail sketches on cocktails and mint juleps. The pages of the 'American Herd Book' have been carefully searched and pedigree and market value of all the American nobles will be given. This will be invaluable to all who are interested in fast or blooded stock. The name of every man in Duluth rich enough to wear musk and a diamond cluster as large as a chrysanthemum will be printed in this record of blue bloods; also a complete list of two hundred married women who are credited with thinking more of certain young men than of their own darling husbands. Prominent specialists in medicine, the leading divorce lawyers and all ministers of the gospel pulling out salaries over $5000 per year, will have their full names printed in big black letters. The Kitchen Grammar club and several similar institutions and societies of various kinds will be represented; but it is hereby guaranteed that the Federated Trades assembly will not be given space under any consideration. This book is for those who do not, neither do they own."

"In addition, the Blue Book will contain the names of such of Duluth's foremost

most citizens, viewed from a financial and social standpoint, whose blood is not more than one-quarter Chippewa Indian and who have not been street laborers within the last ten years.

Two thousand Duluthians will receive a colorful letter, printed on sky blue paper and perfumed with dark blue musk, and worded about as follows:

"Dear sir: Fermin my custom, I hasten to pinch you off and get me dimes out. I can get you plowder in the book and printed, not only want me name written on the shoin 'rhols of society, but the book will be a ghent thing to read meself to shape with, when on me bair."

PADDY THE POLICEMAN.

The next letter completely prostrated the social patriots. They had to order up a cocktail and smoke a cigar before their nerves would allow them to proceed. Thus it ran:

"Gentlemen: Your circular letter announcing that one of 2000 Duluthians to be favored with representation in a so-called Blue Book is at hand. I don't know what you may be, but you must think I'm a sucker. Who are you anyway? Who wants to deal with an anonymous Ward McAllister? Who chose that committee? What right has it to sit in judgment on the business, social, financial and possibly moral standing of the citizens of this community. You must have your call with you. Such presumptuousness, I cannot countenance. When I have an extra 50 cents, instead of donating it to you, it shall go to the Maternity hospital. I am, most truly, yours, JAMES COMMON-SENSE."

That was a roaster but the one that came out into the backyard and I'll call it a regular sizzler.

"Sir: I am amazed at your audacity. For years the register of the Hotel Spaulding has been a reliable, accurate and open to public inspection every hour in the day, 365 1/2 days in the year. Nay, more than that, I and my fellow clerks have illumined the big pages of that book with our biggest diamonds and our broadest smiles. No innovations are demanded in these dull times and we strenuously object to having any one run into our wheel house. I have an ax sharpened and if you want trouble just come out into the backyard and I'll accommodate you. I am most indignantly, JOHN HANDSOME LANGTON, ESQ."

There was a flutter, a fall, a dull, sickening thud. The quarter had been hit. The special venire of fools named that the committee had planned to issue that letter, for when the reporter deigned, he was exceedingly sorrowful, but he finally stopped under the well known institution for the dispensing of spiritual and meat liquors, more particularly a hush fell upon the crowd. They were an every day looking outfit, and except that they wore nearly as much as the reporter, they were not much different from the ordinary crowd to be seen in any beer saloon.

He reached the bar, one of those who, sitting near it, arose, and saluting the new comers in German, gave the reporter a friendly nod and a right hand, a very peculiar grip. Upon receiving no signal in return, the gripper made some lasty remarks to the friend and then, with a look of satisfaction, he turned and disappeared.

And that sentence sums up nearly all the belief of the capitalist. He hates, or, if he loves, it is only because he is the press is capitalist, the manufacturer is capitalist, the mine worker is a hired capitalist, who sucks the blood of the working man, and insults him by paying him wages instead of turning over the mine to him and come to the end of the line. These are the things that the capitalist loves to blabiate about. He has many wild theories about the redistribution and ownership of property, but all that afternoon there was not a word spoken in the hearing of Fritz and his friend indicative of that desire to rob, plunder, and plunder.

MIGHT BE DANGEROUS

Duluth Harbors a Number of Specimens of Socialists, Anarchists and Nihilists Among Her Citizens.

The Socialists a Harmless, Pleasure-Loving Crowd Who Seek to do Harm to no One.

The Anarchist is the Wild Beast of the Human Race, But the Nihilist is Milder.

It doubtless will be news to many of the readers of The Herald to hear that Duluth is the abiding place of many small "groups" of anarchists, nihilists and socialists. This, however, is a positive fact and after all is not a matter of great wonder when the cosmopolitan makeup of this city is considered. There is, however, a great difference between the three classes of would-be life defiers not such bad people. The socialist is the most harmless, the nihilist, outside of his own country, is not so venomous as the anarchist, but the anarchist—who can demand in these dull times and we strenuously object to having any one run into our wheel house. THE WORLD OF LABOR

Reports Show That the Condition of the Trades in Duluth at Present is Very Fair.

Woe's Square Mile Makes a Record of Seventy-five Hundred Evictions in One Year.

This Terrible Black Spot not in Ireland but in the City of New York.

When the regular meeting of the Federated Trades assembly met last evening the attendance was not at the best, but in the course of the evening delegates came in until a very creditable attendance was the result.

The roll call of the union brought out reports as to the conditions of trade as follows: Bakers, all working at present; butchers, nearly all working; carpenters, nearly all in the city employed; clerks, delegates absent; coopers, members of the union got all the work they can; cigarmakers, slight improvement in the demand for union labor; electrical workers, plenty of "outside work," but "inside work" pretty slack; longshoremen, delegates absent; marine and stationary firemen, nearly all working; Musicians' Protective association, good work being done and prospects fair for the holidays; plumbers, not much doing; printers, all working; steam fitters, work very fair; stonemasons, business closed down for the season; street car employees, delegates absent; tailors, trade quiet but prospects poor; tin, sheet iron and cornice workers, not much doing and prospects not very encouraging.

Some time ago, the plumbers and electrical workers protested against the employment of non-union labor at the Bethel. The representatives took the position that they had donated their services in wiring and plumbing that building but that when repairs or little extras were required, non-union workmen had been employed. The Bethel management has also made appeals to the labor unions to give their support. A committee appointed to confer with Rev. C. C. Salter received a satisfactory explanation and adjustment of the matter and so reported last evening.

Several committees were appointed to wait upon and attempt an adjustment with several firms employing non-union labor. To meet the expenses of the assembly's delegate to the national convention of the Federation of Labor, $125 was allowed.

The assembly decided to have a local organizer, Baker, Griffith and Olson were nominated, Baker received 6 votes, Griffith 6 and Olson 15. The latter was duly declared the candidate of the state.

There was a real hot discussion of the cigarmakers condition, the sale and use of scab cigars in Duluth, the dire effects upon union workers as a result, and ways and means for bringing about a change. It was decided to bring the entire weight of organized labor in Duluth to bear upon the matter, and to state affairs. Something probably will soon drop and hard.

Resolutions of Regret. At a special meeting of the trades assembly, held Dec. 4, the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe to remove from our midst Brother Joseph Moore, of the Longshoremen's union, delegate to this assembly, therefore be it

Resolved, that by his death we lose one of our most worthy and esteemed members and be it further

Resolved, that this assembly feel deeply his loss and most sincerely sympathize with those that were near and dear to him in life.

Therefore, be it resolved that these resolutions be spread on the minutes and a copy of the same be sent to the family and also to the daily papers for publication.

MORRIS GRIFFIN, Chairman executive committee.

Labor Notes. Morris Griffin, delegate to the national convention of the Federation of Labor, left for Chicago this afternoon so as to be in readiness for business next Monday.

Mrs. Joseph H. Moore wishes through the columns of this paper to give thanks to her neighbors and friends for the kindness they showed her at the time of the death and burial of her husband. Special thanks are returned to the members of the Longshoremen's union for turning out in a body at the funeral services.

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

The Annual Convention to be held in Chicago this month.

The American Federation of Labor holds its thirteenth annual convention at Chicago on Dec. 11. The convention will probably last one week and will be the most important labor gathering of the year. The American Federation of Labor is composed of delegates from national organizations and includes such powerful ones as the Cigarmakers, Printers, Miners, Amalgamated Steel and Iron Workers, Brotherhood of Carpenters, Machinists, Glass Workers, Machine Wood Workers, Retail Clerks, Electrical Workers, Barbers, Garment Workers, Shoemakers, Tailors, Seamen, Bakers and a host of others.

In fact the 110 delegates will represent in the neighborhood of 750,000 union men. That means bona fide union men who are in good standing in their respective unions. It is one of the standing rules of the A. F. of L. that no delegate shall be admitted to a seat until his organization has filed a certified list of its members and paid its federation dues. Delegates are also required to be working members of the organization from which they come.

Reason is given for sending a non-working member. Thus the professional orator and demagogue has but little opportunity to get admission to the A. F. of L. annual convention.

Among the prominent labor people who will be present are: P. J. McGuire, Henry Weissman, T. J. Morgan, William Prescott, John McBride, William Carney, Thomas I. Kidd, E. McSweeney, Chris Evans, Edward L. Daly, J. C. Dornell, William Neuroth, George McNeill and Frank K. Foster.

Local federal unions by courtesy are allowed a delegate and so are central labor bodies. The delegate from such bodies has only one vote, while delegates from the Cigarmakers, for instance, carries eighty votes in his pocket. Naturally the delegate with that one vote carries but little weight, either in caucus or discussion, and many amusing tales are told of the delegate who makes himself very numerous the first day and is never heard from after P. J. McGuire turns his eagle eye upon him.

The coming convention is expected to be of special interest. The socialistic element will be there as usual, only perhaps in greater force than before, and the socialistic demands of the minority always cause some interesting debates. Then, too, the American Federation of Labor has been continually growing more liberal in policy. The hard times have forced certain questions to the front and the federation must deal decisively with them.

It is probable that President Gompers can be his own successor if he chooses. The Chicago people will of course want one of their shining lights as secretary or treasurer. S. Lincoln, of the Carpenters is said to have ambitions, but it is not likely that Chris Evans will be disturbed. John B. Lennon is said not to care much for the office of treasurer and that may leave a place for some of Chicago's favorite sons. It is also probable that the executive board will be enlarged by one or more members in order that all sections of the country may be fully represented.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARENA.

What is Going On in Labor Circles Everywhere.

Louisville is to have parades for the unemployed.

Nashville Bricklayers' union is going into co-operative business.

Alabama miners have organized and established a labor paper.

Every newspaper in St. Louis is putting in type-setting machines.

Milwaukee shoemakers reorganized and joined the international.

Labor exchanges are being established by the government of Portugal.

New Jersey has 162 trades unions, not including secret labor organizations.

The Building Trades Council, of Cleveland, has opened a free reading room.

Chicago unions ask that one of the World's fair buildings shall be preserved as a home for labor.

Lawrence Gronlund, author of the Co-operative Commonwealth, is lecturing in Kansas and Missouri.

Davenport, Iowa, plumbers, steamfitters and gasfitters request the members of the craft to avoid that city.

Paris shop girls get commission on sales in addition to their salaries. Wages range from $5 to $9 per week.

The Duquesne, Pa., glass works have resumed operations, and in a few days the big tube works will start.

All the iron foundries of Cleveland, Ohio, have refused to sign the union scales and will be run as "open" shops.

Buda-Pesth reports a strike of 6000 on account of the discharge of a man for becoming a member of the union.

Fall River spinners did not find it necessary to donate all of the $5000 appropriated for unemployed members of the union.

In the last eight years organized labor of Boston reduced working hours a total of 25,220,000 and increased wages $3,000,000.

French workmen sent thanks to New York socialists for the cordial reception given to their delegates while they were here.

Twenty-five window glass factories are now in operation, and the looked-for big building season next year indicates busy mills.

Metal polishers lifted the boycott on the Electric Oil Stove company of Homer, Mich. The strike has been satisfactorily adjusted.

Tues. Sheard, owner of a large knitting mill at Little Falls, N. Y., employing 400 hands, has decided to close the mills for an indefinite period.

A syndicate of capitalists has leased the old hotel works building at Bridge-water, Pa., for the purpose, it is stated, of starting a tin-plate factory.

The Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, in session in Cleveland, shut out female telephone employes by inserting the word male in the constitution.

All the handle finishers employed in Sanders, Frary & Clark's cutlery works in New Britain, Conn., will resume work. They have been out for four months.

The works of the Altona Manufacturing company, at Altona, Pa., have been closed because of a lack of orders. Several hundred men are deprived of employment.

Striking brewery workers at St. Louis have imported beer by the barrel, and say that a third of the saloon keepers have promised to buy their beer of the union.

The Chambers-McKee company, of Jeannette, Pa., has signed the Window Glass Workers' scale and resumed work. This will leave nine idle factories in the Pittsburgh district.

Six hundred Italian laborers, employed at the Carnegie Gas company in laying a main in Armstrong county, Pa., have gone on a strike for an increase of wages from $1 to $1.50 per day.

The Carpenter Steel Works, of Reading, which have been busy on government contracts several years, have received another contract for sea-coast defense projectiles, which will keep the works busy two years.

Six hundred men employed at the coal and coke works of Taylor and McCow, at Gallitzin, Pa., have resumed work at a reduction of 10 per cent in wages, against which they had been on strike since July 7.

The industrial outlook at Dunkirk, N. Y., is not encouraging. The Brooks Locomotive Works have gradually reduced working force from about 1500 to 100 and there are few of the other manufacturing concerns in operation.

The Henry E. and Forty Fort collieries of the Wyoming Coal company, near Wilkesbarre, Pa., have been leased by Simpson & Watkins, and will soon be run to their full capacity, giving employment to 500 men and boys.

At a meeting of the Independent Flint Glass Manufacturers, at Pittsburgh, it was decided to sign the workmen's wage scale union basis, on a union basis, factories at Washington and Homestead, Pa., and Findlay, Bellaire, Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry, O.

THE SPECIALIST CAN CURE YOU!

The Medical Director of the Superior Medical Institute during the last six months has had complete charge of Dr. Speer & Co.'s office in West Superior, and while acting as such treated successfully many thousands of patients as the following testimonials will show.

PILES.

A new method; no bloody operation; no going to bed; not the slightest pain; no inconvenience in undergoing a course of treatment with us for the relief of the worst case of Bleeding or Itching Piles, no matter how long standing. We guarantee a permanent cure. To every one who consults us we pledge absolute secrecy. Thousands of testimonials of our great cure from patients in different parts of the country, can be seen at our offices.

A New Method!

Can Piles be Cured in Two Weeks?

I was a constant sufferer from bleeding piles. The medical director of the Superior Medical Institute cured me. No pain, no operation, no detention from business. JOHN ALBERT MONGER, July 26, 1893. Editor of Superior Citizen.

WEAKNESS CURED.

The late Professor Charcot made the following statement shortly before his death: "There is probably no class of patients in whom the specialist in nervous diseases can produce such wonderful results as in the class who have been victims of self-abuse."

A Sure Cure!

Living Testimony of Our Ability.

(Grateful Patients.) Weakness made me incompetent, unnatural discharges made me despondent. I am now a new man. The Superior Medical Institute discharged me a well man. HARRY MILLER, Duluth, Minn. August 1st, 1893.

A Victim of Self-Abuse Cured.

(No names used without special permission) I was a wreck, now am a man. Self-abuse the cause. My manhood now thoroughly restored. I have the Superior Medical Institute to thank for this wonderful cure. H. L. McDONALD, Amnicon, Wis. August 20th, 1893.

An extremist in matters of social ethics has recently said that rent is only another name for murder. This radical view of the question is not accepted by those who take the rights of landlords into consideration, but it must be granted that rent is the greatest burden which the tenants in the congested districts of New York city have to bear. The terrible, merciless day of reckoning comes around every month, and the landlord must be met. Sickness and even death is no excuse for nonpayment.

The man who knows more, probably, about the agonizing struggle to pay rent than any other man in the United States is Julius Harburger, clerk of the Fourth district judicial court of New York city. He is a man of considerable culture and a close observer. He has been clerk of Judge Stecker's court for 12 years, and during that time he has seen the number of landlord and tenant proceedings increase from 100 to 1,500 in a period of equal length. But it is only within the past four years that Mr. Harburger has noticed the increase in these cases which calls for particular comment at this time.

EVEN IN FAIR PRICES.

Methods of Eastern Slave Drivers Have Spanned the Country.

In a report of a threatened strike in the hat factory of Kline, Mercy & Co., San Francisco, the San Francisco Chronicle relates the following facts:

Imagine women, some of them mothers of families, striving to earn a day for sums which range from 25 to 40 cents, and out of which at least 5 cents, the cost of material used, must be taken, and you will know why these 20 operators on hats contemplate going on a strike.

Kline, Mercy & Co., while interested in a hat factory or two somewhere in the east, are new to this coast. They came here about a month ago and brought with them some thoroughly original business ideas.

Among these was the plan to have work done for almost nothing, which is now causing all the trouble.

When the factory was opened, a "girls wanted" notice was hung on the front door. Of course it brought out a lot of applicants, and the girls were hired. The men are numbered among the unemployed during hard times.

From the many who applied 20 were chosen and ordered to report for duty on the following morning, bringing with them thread, needles and shears.

When they did so, a speech was made to them explaining the nature of the work each would be called upon to do, picturing the golden opportunity of acquiring wealth which was about to be opened up, and concluding with the information that, while eventually excellent wages would be paid, each person employed would have to work a week or more for nothing, while acquiring a knowledge of the business.

Of course this statement robbed the picture of wealth of some of its beauty, but it did not completely discourage any one.

All went to work with a will. Three departments were formed, and while number one put on the braid, number two looked out for the lining and number three for the several bands.

True to the agreement, as each operator became proficient she was given a chance to earn some money, but it is a mighty poor chance.

Those who do the binding receive 33 cents for every dozen hats turned out. The handlers of great bills are paid 24 cents a dozen, while those who arrange linings are paid from 9 to 15 cents.

Operated as the factory is now and with these rates prevailing, no person can earn much more than 40 cents a day, and from this amount must be deducted the cost of all the thread and needles used, for each person is compelled to provide all the material of this sort used.

when the women of the factory first discovered how greatly things had been misrepresented to them, indignation meetings of all sorts were held, and many uncomplimentary things were said of their employers. These gentlemen, however, seemed but little disturbed. They informed their help that no cause for complaint existed, and that it was simply an account of the lack of experience that more money was not made, at the same time predicting that all would be sailing along smoothly in a very short time.

The short time has passed, however, for it is six weeks since the factory started, and things show no inclination to do their smooth sailing act. The women are still making 33 and 40 cents a day. Therefore the impending strike.

A committee from the dissatisfied waited upon Mr. Kline yesterday afternoon and begged that a chance to earn at least a livelihood be given them.

Their plea amounted to naught. Mr. Kline simply laughed at them and informed them that he did not care what might happen. "You can all get out now if you want to," he concluded.

"There are lots of women out of work in this town, and I guess I can get a crowd to take your place."

A strong supporter of the women in their fight is Charles Brown, the late superintendent. Brown was brought to this coast from Newark, N. J., to conduct the Kline-Mercy factory, but, as he says, was not retained in his position because he would not oppress the employees.

"The Kline-Mercy people are endeavoring to compel women to work here for the prices paid New York tenement operators," stated Mr. Brown last evening, "and it is a crying shame."

"Now I possess a fair knowledge of the hat business, and I know the margin of profit is so great that good living wages could be paid and still there would be enough left to pay the members of the firm an excellent income."

Worse Than In England.

In his recent address before the Chicago trade labor assembly, Mr. W. I. Stead offered this precious bit of advice:

"We are not as progressive as you are in America in some things, but the workmen in Chicago stand things that would not be tolerated in London. I visited the Harrison street police station in the cause of humanity the other day. The cells for the prisoners were underground, and in the big room adjoining, on the cold stone floor, about 40 persons were huddled together, tramps without any habitation of their own. Would it not be within your province to provide better accommodations for your unfortunate brothers? Don't blame the newspapers for the condition of the tramps, but blame those who have the power to remedy these things and do not use it."

Dr. O'Gorman on Labor.

At the recent celebration of St. Martin's day in St. Martin's Catholic church of Baltimore Dr. O'Gorman of the Catholic university discussed "The Relation of Capital to Labor." He said that the question of the day was "how to bring in harmony the classes and the masses. The helpless poor," he said, "should be looked after by those in more affluent circumstances. As to the laborers, they do not need charity, neither do they ask it, but they demand justice."

WORKING GIRLS' CLUBS.

They Will Hold a Big Convention in Boston on the Second Monday in May, 1894.

The date has at last been set and some necessary preliminary arrangements made for the big convention of working girls' societies which has been agitating the minds of club members all over the country ever since the last big meeting, which was held in New York three years ago.

This second convention, which is to be held in Boston, is expected to mark the beginning of a new epoch in the history of the working girls' club movement.

The relation of the clubs to industrial questions and labor problems will be taken up and discussed in a way that has never been done before, and an effort will be made to bind the clubs all over the country closer together in some sort of a national organization.

A meeting of the committee of arrangements was held recently in New York. Delegates were present from Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago and New York, and some interesting questions were discussed. The principal thing of course was to decide upon the date for the convention, the place having been fixed upon several months ago.

It was settled that on the second Monday evening in May, 1894, the convention of working girls' clubs would open in Tremont temple, and Boston's two delegates were home voting that the 5,000 delegates and representatives who are expected to invade the Hub on that occasion should find such an enthusiastic reception and hospitality as would throw all the previous efforts of the New York association in the shade.

There are to be both delegates and representatives. The former will be elected by the various clubs in the different state associations and will have a vote on all questions to be decided by the convention. The representatives will be those who represent clubs having similar objects and interests as the working girls' clubs, but not accepting entirely their principles of self support, self government and co-operation.
